Whenever the term "improved highway" is used in this Act it shall be construed to include roads of concrete, brick, asphalt, macadam and gravel.

Section 2. This Act shall be known as the "Motor Vehicle Law," and may hereafter be referred to by that designation. For the purposes of this Act, motor vehicles as a class shall be divided into two divisions, viz.

First—Those vehicles which are designed and used for the carrying of not more than seven persons.

Second—Those vehicles which are designed and used for pulling or carrying freight and also those vehicles or motor cars which are designed and used for the carrying of more than seven persons.

Section 3. The weights and dimensions of vehicles of either division mentioned in section 2 of this Act shall be limited as follows, to-wit:

(1) The maximum gross load to be permitted on any axle of any vehicle shall not exceed sixteen thousand pounds; and the gross weight of any vehicle, including the weight of the vehicle and maximum load, shall not exceed 800 pounds per inch of the average width of tire of the road wheels of such vehicles in actual contact with the surface of the road.

(2) Weight limits 50% above those provided for herein may be permitted by ordinance in cities having a population of more than 20,000, but such increase shall not apply to vehicles when outside the limits of such a city.

(3) The maximum width of any vehicle and its load shall not exceed 8 feet, excepting loads of loose hay, straw, corn fodder, or other similar farm products.

(4) Upon the filing in the office of the Secretary of State of an application for the first registration of vehicles described in the second division of section 2 of this Act, and the payment of the registration fee hereinafter provided, the Secretary of State, or his duly authorized agent, shall issue to such applicant in addition to the regular number plate, a metal plate which shall be not less than four inches long and two inches wide, upon which shall be impressed, with a metal die, the weight in pounds of such vehicle and maximum load as provided by this Act, which metal plate aforesaid shall be attached to said vehicle in a conspicuous place and at all times carried thereupon.

(5) Where trailers are used the length of any vehicle, or vehicles, combined with their trailers, shall not exceed 65 feet; provided, that upon application to the highway or street officials having proper jurisdiction over a particular highway special permits in writing may be granted for the operation of trains of trailers exceeding in length the foregoing, subject to such conditions as such highway or street officials may prescribe. On all highways under the control of or required to be maintained in whole or in part by the State such permission shall be obtained from the Department of Public Works and Buildings.

Section 4. After the passage and approval of this Act, no metal tired vehicle, including tractors, traction engines and other similar vehicles, shall be operated over any improved public highways of this State, if such vehicle has on the periphery of any of the road wheels any block, stud, flange, cleat, ridge, bolt, lug, or any projection of metal or wood which projects beyond the tread or traffic surface of the tire; except that this prohibition shall not apply to tractors or traction engines equipped with what is known as caterpillar tractors, when such caterpillar does not contain any projections of any kind likely to injure the surface of the road: Provided, however, that tractors, traction engines and similar vehicles may be operated which have upon their road wheels V-shaped or diagonal cleats arranged in such a manner that two or more cleats are continuously in contact with the road surface, provided that the gross weight upon such wheels per inch of width of such cleats in contact with the road surface, when measured in the direction of the axle of the vehicle, does not exceed 800 pounds, and that no such cleats are more than one and one-half inches in depth.

Section 5. All motor vehicles and all trailers or other vehicles in tow thereof, or thereunto attached, operating upon the improved public highways, shall have tires of rubber or some material of equal resiliency: Provided, that tires shall be considered defective and shall not be permitted to be used if the rubber or other material has been worn or otherwise reduced to a thickness of less than three-fourths of an inch or if such tires have been so worn or otherwise damaged as to cause undue vibration when the vehicle is in motion or to cause undue concentration of the wheel load on the surface of the road: And, provided, further, that this requirement shall not apply to agricultural tractors or traction engines or to agricultural machinery, including wagons being used for agricultural purposes in tow thereof, or to road rollers or road building machinery.

Section 6. No motor vehicle shall be operated upon the improved public highways of the State which shall be equipped with any anti-skid or non-slip device so constructed that any rigid or non-flexible portion of same comes in contact with the pavement: Provided, that this section shall not apply to agricultural tractors or traction engines or similar metal-tired vehicles which have anti-skid devices upon the road wheels and which are otherwise permitted to be used under the provisions of this Act.

Section 7. No tractor, traction engine or other metal tired vehicle, weighing more than four tons, including the weight of the vehicle and its load, shall drive up onto, off or over the edge of any paved public highway in this State, without protecting such edge by putting down solid planks or other suitable device to prevent such vehicle from breaking off the edges of corners of such pavement.

Section 8. Every owner of a vehicle of the First Division, as described in section 2 of this Act, which shall be driven in this State, shall, except as otherwise provided in this Act, within ten days after he becomes the owner of such motor vehicle or motor bicycle, file in the office of the Secretary of State an application for a certificate of registration properly sworn to, setting forth his name and address, with a brief description of the vehicle, or bicycle, to be registered, including the name of the maker, factory and engine numbers, style of vehicle or bicycle and the motor power and (except in the case of electrically propelled vehicles) the amount of such motor power stated in figures of horse power in accordance with such standard rating as may be prescribed by the Secretary of State, on a blank to be prepared and furnished by such Secretary of State for that purpose and shall pay to said Secretary of State, for each calendar year from and after January 1, 1920, a registration fee for motor bicycles and motor vehicles of said First Division, so registered, at the following rates; for each motor bicycle, the sum of $4.00 per annum; for each motor vehicle of 25 horsepower, and less, the sum of $8.00 per annum; for each motor vehicle of 35 horsepower and more than 25 horsepower, the sum of $12.00 per annum; for each motor vehicle of 50 horsepower and more than 35 horsepower, the sum of $20.00 per annum; for each motor vehicle of more than 50 horsepower, the sum of $25.00 per annum; for each and every electrically propelled motor vehicle, the sum of $12.00 per annum: Provided, the first registration fee for each motor vehicle or motor bicycle shall be reduced 50 per cent if payable during the second half of the calendar year, and that no certificate for re-registration shall issue for a less sum than the fee required for a calendar year. Said registration shall be made on the date the application is received and filed by the Secretary of State and expire with the last day of the calendar year in which such registration is made. Upon the filing in the office of the Secretary of State of said application and the payment of the registration fee, as hereinbefore provided, the Secretary of State or his duly authorized agent, shall, without further fee, assign to such motor vehicle, or motor bicycle, as described in such application, a distinctive number and shall issue to the owner of such motor vehicle or motor bicycle, as is described in the application filed, a certificate of registration, which certificate shall be in the form of a card, which may be carried in the pocket, and which certificate shall contain the descriptive number so assigned to such motor vehicle or motor bicycle, the name and address of the owner, a brief description of such motor vehicle or motor bicycle, stating the name of the manufacturer, the kind of motor power, and the amount of such motor power stated in figures of horsepower or the capacity of such motor vehicle or motor bicycle if electrically propelled. Upon filing in the office of the Secretary of State an affidavit to the effect that the original front or rear motor vehicle number plate or original motor bicycle number plate is lost, stolen, or destroyed, a duplicate certificate of registration or duplicate motor bicycle number plate will be furnished at 50 cents each and a duplicate front and rear motor vehicle number plate will be furnished at $1.00 each. The Secretary of State shall keep separate alphabetical lists of all owners of motor vehicles of the First Division, and all owners of motor vehicles of the Second Division, with the address of each, the registration number, the date of filing of the application and the description of the motor vehicle or motor bicycle; and shall not thereafter assign a number once assigned to a motor vehicle or a motor bicycle owned by any other person, if the owner of the motor vehicle or motor bicycle to whom such number was first assigned shall, not less than twenty (20) days prior to the day of expiration of said registration, file an application accompanied by the fees herein specified for the registration or re-registration of a motor vehicle or motor bicycle and request the assignment of said number to a motor vehicle or motor bicycle owned by him. The Secretary of State, shall at the end of each calendar month, print and mail to the clerks and the sheriffs of all the counties and to the chiefs of police of cities and towns of five thousand population and over, in this State, copies of lists of registration made in accordance herewith showing the number of motor vehicles and the motor bicycles and the names and addresses of the owners thereof.

The Secretary of State shall, upon payment of a fee of $25.00 enter the name of the person, firm or corporation sending the same, upon a list to receive copies of the lists of registration provided for in this section.

Section 9. All vehicles of the Second Division as described in section 2 of this Act, which are designed or equipped or used for carrying freight, and all vehicles of said First Division which have been remodeled and are being used for carrying freight, and all vehicles of said Second Division which are used for carrying more than seven persons shall pay to the Secretary of State for each calendar year from and after January 1, 1920, license fees for the use of the public highways of this State at the following rates, to-wit:

(e) Tractors, traction engines or other similar vehicles used for hauling purposes, except as hereinafter provided, shall pay a license fee of $25.00 per annum: Provided, that none of the vehicles of said Second Division shall be required to pay the registration fees in section 8 of this Act.

Section 10. All license fees provided for in section 9 of this Act shall be paid to the Secretary of State in the same manner and at the same time, and in the same proportions, for fractions of a year, as provided for in section 8 of this Act: Provided, however, that such license fees shall be paid before the vehicles are used on the public highways of the State. All license fees provided for in section 9 shall be deposited in the State treasury and become and be a part of the Road Fund provided for in section 36 of this Act.

Section 11. Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of sections 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 9, 10, 23, 24 or 33, shall be subject to a penalty of not less than $10.00, nor more than $100.00, for each offense, together with costs of suit and may also be held liable for the payment of all damages caused to any public highway by such violation. Any vehicle used in violation of any section of this Act and thereby causing damage to any public highway shall be subject to a lien for the full amount of all unpaid registration fees, license fees, penalties and damages; Provided, however, that such lien shall not release the offender from the full payment of all registration fees, license fees, penalties and damages which may be due from him or be recovered against him in any court of competent jurisdiction and, provided, also, that such lien shall not be superior to any chattel mortgage or other lien attaching to such vehicle.

Section 12. Every transfer of any vehicle of said Second Division from one owner to another by sale, barter or otherwise, shall be reported to the Secretary of State and be regulated and controlled as near as may be by the provisions of section 19 of this Act.

Section 13. The Secretary of State is hereby authorized and empowered to institute, in the name of the People of the State of Illinois, a suit or suits in any court of competent jurisdiction to enforce the collection of any registration fees, fines, penalties or damages provided for in this Act.

*Section 14. The Secretary of State shall supply and deliver to the address of the owner of each licensed motor vehicle or motor bicycle registered in his office, as herein provided, charges prepaid, and without additional cost, one number plate for each motor bicycle, which shall be of a size one-third of that required for motor vehicles, as hereinafter provided, and which shall be conspicuously displayed thereon, and two number plates for each motor vehicle other than a motor bicycle. All such number plates issued during any calendar year shall be of like design and color combination, simple and inexpensive as may be for the purpose required, and the number thereon shall correspond with the number of the certificate of registration issued by the Secretary of State, as hereinbefore provided, and such number plates shall be conspicuously displayed upon the front and back of the motor vehicle to which they are assigned as herein provided, whenever the same shall be driven or used upon the public streets, roads, turnpikes, parks, parkways drives or other public highways in this State and shall be firmly attached to the said motor vehicle so that they will not swing loosely, and the rear number plate shall not be less than twenty (20) inches above the surface of the ground, and both shall at all times be kept clean and free from grease and dirt. The figures upon such number plates shall be separate Arabic numerals, not less than four (4) inches in height and each stroke shall be of a width not less than one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) inch, and said number plates shall also bear as a part of such number the letters "Ill." and each of such letters shall be not less than one inch in height. Such number plates shall be of distinctly different color for each calendar year, and there shall be at all times a marked contrast between the color of the number plates and that of the figures and letters thereon: Provided, however, the same combination of colors may be repeated after the lapse of five (5) years from the date of their first issue. The owner of such motor vehicle shall not be required to place any mark of identity upon such motor vehicle or motor bicycle other than the plates or plate so delivered by the Secretary of State and such tax or license number as may be issued by the city, village, town or other municipal corporation within which such owner resides.*

Section 15. Any person or persons who shall cover, alter, deface or mutilate the license plate or plates which are furnished by the Secretary of State shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in a sum not to exceed $100.

Section 16. When upon any public highway in this State, during the period from sunset to sunrise, every motor bicycle shall carry one lighted lamp and every motor vehicle two lighted lamps showing white lights, or lights of a yellow or amber tint, visible at least two hundred (200) feet in the direction toward which each motor bicycle or motor vehicle is proceeding and shall also exhibit at least one lighted lamp which shall be so situated as to throw a red light visible in the reverse direction. The number plate at the back of the motor vehicle provided for in section 14 shall be firmly attached to the vehicle, so that it will not swing loosely, and shall be so lighted that the numbers on said plate shall be plainly legible and intelligible at a distance of fifty (50) feet. On approaching another vehicle proceeding in an opposite direction, and when within not less than two hundred and fifty feet of same, any person in charge of a motor bicycle or motor vehicle equipped with electric headlight or headlights, shall dim or extinguish such headlight or headlights. During the period from sunset to sunrise every motor bicycle or motor vehicle which is standing on any road, highway or street shall display a light on the front and at the rear of the same.

Section 17. Every person, firm, association or corporation, manufacturing or dealing in motor vehicles may, instead of registering each motor vehicle so manufactured or dealt in, make a verified application upon a blank to be furnished by the Secretary of State for a general distinctive number for all the motor vehicles owned or controlled by such manufacturer or dealer, such application to contain: (a) The trade name or names of the make of the motor vehicle or vehicles manufactured or dealt in by such manufacturer or dealer, including the character of the motor power, the amount of such motor power (except in case of electrically propelled motor vehicles) stated in figures of horse power, and (b) the name, and business address of such manufacturer or dealer. Every applicant when making such an application shall pay to the Secretary of State a registration fee at the following rates: For each calendar year from and after January 1, 1920, the sum of $12.00 per annum. Upon the payment of such registration fee such application shall be filed and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State in the manner provided in section 8 of this Act. There shall thereupon be assigned and issued to such manufacturer or dealer a general distinctive number, and without further expense to him there shall be issued and promptly delivered to such manufacturer or dealer at his business address a certificate of registration in such form as the Secretary of State shall prescribe, and two number plates with a number corresponding with the number of such certificate of registration. The number plates so issued shall be distinctly different form than those provided for in section 14 of this Act, but shall correspond in color and size of numbers and letters with the number plates for motor vehicles provided for in section 14 thereof. By filing application for the same, such manufacturer or dealer may obtain as many duplicates of such number plates as he may desire upon payment to the Secretary of State for each set of two plates the sum of $12.00 per annum. In case of loss or destruction of one plate, the manufacturer or dealer may obtain a duplicate of the same by filing affidavit to that effect and upon the payment of the fee of $6.00. Such number plates shall be conspicuously displayed upon the front and back of every motor vehicle of such manufacturer or dealer when the same is operated or driven on the public highways. Such registration shall be renewed annually in the same manner and on the payment of the same fee as provided in this section for original registration, such renewal to take effect on the first day of January of each year. The provisions of section 8 relating to first registrations made in compliance therewith and durations of renewals shall apply to registration under this section. Upon the sale of a motor vehicle by a manufacturer or dealer, the purchaser shall be permitted to operate the same upon the public highways of this State for a period of ten days after taking possession thereof, without carrying license plates, as provided in section 14 of this Act, if the purchaser shall have in his possession a bill of sale, as hereinafter provided, and if proper application for the registration of such motor vehicle shall have been mailed or presented to the Secretary of State, together with the required fee, within twenty-four hours after he has taken possession thereof.

Upon the sale of a motor vehicle by a manufacturer or dealer, he shall thereupon give to the purchaser a bill of sale setting forth the name and address of the purchaser, the date of purchase, together with a description of such motor vehicle, showing name of manufacturer, style, factory and engine numbers and amount of horse power. Said manufacturer or dealer shall furnish to the Secretary of State on the first day of each month of the calendar year a report on blanks furnished by the Secretary of State, of all motor vehicles sold by such manufacturer or dealer during the previous month, giving the same information as is contained in the bill of sale which is given the purchaser of such motor vehicle and such other information as the Secretary of State may require. Any manufacturer or dealer in motor vehicles who shall fail to make such report shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each such offense.

The names of the licensed manufacturers and dealers shall be furnished the county clerks, sheriffs and the chiefs of police in the same manner as provided for in section 8 in respect to owners.

Section 18. No motor vehicle or motor bicycle shall be used or operated upon the public highways of this State after this Act shall take effect which shall display thereon a number belonging to any other vehicle or bicycle or fictitious registration number: Provided, however, that this section shall not be construed to prohibit any other number being displayed for any lawful purpose upon a motor vehicle or motor bicycle in addition to the number plates issued by the Secretary of State as aforesaid.

By the first day of January of each calendar year the owner of any licensed motor vehicle or motor bicycle shall file with the Secretary of State a properly executed application for the re-registration of the same, and such application shall be accompanied by the fee required in each case by this Act.

Section 19. Immediately upon the sale and delivery of any motor vehicle or motor bicycle which has been registered as herein provided prior to the date of such sale by any person other than a manufacturer or dealer, the vendor shall remove the number plate or plates from the motor vehicle or motor bicycle so sold, and within ten days after the date of such sale, the vendor shall send a statement of such sale, showing the date thereof, the registration number of the motor vehicle or motor bicycle so sold, and the name of the purchaser to the Secretary of State; and thereupon such number plate or plates shall cease to apply to the motor vehicle or motor bicycle so sold, and the purchaser shall register the same as in the case of an original registration. In all such cases, the vendor shall give to the purchaser a bill of sale, which shall conform to the requirements contained in section 17 of this Act. Upon the payment to the Secretary of State of a fee of one dollar any other motor vehicle of like horse power or capacity or less, or any motor bicycle owned by such vendor may be registered by such vendor, and the number plate or plates so removed from the motor vehicle or motor bicycle so sold shall be assigned by the Secretary of State and shall apply to and be used upon such other motor vehicle or motor bicycle until the thirty-first day of December then next ensuing: Provided, however, that in case the horse power or capacity of any motor vehicle to which the unexpired term of the registration of the vehicle sold is sought to be applied would have required the payment of a larger registration fee than was paid upon the registration of the motor vehicle so sold, the vendor thereof shall, before the number plates may be applied to or used upon such motor vehicle of greater horse power, or capacity, pay to the Secretary of State such a sum as added to the amount of the original registration fee paid for the year in which such motor vehicle is sold, equals the amount of the registration fee provided by this Act to be paid upon the registration of a motor vehicle of such greater horse power or capacity: Provided, however, that the provisions of sections 8, 14, 16, 18 and 19 shall apply to motor vehicles and motor bicycles owned and operated by cities, villages and incorporated towns of this State, but the registration fee paid by any such city village or incorporated town for each motor vehicle or motor bicycle owned and operated by it shall be $2.00 for each calendar year.

Section 20. The provisions of section 8, 14, 17, 18 and 19 of this Act shall not apply to any motor vehicle or motor bicycle owned by non-residents of this State (foreign corporations excepted): Provided the owner thereof has complied with any law requiring the registration of motor vehicles or motor bicycles or the names of the owners thereof in force in the city, state, foreign country or province, territory or federal district of his residence: Provided, that the registration number showing the initial or abbreviation of the name of such city, state, foreign country or province, territory or federal district, shall be displayed on such vehicle substantially as is provided in section 14 of this Act: Provided futher, that the provisions of this section shall be operative as to a motor vehicle or motor bicycle owned by a non-resident of this State only to the extent that under the laws of the city, state, foreign country or province, territory or federal district of his residence, like exemptions and privileges are granted to motor vehicles or motor bicycles duly registered under the laws of and owned by residents of this State: Provided, further, that a non-resident within the meaning of this Act shall be held and defined to mean a person temporarily sojourning within this State for a period of six months or less in any one year. Non-resident owners of motor vehicles which make trips to this State for commercial purposes shall be required to register the same, in the same manner as a resident of this State.

Section 21. Every motor vehicle and motor bicycle while in use on a public highway shall be provided with good and sufficient brakes and also with a suitable bell, horn or other signal-device. No part of the machinery of any motor vehicle or motor bicycle shall be left running while such motor vehicle or motor bicycle is left standing without an attendant on any public highway in this State.

Section 22. No person shall drive a vehicle of the First Division as described in section 2 of this Act, upon any public highway in this State at a speed greater than is reasonable and proper having regard to the traffic and the use of the way or so as to endanger the life or limb or injure the property of any person. If the rate of speed of any motor vehicle or motor bicycle of said First Division, operated upon any public highway in this State where the same passes through the closely built up business portions of any incorporated city, town or village exceeds ten (10) miles an hour, or if the rate of speed of any such motor vehicle or motor bicycle operated on any public highway in this State where the same passes through the residence portions of any incorporated city, town or village exceeds fifteen (15) miles an hour, or if the rate of speed of any such motor vehicle or motor bicycle operated on any public highway in this State outside the closely built up business portions and the residence portions within any incorporated city, town or village exceeds twenty (20) miles an hour or upon any public highway outside of the limits of an incorporated city, town or village, if the rate of speed exceeds thirty (30) miles an hour, such rates of speed shall be prima facie evidence that the person operating such motor vehicle or motor bicycle is running at a rate of speed greater than is reasonable and proper having regard to the traffic and the use of the way or so as to endanger the life or limb or injure the property of any person. If the rate of speed of any such motor vehicle or motor bicycle operated on any public highway in this State in going around a corner or curve in a highway where the operator's view of the road traffic is obstructed exceeds six (6) miles an hour, such rate of speed shall be prima facie evidence that the person operating such motor vehicle or motor bicycle is running at a rate of speed greater than is reasonable having regard to the traffic and the use of the way, or so as to endanger the life or limb or injure the property of any person.

Section 23. The speed of all vehicles of said Second Division, as described in section 2 of this Act, shall always be reasonable and safe and be governed, as near as may be, by the general requirements of section 22 of this Act, but such speed shall not exceed the following rates, to-wit:

(1) Vehicles having a gross weight of seven thousand (7,000) pounds or less, including weight of vehicles and maximum load, if equipped with pneumatic tires, 25 miles per hour; if equipped with two or more solid rubber tires, 20 miles per hour.

(3) Vehicles having a gross weight of more than seventeen thousand (17,000) pounds, including weight of vehicle and maximum load, 14 miles per hour.

(4) Vehicles provided with one or more metal tires shall be limited to 6 miles per hour wherever operated, whether drawn by animals or motor vehicles.

Section 24. The above regulations in section 23 are subject to the following modifications, to-wit:

(1) Restrictions as to weight and speed shall not apply to vehicles run upon rails or tracks or to police vehicles, fire engines, fire trucks, or voluntary fire departments.

(2) Upon application to the highway or street officials having proper jurisdiction over a particular highway, special permits in writing may be granted for the moving of heavier vehicles or objects on wheels, subject to such conditions as such highway or street officials may prescribe. On all highways under the control of, or required to be maintained in whole or in part, by the State, such permission shall be obtained from the Department of Public Works and Buildings.

(3) At the season of the year when the frost is leaving the ground, highway officials having proper jurisdiction, may, on definitely designated highways, prohibit the operation of vehicles having a gross weight, including the weight of vehicle and load, of more than 5,000 pounds, by posting notices along such roads: Provided, however, that the entire time of such embargo shall not exceed forty-five days in any one year.

Section 25. Any person driving a motor vehicle or a motor bicycle upon a public highway in this State in a race, shall, upon conviction, be fined in a sum not exceeding $200.00.

Section 26. No owner of a motor vehicle or motor bicycle who shall have obtained a certificate from the Secretary of State and paid the registration fee as hereinbefore provided, shall be required by any city, village, town or other municipal corporation within the State other than that within which said owner resides to pay any tax or license fee for the use of such motor vehicle or motor bicycle; and no owner of a motor vehicle except motor trucks and motor driven commercial vehicles and motor vehicles which are used for public hire, or motor bicycle, who shall have obtained such certificate and paid such fee shall be required by the city, village or town within which he resides (if he resides within a city, village or town), to pay a tax or license fee for the use of such motor vehicle or motor bicycle in excess of the sum of ten dollars per annum for motor vehicles or motor bicycles of thirty-five horse power or less or in excess of the sum of twenty dollars per annum for motor vehicles or motor bicycles of more than thirty-five horse power in such city, village or town within which he resides shall have a population of 150,000 or over, or in excess of the sum of five dollars per annum for motor vehicles or motor bicycles of thirty-five horse power or less or in excess of the sum of ten dollars per annum for motor vehicles or motor bicycles of more than thirty-five horse power in case such city, village or town within which he resides shall have a population of less than 150,000. The proceeds of all fees so collected by any city, town or village shall be used for the purpose of improving, paving, repairing or maintaining the streets and other public roadways within such city, town or village and shall never be devoted to any other use whatever: Provided, that the actual cost of the collection of such fees and the disbursement thereof may be deducted from the total amount collected.

Nor shall such owner be required to display upon his motor vehicle or motor bicycle any other plate or tax or license number than that issued by the Secretary of State or by the city, village, town or other municipal corporation within the State within which said owner resides, nor be limited as to speed upon any public street, avenue, road, turnpike, driveway, parkway, or any other public place, at any time when the same is or may hereafter be opened to the use of persons having or using other vehicles, nor be required to comply with other provisions or conditions as to the use of said motor vehicles or motor bicycles except as in this Act provided: Provided, however, that nothing in this section contained shall be construed to apply to, or include, any speedway created, provided for, or maintained by the local authorities of any city, village, town or other municipal corporation within the State. And, provided, further, that the local authorities having jurisdiction over the public parks shall not by the terms of this Act be prohibited from adopting and enforcing such reasonable ordinances, rules and regulations concerning the speed at which motor vehicles or motor bicycles may be operated within any such parks, provided the rate of speed of motor vehicles or motor bicycles fixed by such ordinances, rules or regulations shall not be lower than the rate fixed for other vehicles, and provided such authority shall, by signs conspicuously placed, indicate the rate of speed permitted by such ordinances, rules or regulations: And, provided, further, that motor vehicles or motor bicycles may be excluded from any cemetery or grounds for the burial of the dead by the authorities having jurisdiction over the same. Except as in this section provided, no city, town or village or other municipality shall have power to make any ordinance, by-laws or resolutions limiting or restricting the speed of motor vehicles or motor bicycles, and no ordinance, by-law or resolution heretofore or hereafter made by any city, village or town or other municipal corporation within this State, by whatever name known or designated, in respect to or limiting the speed of motor vehicles or motor bicycles shall have any force, effect or validity, and they are hereby declared to be of no validity or effect: Provided, that nothing in this Act contained shall be construed as affecting the power of municipal corporations to make and enforce ordinances, rules and regulations affecting motor trucks and motor driven commercial vehicles used within their limits for public hire, or from making and enforcing reasonable traffic and other regulations except as to rates of speed not inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

Section 27. An application for a license to operate motor vehicles as a chauffeur, who is hereby defined to mean any person operating a motor vehicle as a mechanic or employee, and who directly or indirectly receives pay or any compensation whatsoever for any work or services in connection therewith, and any person operating a motor vehicle for hire or for pecuniary profit, shall be made by mail or otherwise to the Secretary of State, or his duly authorized agent, upon blanks prepared under his authority. The Secretary of State shall appoint examiners and cause examinations to be held at convenient points throughout the State as often as may be necessary. Such applications shall be accompanied by the fee provided herein and by a photograph of the applicant in such numbers and forms as the Secretary of State shall prescribe, and such photographs shall have been taken within thirty days prior to the filing of such application. Such applications shall also be accompanied by a written statement signed by at least two reputable citizens that the applicant is a fit and proper person, competent to operate a motor vehicle.

Before such a license is granted the applicant shall pass such an examination as to his qualifications as the Secretary of State shall require and no license shall be issued until the Secretary of State, or his authorized agent, is satisfied that the applicant is a proper person to receive it, and no chauffeur's license shall be issued to any person under eighteen years of age. A distinguishing number or mark shall be assigned to each chauffeur to whom a license shall be issued and the license shall be in such form as the Secretary of State may determine; it may contain special restrictions and limitations concerning the type of motor car, horse power, design and other features of the motor vehicle which the licensee may operate. within their custody and control and the interest thereon, and to repeal all Acts or parts of Acts in conflict therewith."

Having been printed, was taken up and read at large a second time.

Whereupon, Mr. Shurtleff offered the following amendments and moved their adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend House Bill No. 196 by striking out all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

The State Treasurer shall deposit all moneys received by him on account of the State within five days after receiving the same in such banks of the State as may be authorized to receive such deposits under the terms of this Act. The money so deposited shall be placed to the account of the State Treasurer.

Section 2. All interest received or paid on account of money in the State treasury belonging to or for the use of the State so deposited in banks, shall be the property of the State of Illinois. If any moneys held in special funds in the State treasury, not belonging to the State, shall be deposited in banks pursuant to the provisions of this Act, the interest received thereon shall be credited to the special fund so deposited.

Section 3. The State Treasurer shall, on the first Monday of February of the year A. D. 1920, and on the first Monday of August A. D. 1920 and of each year thereafter, cause a notice to be sent to each regularly established National and State bank doing business in this State, indicating that on a date named therein not less than one month after the date of such notice, he will receive sealed proposals for the deposit of the public moneys in his custody or control. Such notice shall also be published at least once in one newspaper of general circulation, printed and published at the county seat of each county in the State, such publication to be made at least 15 days before the date named as the last date upon which proposals are to be received.

A "regularly established" National or State bank is hereby defined to mean a bank which has been doing business in the State and has furnished at least two sworn statements of resources and liabilities to the Comptroller of the Currency, or to the Auditor of Public Accounts prior to the date upon which the proposals provided for herein are to be received.

Section 4. There shall be two classes of depositaries, active and inactive, and separate proposals shall be obtained for each class. In calling for proposals the State Treasurer shall indicate that separate quotations of rates of interest may be made upon such State moneys as shall be deposited in such bank and permitted to remain without diminution for thirty, sixty or ninety days, or for longer periods.

Section 5. Each proposal shall state whether for active or inactive deposits, the amount of deposits sought by such proposals, and the rate of interest such bank will pay on daily balances. Each proposal shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope bearing the name of the bank and labelled, "proposal for deposit of state moneys."

Section 6. Within ten days after the last day named for the receipt of proposals, such proposals shall be publicly opened by the State Treasurer, in the presence of the Auditor of Public Accounts, and the Director of Finance.

The State Treasurer may reject any and all proposals, and may ask for new or additional proposals.

Section 7. Proposals made may either be approved or rejected by the State Treasurer. Before approving any proposal the State Treasurer shall obtain the last official statement of resources and liabilities of each bank submitting a proposal, as reported to the Comptroller of the Currency or to the Auditor of Public Accounts, as the case may be. If the treasurer shall approve a proposal he shall endorse thereon the word "Approved," and if he shall reject a proposal he shall endorse thereon the word "Rejected," followed in each case by his signature and the date thereof. A bank whose proposal is approved shall be eligible to become a State depository for the class of funds covered by its proposal. A bank whose proposal is rejected shall not be so eligible. The State Treasurer shall seek to have at all times not less than twenty banks which are approved as State depositories for inactive moneys.

Section 8. All proposals shall be filed in the office of the State Treasurer, and shall be open at all reasonable hours to public inspection. The State Treasurer shall publish in pamphlet form a list of the banks approved as State depositories of public moneys, with a statement of the rate of interest offered by each, and the class of deposit for which its proposal was approved, which pamphlet shall be for general distribution by the State Treasurer.

Section 9. The approval of any proposal shall confer no right upon any bank to receive deposits of public money.

Section 10. No moneys in the State treasury shall be deposited in any bank approved as a depository under the terms of this Act until such bank shall have deposited securities with the State Treasurer equal in market value to the amount of moneys deposited.

Section 11. As security the State Treasurer may, in his discretion, accept bonds of the United States, of this State or of any county, city or town of this State, or state and municipal bonds of other states, or bonds or notes secured by mortgages or trust deeds on unencumbered real estate located in this State, such real estate worth at least double the sum invested or loaned. Securities other than bonds of the United States, or of this State, or of counties, cities and towns of this State, shall be accepted at not exceeding ninety per cent of their market value. All securities shall be subject to acceptance only upon approval of the State Treasurer. With the increase or reduction of the amount of State money on deposit, there may be an increase or reduction in the amount of securities so deposited and the State Treasurer may require additional securities in case of the depreciation of securities so deposited with him. A bank shall have a right to demand and receive securities on deposit by it in excess of those required to protect deposits of State moneys under the terms of this Act.

Section 12. All securities deposited by approved banks under the provisions of this Act shall remain the property of the banks depositing such securities, and may be stamped by the bank so as to indicate that such securities are deposited as collateral. Should the depository fail or refuse to pay over the moneys, or any part thereof, deposited with it, the State Treasurer may sell such securities upon giving 30 days' notice to the depository bank of his intention so to sell such securities. Such sale shall transfer absolute ownership of the securities so sold to the vendee thereof. The surplus, if any, over the amount due to the State and the expenses of the sale shall be paid to the depository. Actions may be brought in the name of the people of the State of Illinois to enforce the claims of the State with respect to any securities deposited by an approved bank.

Section 13. The State Treasurer shall designate one or more active depositories. The money deposited with inactive depositories shall be used only when that deposited in active depositories is insufficient.

Section 14. The maximum balance to be kept in any one bank shall not exceed an amount equal to one-half of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of such bank.

Section 15. The interest on deposits of moneys made under the provisions of this Act shall be computed upon the average daily balance of all classes of funds on deposit, and shall be remitted to the State treasury on or before the first Monday of each calendar month.

Section 16. A bank approved as a depository shall cease to be an approved bank, and shall be disqualified by the State Treasurer:

- (1) Upon its failure to deposit securities with the State Treasurer;

(2) Upon its failure or refusal to pay over public moneys or any part thereof;

(3) Upon its becoming insolvent or bankrupt, or being placed in the hands of a receiver;

(4) Upon a showing of unsatisfactory financial condition through a report made to, or an examination made by, the Comptroller of the Currency or the Auditor of Public Accounts.

Section 17. Each depositary shall on or before the first Monday of each month render to the State Treasurer a statement in duplicate showing separately the daily balances or amounts of moneys held by it under the provisions of this Act during the calendar month then next preceding, and the amounts of accrued interest thereon, one copy of which statement shall be filed in the office of the State Treasurer, and the other in the office of the Auditor of Public Accounts. Such statement shall contain a certificate that no other fees, perquisites or emoluments have been paid to or held for the benefit of any public officer or any other person, or on account of the deposit of such moneys, and that no contract or agreement of any kind whatsoever has been entered into for the payment to any public officer, or any other person, of any fee, perquisite or emolument on account of the deposit of such moneys. Such statement shall be verified by the oath of the cashier or of an assistant cashier of the bank.

Section 18. The State Treasurer shall keep in his office a record showing his account with each depositary, active or inactive, with entries therein showing the dates and amounts of each deposit, rate of interest, withdrawals and date of each, and balance on deposit. Each account shall show the date and amount of interest received during each interest paying period. Such record shall at all times be open to public inspection.

Section 19. The State Treasurer shall make a monthly report to the Governor giving a detailed statement of the balances on deposit in the several banks, and the amount paid by each such bank as interest on moneys so deposited. Such statement shall contain the name of each bank, and the amount in such bank subject to draft at the close of business on the last day of the month for which the report is made, and on the last day of the month next preceding.

Section 20. Nothing in this Act contained shall be held to prevent the State Treasurer from withdrawing any, or all, of the moneys so deposited, for the purpose of paying the appropriations and obligations of the State, nor to prevent his transferring moneys from one depositary to another, and nothing herein contained shall in any way affect the duty of the State Treasurer to keep a correct and accurate account of all moneys received and to pay out same only on authority of law; but the State Treasurer shall, as heretofore, be personally responsible for the faithful accounting of all moneys paid to him as State Treasurer.

Section 21. No bank, or other depositary, holding moneys deposited therewith by the State Treasurer, in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or otherwise, and no officer of any such bank, or other person, shall pay to, withhold for the benefit of, or contract in any manner for the payment to such State Treasurer, or to any other person for him, of any interest, or other fee, perquisite, or emolument, on account of the deposit of such moneys, except such interest as shall be paid to such State Treasurer for the benefit of the State.

Section 22. HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 27.

Resolved, by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein, That the following be adopted as the Joint Rules of the House and Senate of the Fifty-first General Assembly, to-wit:

1. When a message shall be sent from the Senate to the House of Representatives, it shall be announced at the door of the House by the Doorkeeper, and shall be respectfully communicated to the Chair by the person by whom it may be sent.

2. The same ceremony shall be observed when messages shall be sent from the House of Representatives to the Senate.

3. Messages shall be sent by such persons as a sense of propriety in each House may determine to be proper.

4. In every case of disagreement between the two Houses, if either House request a conference, and appoint a committee for that purpose, the other House shall appoint a committee to confer therewith upon the subject of their disagreement. Said committee shall meet at a convenient time to be agreed upon by their chairman, and, having conferred freely, each shall report to its respective House the result of their conference. In case of an agreement the report shall be first made, with the papers referred accompanying it, to the disagreeing House and there acted upon; and such action shall be immediately reported by the Clerk to the other House, the papers referred accompanying the message. In case of disagreement the papers shall remain with the House which referred them. The agreeing report of a conference committee shall be made, read and signed in duplicate by all members of the committee, or by a majority of those of each House, one of the duplicates being retained by the committee of each House. Should either House disagree to the report of the committee, such House shall appoint a second committee and request a second conference, which shall be acceded to by the other House before adhering. The motion for a committee of conference, and the report of such committee, shall be in order at any time. When both Houses shall have adhered to their disagreement, a bill or resolution is lost.

5. While bills are on their passage between the two Houses they shall be accompanied by a message signed by the Secretary or Clerk (as the case may be) respectively.

6. After a bill has passed both Houses, it shall be enrolled before it is presented to the Governor.

7. When bills are enrolled, they shall be examined by a joint committee, which shall consist of five members, two from the Senate and three from the House, to be appointed by the Senate and the Speaker of the House respectively. The clerk of the Committee on Enrolling, Transcribing and Typing of Bills of the respective Houses shall act as clerk of the committee whenever their services are required. Said committee shall carefully compare the enrolled bills with the engrossed bills, so passed by both Houses, correct any errors which may be discovered in the enrolled bills, and make their report forthwith to their respective Houses; the Secretary or Clerk having previously certified on the margin of the roll in which House it originated.

8. After examination and report, each bill shall be signed in the respective Houses, by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and by the President of the Senate.

9. After a bill shall have been signed by the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives, it shall be presented by said Joint Committee to the Governor for his approval. The said committee shall report the day of presentation to the Governor to each House, which time shall be carefully entered on the Journal's of each House.

10. All resolutions and memorials which are to be presented to the Governor shall be previously enrolled, examined, signed and presented to the Joint Committee, reported, and entry made thereof, as provided in case of bills.

11. When a bill or resolution which shall have passed one House is rejected in the other, information thereof shall be given to the House in which the same shall have passed.

12. When the consideration of any bill, memorial, or resolution, which has originated in one House shall be postponed in the other to a day so distant that it shall not be taken up again by the present session, the House in which such bill, memorial or resolution shall have originated shall be forthwith informed of such postponement.

13. When a bill, memorial or resolution which has passed one House is rejected in the other, it shall not again be introduced during the same session, except in the House so rejecting, and after three days' notice and leave of that House.

14. Each House shall transmit to the other all papers on which any bill or resolution shall be founded.

15. While the two Houses are acting together upon elections, or on any other matter, the Speaker shall preside, and all questions of order shall be decided by him, subject to an appeal to both Houses, as though but one body was in session. A call of members of either House may be had in joint meeting by order of the House in which the call is desired, and to constitute a quorum of the Joint Assembly, a majority of all the members elected to both Houses shall be present and voting.

16. Motions to postpone or adjourn shall be decided by a joint vote of both Houses, and yeas and nays upon such motions, if required shall be entered upon the Journals of both Houses.

17. Upon questions arising requiring the separate decision of either House, the Senate shall withdraw until the decision is made. Provided, that questions upon motions for a call of either House shall not come within the provisions of this rule.

18. Each House shall have the liberty of ordering the printing of bills, messages and reports without the consent of the other.

19. Whenever any message, bill, report or document shall be ordered to be printed by the Senate or House, for the use of both Houses, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Senate or Clerk of the House (as the case may be) immediately to report the fact of the passage of such order to the other branch of the General Assembly, together with the number so ordered to be printed in case the same shall exceed 300.

Kittleman, by his counsel, and by the respondent, Solomon P. Roderick, by his counsel, upon the sufficiency of said amended petition to state a cause of action; that thereafter your committee, in passing upon said question, held that the said petition did state a cause of action; that thereafter an answer was filed by the respondent, Solomon P. Roderick, and at a later hearing the respondent Roderick asked leave to withdraw his said answer so filed and to re-file a demurrer, and asked your committee for leave to stand upon his legal objections to said petition or for leave to file amended pleadings as your committee should thereafter determine.

Your committee would further report that thereafter on to-wit: May 16, 1919, your committee gave notice to said respective parties and each of them, which said notice was served upon both the contestant, James M. Kittleman, and the respondent, Solomon P. Roderick, and the other respondents, on to-wit: the 17th day of May, 1919, said notice being in the following form, that is to say:

"SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS, May 16, 1919.

JAMES M. KITTLEMAN	}	Election Contest.
VS.
S. P. RODERICK, AND OTHERS

Please Take Notice, That the committee to try election contests in the House of Representatives of the State of Illinois will meet at the Speaker's room in the House on Tuesday, May 20th, at two o'clock p. m. to pass upon the motion that has been submitted by petitioner and for the purpose of hearing any evidence, documentary or otherwise, that may be submitted by either party. If any prima facie case is to be made in connection with this case the committee will expect the same to be done on Tuesday, May 20th, at this meeting.

Very truly,

EDWARD D. SHURTLEFF, Chairman."

Your committee would further report that at the time and place set forth in said notice, namely: in the Speaker's room, House of Representatives, on Tuesday, May 20, 1919, at two o'clock p. m., your committee being present, said case was called; that William H. Tuttle, counselor and attorney for the petitioner, James M. Kittleman, was present, and that said respondent, Solomon P. Roderick, by his counsel and attorney, Michael Roderick, was present; that your committee called upon the said petitioner, James M. Kittleman, and his counsel, William H. Tuttle, to proceed with the prima facie showing to be made in said cause on the part of the petitioner; that theretofore the said petitioner, James M. Kittleman, has made a motion by his said counsel, asking and requesting your committee to make an order requiring the ballots in said Nineteenth Senatorial District to be opened and caused to be counted, and briefs were presented upon said motion by said contestant and respondent; that further arguments were heard at said meeting on to-wit: May 20, 1919, bearing upon the said motion; that your committee, upon due consideration had in the premises, overruled the motion made by petitioner asking and requiring this committee at this time to make an order to cause the ballots to be opened and counted in said Senatorial District; that thereupon in pursuance of said notice so given to petitioner and respondent, your committee called upon the petitioner to proceed with a prima facie case or present such evidence or any evidence that said petitioner had to sustain the allegations set forth in petitioner's said petition; that said petitioner by his said counsel, William H. Tuttle, then and there stated that the said petitioner had no witnesses to present and no evidence, documentary, verbal or otherwise, to offer to the committee of any kind or in any manner, but said petitioner by his said counsel then and there insisted that it was the duty of this committee, upon the face of said petition and without any further or other proof, evidence or testimony, to make the order that the committee cause the ballots in said Senatorial District to be opened and counted in this contest. And upon the request on the part of the committee that the petitioner proceed in an orderly manner and present some evidence or some facts, circumstances, testimony, documents or records, in reference to said petition and tending to sustain said petition, and the petitioner therein refusing to proceed, upon motion made and duly seconded your committee unanimously voted that the said contest of James M. Kittleman vs.

Soolomon P. Roderick be dismissed, and said motion was adopted unanimously by your committee.

Your committee would further report that in the commencement of said proceedings it, your committee, had fixed a rule of proceeding that in the trial of this cause and in the pleadings and presentation of proof, the practice and course of law as had and obtains in courts of justice in the State of Illinois should be followed as near as may be in this case.

Your committee would further report that there have been many hearings had in this cause and that the same necessitated the employment of counsel by both the petitioner and the respondent, Solomon P. Kittleman, in all of the hearings in connection with this cause; that Michael Roderick, an attorney and counselor at law residing at the city of Chicago, was employed by the respondent, Solomon P. Roderick, and has attended the hearings and performed services and acted as attorney and counsel for the respondent, Solomon P. Roderick, in connection with said cause.

Your committee would further recommend that the services of each, William H. Tuttle and Michael Roderick, are of the value and reasonably worth the sum of five hundred dollars ($500); that the contestant, James M. Kittleman, has been compelled to pay the said sum of five hundred dollars ($500) for the employment of counsel in said cause and to pay the same to the said William H. Tuttle; that the said respondent, Solomon P. Roderick, has been compelled to employ counsel and that his charges in that behalf for the said Michael Roderick, an attorney and counselor at law, have amounted to the sum of five hundred dollars ($500). And your committee recommend that there be paid to the said James M. Kittleman and to the said Solomon P. Roderick, and to each of them, or to their said respective counsel, William H. Tuttle and Michael Roderick, the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) each on account of said services.

Your committee would further report that in connection with the contest of Thomas P. Devereux vs. Michael F. Maher, Benjamin M. Mitchell, Frederick J. Bippus and H. W. Harris, the said Thomas P. Devereux was compelled to and did employ counsel and an attorney, one George A. Curran, to appear for him in behalf of said proceeding, and that at several hearings had the said George A. Curran appeared and presented said cause on behalf of said Thomas P. Devereux; that the said Thomas P. Devereux has been compelled to pay attorney fees and expenses in behalf of said contest to the amount of two hundred fifty dollars ($250), and your committee therefore recommend that the said sum of two hundred fifty dollars ($250) be allowed to the said Thomas P. This bill, having received the votes of a constitutional majority of the members elected, was declared passed.

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid, and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Green called up Senate Bill No. 153 in the order of third reading; and Senate Bill No. 153, a bill for "An Act to amend an Act entitled, 'An Act to provide for the drainage for agricultural and sanitary purposes and to repeal certain Acts therein named,' approved June 27, 1885, in force July 1, 1885, as amended by amending sections 23, 24, 25, 26, 29, 42, 43, 52, 60, 73 and 74, by adding thereto three sections to be known as 79, 80 and 81, and by repealing section 15b thereof."

Was taken up and all amendments adopted thereto having been transcribed typed and printed, was read at large a third time.

Pending roll call, by unanimous consent, on motion of Mr. Green, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 153 was postponed.

Mr. Wanless moved that the vote by which the House, on yesterday, adopted the report of the Committee on Public Utilities and Transportation, recommending that House Bill No. 290 be ordered to lie on the table, be reconsidered.

Pending consideration, Mr. Browne raised the point of order that the motion of Mr. Wanless was out of order, for the reason that he was absent from the House at the time the report of the committee was considered, and therefore, not having voted with the majority, could not, under the rules, make the motion.

The question of fact being raised, Mr. Wanless stated to the House that he was not present at the time the report of the committee was considered.

The Speaker thereupon interposed and stated that if the House would be in order, the Chair would have something to say on the point of order raised by the gentleman from LaSalle.

"The rules of this House provide that the House will meet at 10:00 o'clock a. m. each day, unless otherwise provided by motion, and that all members shall be in their seats unless excused by leave of absence. There has been some discussion about reports of committees coming in. It has been the rule of the Chair at all times where there has been any dispute regarding the action of a committee, that a report should be made when the House was here in full attendance. There was a dispute regarding a report from the Committee on Municipalities, and I knew there would be a dispute regarding the report from the Committee on Public Utilities and Transportation on these bills, and I told the chairmen of both these committees that these reports should be brought in when the members were in attendance, and the gentleman from Peoria, Mr. LaPorte, asked if he could make a motion when the report came from the Committee on Municipalities, that the House non-concur. I assured him that he could, and that the report would come in when there was a full attendance. I notified the gentleman from Cook, Mr. Brinkman, the chairman of the Committee on Public Utilities and Transportation, that the report should come in when there was a full House present.

"These reports came in yesterday afternoon, when there was practically ninety-five per cent of the members of the House present. I directed the Clerk, when the Committee on Public Utilities and Transportation made its report, to present each bill separately. I waited to see whether any member would make a motion to non-concur, and no one did so. When the report of the Committee on Municipalities came in, the gentleman from Peoria, Mr. LaPorte, moved to non-concur in the report, and the House voted on it.

"I desire to state the facts in both of these cases: In regard to the motion of the gentleman from Sangamon, Mr. Wanless, he came to my desk this morning and stated that he was not here yesterday; that he desired to make the motion, and asked if I would recognize him. Notwithstanding he was not here yesterday to vote in the affirmative or negative and had no rights under the rules of the House, I recognized him, because I desire to give every man on the floor of this House fair play and justice. And, if the gentleman is not entitled, under the rules, to make the motion, the Chair will make the motion. I hope the gentleman from LaSalle will not press his point of order."

Mr. Browne thereupon acquiesced in the request of the Speaker, and withdrew his point of order.

Whereupon, Mr. Brinkman moved to lay the motion to reconsider on the table.

And, on demand of five members, a call of the roll was had, resulting as follows: Yeas, 84; nays, 54.

Those voting in the affirmative are: Messrs.

J. H. PADDOCK, Secretary of the Senate.

The foregoing message from the Senate reporting Senate Joint Resolution No. 32, was referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary.

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following preamble and joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 31.

WHEREAS, The United States during the last half century has witnessed the reduction of the forest in one region after another. The white pine forests of Pennsylvania, New York, and New England disappeared nearly a half century ago. Likewise the pine forests of the Lake States for the most part were obliterated before 1900. The Southern pineries which for 20 years have been the main supply of lumber for Illinois and other central states will, according to statements recently made by authoritative sources, be to a large extent exhausted within the next ten years.

WHEREAS, The effect of the exhaustion of the commercial forests has been the closing of nearby industries which depended upon these forests for supplies and the shifting of local population to new centers, involving heavy penalties upon both the industries and the people. As another result the country has observed the area of cutover timber land increase to an area estimated by the Secretary of the Interior at 228 million acres. Far the greater part of this land is in the North, South and East, and a very large percentage of it is non-agricultural. With recurring destructive forest fires, million of acres of it have become waste and can only be restored to productiveness through an extensive program of reforestation.

WHEREAS, The wood-using industries not depending upon uncertain local forest supplies have become centered to a very large extent in the thickly populated districts east of the Mississippi River and are drawing their supplies from the remaining forests in the Eastern States, the Gulf States and the states adjacent to the Great Lakes. A large number of such industries are located in the State of Illinois, with the city of Chicago the center of a very large and important group. Chicago has for many years been the chief lumber distribution point of the United States, and the greatest point of lumber distribution in the world. These important industries, including the manufacture of railway cars, boxes, sashes and doors, farm machinery, furniture, pianos, vehicles and many other articles are now threatened by the exhaustion of the forests from which their supplies have been drawn. They now face the necessity of bringing timber from the Pacific Coast with heavy freight charges added to the cost.

To the same Pacific Coast supply the country must look for lumber for general construction purposes. The transportation system of the country must add to its present burdens the transcontinental shipment of very large quantities of lumber, a bulky product upon which a high freight rate greatly increases the cost to the consumer.

WHEREAS, Such forests as are owned and managed by the Government, the National Forests, are 97 per cent in the far west and for that reason cannot contribute substantially to the solution of the problem of wood supplies which has become so threatening to the industries of the Eastern States.

WHEREAS, The situation is of such gravity as to require the most careful consideration by the Federal Government and the states to the end that policies may be adopted that will lead to the solution of the problem.

Therefore, be it resolved, by the Senate of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring therein, That the Fifty-first General Assembly of the State of Illinois urges the attention of the President and the Congress of the United States to the present timber situation and recommends that, without delay, there be formulated such a National program of forestry as will insure the future timber supplies required by the industries of the country. As an example of what should be done, this General Assembly points to the wise course of the Republic of France in so managing its forests for more than a century that they contributed substantially to the winning of the great war.

It is further urged that the Federal Government acting independently or in cooperation with the states inaugurate action looking towards such measure of public control of the remaining bodies of original timber as will make sure that their supplies will be available as needed by the industries.

It is furthermore urged that comprehensive plans be put into effect for restoring the forest on cutover lands which are non-agricultural in character in the Eastern States, in the states bordering the Great Lakes, and in the South, in order that timber supplies from these regions may be available to the established industries of the Central and Eastern States.

Be it resolved, That the Secretary of State of Illinois be, and hereby is, directed to transmit copies of this preamble and resolution to the President of the United States, the United States Senate and to the House of Representatives and to The Forester of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Adopted by the Senate June 3, 1919.

J. H. PADDOCK, Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. Holaday moved that the House concur with the Senate in the adoption of the foregoing resolution.

And the motion prevailed.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

WHEREAS, The fire insurance companies doing business in this State were, on April 1, 1918, charging Illinois citizens much higher rates than were then charged in other states upon like classes of property for equal amounts of indemnity and especially so as compared with states having laws regulating rates, and, notwithstanding the fire insurance business had during the year 1917 yielded them a net underwriting profit of $6,729,206.00, not including vast sums derived from capital investments produced by business theretofore transacted in this State; said companies on said date, under pretense and guise of war necessity, through unlawful monopolistic combinations and agreements, unjustly and contrary to the laws of this State and the decrees of its courts, conspired, combined and unlawfully imposed upon Illinois insurants a ten per cent additional arbitrary surcharge upon the gross premiums of all insurance in force and unjustly and unlawfully collected from its citizens a sum in excess of $2,250,000.00; and,

WHEREAS, It was decided by the Appellate Court of the Fourth District in the case of The People v. Aachin & Munich Fire Insurance Company of Germany et al., 126 Ill. App. 636, that insurance business is impressed with a public interest and a suit of that title was maintained in the Circuit Court of St. Clair County brought by the Attorney General to restrain such unjust and unlawful combinations in which suit the insurance companies doing business in this State were perpetually enjoined from entering into such conspiracies and combinations; and,

WHEREAS, Through the conduct aforesaid said companies have violated the laws of this State, the principles of said injunction and appear to be in contempt of said decree, and the licenses of such foreign companies may be revoked and the franchises and charter powers of such domestic companies may be ousted and cancelled by proceedings in quo warranto for such violations; therefore, be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-first General Assembly, That the Attorney General be and he is hereby directed to make strict inquiry into the conduct of said insurance companies aforesaid, to prosecute such suit or suits as may be necessary to restrain them from continuing such unjust imposition, punish them for contempt and compel them to restore to insurants the over charges so made, take such steps as may be necessary to cancel the licenses and arrest the franchises of such companies as refuse to restore to insurants amounts of such unjust overcharges and to cooperate with the Department of Trade and Commerce to effect the purposes aforesaid; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Trade and Commerce be, and it is hereby directed to demand of all such insurance companies doing business in this State the immediate return to policy holders of the sums so collected in excess of regular premium rates through such unlawful combination and surcharge within a reasonable time to be fixed by said department; that it cancel the licenses of such foreign companies as neglect to comply with its order in that respect, and that it report such domestic companies as fail to comply therewith to the Attorney General and request him to proceed against them by quo warranto to cancel their franchises, rights and privileges as corporations of this State.

And the resolution was adopted.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Dieterich, from the sub-committee appointed under House Joint Resolution No. 11, presented the following report and moved its adoption:

To the Honorable, the House and Senate of the Fifty-first General Assembly of the State of Illinois:

Your committee, appointed under House Joint Resolution No. 11, beg leave to report that by authority conferred upon your committee by said resolution your committee appointed a sub-committee composed of Senators Bardill and Shaw, and Representatives Dieterich, Lyon and Castle, to conduct the said investigation.

To the Honorable Chairman and Members of the Committee Appointed Under House Joint Resolution No. 11:

Your sub-committee, appointed by the committee as authorized by House Joint Resolution No. 11, to whom was referred the matter of investigating the practices of Wilbur Glenn Voliva in connection with the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church of Zion; the management of the schools of Zion City; the practice of the courts of Zion City and the city government of said Zion City, beg leave to present the following report:

Your sub-committee met immediately after appointment and organized by selecting Representative W. H. Dieterich as chairman, and Representative Howard P. Castle as secretary. Meetings were held in the city of Chicago, Illinois, and in the city of Springfield, Illinois, and a visit was made to Zion City in Lake County, Illinois.

They caused witnesses to be subpoenaed and heard testimony touching the matters to be investigated, which testimony was taken down in shorthand and transcribed and is filed with this report.

In addition to the oral testimony of witnesses, there was documentary evidence presented in the form of newspaper publications, letters, etc., which documentary evidence they preserved and filed same with this report.

Your sub-committee would further report that they have been unable to complete the investigation by reason of having been obstructed therein by the acts of the said Wilbur Glenn Voliva, who, by public utterances and by publications of articles in certain newspapers edited by him, made bitter attacks upon the Legislature of the State of Illinois, and especially upon the investigating committee, and advised his followers and adherents to disregard the process issued by the committee and admonished his followers to resist the giving of testimony.

In an issue of a newspaper published by the said Wilbur Glenn Voliva, April 26, 1919, he denounced the members of the committee as an "anarchistic and lawless gang." In the same issue the following: "We want Zion everywhere and all the rest of these people to know that we not only think and believe, but KNOW that this proposed investigation on the part of the Illinois State Legislature is unconstitutional and illegal and we shall resist it to the very end. We sincerely hope they will issue a subpoenae and if they do we shall pay no attention to it, and then we hope they will take us before the bar of the House and put us in jail and then there will be something lively doing. We challenge this Legislative Committee to do these things."

An effort was made to secure the attendance of the treasurer of the school board and the city treasurer, subpoenaes were issued and regularly served. Both were adherents of Voliva and both refused to appear.

The investigation, therefore, necessarily was confined to persons over whom Voliva had no influence and control.

We submit these facts for the reason that the end of the Fifty-first General Assembly is so near at hand and the work at the present time requires the attendance of every member at the regular sessions of the Assembly, and for the reasons above stated we will be unable to complete the investigation before the Legislature adjourns.

However, from the oral and documentary evidence presented to the committee and filed with this report: We find—

That Zion City is an incorporated city, incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois, having an area within the corporate limits of approximately sixty-four hundred (6,400) acres, located near the shores of Lake Michigan in Lake County, Illinois, about six (6) miles north of the city of Waukegan. The population of said city is approximately five thousand (5,000).

That the city was originally laid out under the direction of one John Alexander Dowie who professed to be a prophet of God and denominated himself as the second Elijah.

The town as laid out by Dowie had a park system consisting of seven public parks, the principal one of these being Shiloh Park, covering an area of over one hundred (100) acres of land. In the center of this park was constructed a large frame tabernacle or temple as a place of worship.

Dowie built several industries—among them were a bakery, a laundry, some general stores, public garage, lace factory and other minor industries. Dowie at one time was the owner or held title to the real estate within the corporate limits other than that which had been dedicated as parks. Dowie disposed of some of the real estate by leases extending over a period of more than a thousand years.

Dowie became involved financially and his entire holdings went into the hands of a receiver and were disposed of under the direction of the Federal Court.

Dowie disposed of some of his properties and some of his industries before the receiver was appointed, and in the sale by the receiver many persons and firms became purchasers, among whom was the said Wilbur Glenn Voliva who purchased by "mesne conveyances" a considerable portion of the real estate consisting of town lots, un-sub-divided lands and some of the industrial properties.

John Alexander Dowie died about the year 1907 while his properties were still in the hands of the receiver.

Zion City contains at present four churches; one Methodist Church, one Baptist Church, a denomination presided over by Wilbur Glenn Voliva and a faction of Dowie's followers who refused to be lead by Voliva. It has three public schools and one sectarian school. It has two banks; one owned by Wilbur Glenn Voliva and one organized under the laws of the State of Illinois.

There are located in Zion City several important industries; among the most important are the lace works employing some eight hundred (800) persons, an office supply house, electric power plant, bakery, some general stores and other merchandise establishments.

Immediately upon acquiring title to the real estate and industrial properties by the said Voliva, he assumed the management of Zion City denominating himself as the "General Overseer."

He had practically no funds at the time he made the purchase; in the year 1907 his total assets were eighty-seven cents.

He represented himself to be the anointed of God and declared his mission to be the upbuilding of Zion.

He gained control of the city and school management by electing officers who were candidates on his, the "Theocratic" ticket, and who were subservient to his wishes.

He outlined a course calculated to drive from Zion City all people who were not connected with his church and attempted in every way possible to obstruct the operation of industries which were purchased and being operated by persons other than himself.

He caused signs to be posted in the public parks stating that they were private and were owned by Wilbur Glenn Voliva. He had signs posted in all conspicuous places such as the following: "WARNING. Unless you are a member of Zion under the leadership of Wilbur Glenn Voliva, be not deceived into buying property." And again: "Other than Zion families are not allowed to live here." And again: "Other than Zion families not allowed to live here. Outside factories not wanted and not permitted. All land conveyed by 1,100 year leases with restrictions against tobacco, whiskey, beer, theaters, doctors, drugs, pork, oysters and all other evils."

He had enacted by the city council ordinances against the use of tobacco and other drastic ordinances. Conviction would be procured before the public magistrate of persons charged with violating ordinances. In case an appeal was taken by the defendant, the charge would be dismissed in the higher court, thus preventing the judicial determination as to the legality and constitutionality of the ordinance.

He sought to finance his scheme of control by collecting tithes; that is by requiring his adherents to pay him the one-tenth part of their earnings, by asking them to deposit their money in his bank, by giving church offerings, by investing in Zion City properties and securities, by appealing to those of his followers to contribute their money to the cause of God and the upbuilding of Zion by placing it in Voliva's hands.

According to the testimony of witnesses he was unscrupulous in the matter of collecting money and preyed upon the widows and upon those with whom religion had become a weakness.

He conducted his supposed religious services in the tabernacle that had been built by Dowle.

Naturally there were many citizens of Zion City to whom his methods and his operations were repulsive, and he would warn his followers that those people and all people who criticized him as "General Overseer" were in league with the devil and were enemies of God and were seeking to destroy his church and he implored his followers to turn over to him all they possessed in order that he might conduct the fight, as he termed it, against the devil.

He professed to heal and cure disease by faith and advertised this extensively. The result was that people who were suffering from chronic and incurable ailments were attracted by his advertisements and came to Zion City in the hope of being cured.

There is much testimony before the committee as to his unscrupulous method in raising money. He first induced the victims to invest in Zion properties or in Zion securities and then prevailed upon them to surrender to him the securities in exchange for his personal note.

His appeal to the public as expressed in "The Leaves of Healing" is, "Every life; every talent; every dollar; all that you are; all that you possess upon God's altar for the upbuilding of Zion." And the money obtained by that appeal was used by Voliva.

He asks the public, through "The Leaves of Healing," to cooperate with him in the upbuilding of Zion City by purchasing city lots, acre tracts, residence property and farms; by investing their money in Zion institutions and industries; by depositing their money either in savings or checking accounts in the Zion Bank; by turning over their Government Bonds as an investment.

All the money collected from the leasing of real estate; the money collected in tithes; the money collected in church contributions; the money taken in at the general stores; the deposits brought to the Voliva Bank, whether in savings accounts or otherwise, all are used by the said Wilbur Glenn Voliva as he sees fit and so far as the committee was able to ascertain he accounts to no one for them.

He teaches that his church is the only church that is founded by God and through his "Leaves of Healing" in which periodically he publishes his addresses delivered in the tabernacle and which contains statements such as the following: "We stand out boldly and tell the world that God founded Zion and tell them with the same boldness that He did not found the Methodist Church, that He did not found the twenty-nine different kinds of Methodists; that He did not found the seventeen different kinds of Presbyterians; that He did not found the twelve different kinds of Baptists; that He did not found the four different kinds of Dunkards; that He did not establish the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Y. P. S. C. E., and the Epworth League."

He publishes a paper called "The Theocrat." His candidates for office are required to run under the party appellation "Theocratic Ticket." He teaches that the Theocratic Government is the only authoritative government and has publicly stated many times, so the testimony before the committee shows, that "A Democracy is the work of the Devil; that a 'Government of the people, by the people and for the people' is an institution of Hell and should be sent to Hell where it belongs."

He teaches that Zion is above all government, in an issue of February 10, 1917, of the "Leaves of Healing" when he published an address he delivered to his followers, in which he stated the following: "Zion tells this government that no matter how many compulsory military laws are passed, Zion will never obey them."

He is unscrupulous in his attacks on everyone that dares to question his right to operate in the manner that he does.

When House Resolution Number Eleven (11) was introduced, asking for an investigation, he ascertained all who spoke in favor of the resolution in the House and Senate and sent letters through the United States mails that contained vicious and vehement attacks upon such members.

He wrote scandalous articles upon members of the Legislature and published them in his "Theocrat" and sent them through the mails broadcast over the State. This was a bold attempt to intimidate members of the Legislature and stop the investigation.

The children of Zion City do not have the advantage of a public high school. Voliva controls the school board and controls the appointment of teachers for the public schools.

About the year 1914 he established a sectarian school and the testimony shows that he took the property and paraphernalia of the public schools and with it furnished his sectarian school.

At the time the sectarian school was established he took from the public schools the best teachers in organizing the faculty for his sectarian school and left the public schools in charge of those of inferior qualifications.

The result was that the grade schools are not accredited and instances were in evidence before the committee in which he forced the employment of teachers in the public schools who had no certificate to teach.

The public schools are conducted in three frame school buildings, three stories high, without fire escapes and are dangerous to the lives of the children. These schools are attended by the children of those who are not followers of Voliva. He does not permit the children of his followers to attend the public schools and has expressed himself that he would be glad when the public schools were driven out of Zion City.

This is but another one of his methods of working a hardship upon those who do not pay tribute to him and an attempt to make Zion City an undesirable residence place for any except his followers.

The course of study pursued in his sectarian school corresponds to the one used in the public schools from the primary grade to and including the high school. School is conducted in a stone building, three stories high and has the appearance of having all the conveniences and fire protection of a modern school building.

None but the children of his immediate followers are permitted to attend this school without a special permit from him.

He does not allow his followers to lease property to families who are not connected with his church and the testimony discloses instances where he compelled his followers to terminate the lease and force the tenants to vacate premises, notwithstanding that the tenant had complied with all the provisions of the lease. The tenant happened to be an employee of an industry that was not operated by him.

He is of very doubtful financial standing, in fact the testimony and the evidence before the committee shows him to be hopelessly insolvent.

A gentleman by the name of W. Hurd Clendinen is held out by Voliva as his general manager. This man, Clendinen, is the mayor of Zion City and the president of the school board and the general manager of the Voliva interests.

On January 31, 1918, Voliva, through Clendinen, his general manager, delivered a financial statement to a credit concern in which he claimed assets amounting to one million six hundred nineteen thousand six hundred fifty-nine and twenty-nine one hundredth dollars ($1,619,659.29) and liabilities of the same amount. A comparison of this statement with the tax return filled out by Clendinen, the same man, on the 31st day of May, 1918, of all personal property belonging to Voliva, shows that he valued the merchandise on hand, in the statement, at two hundred forty-one thousand two hundred eighty-seven and 72/100 dollars ($241,287.72), as against the value given to the assessor of ninety thousand seven hundred fifty and no/100 ($90,750.00), that on the items of "manufacturing tools, implements and merchandise" the statement places a value of one hundred fifteen thousand thirty-four and 57/100 dollars ($115,034.57), as against the return to the assessor of twenty-eight thousand and no/100 dollars ($28,000.00).

In fact the total amount of personal property as returned to the assessor in the year 1918 by the said W. Hurd Clendinen as belonging to Wilbur Glenn Voliva was one hundred thirty-three thousand one hundred fifty-five and no/100 dollars ($133,155.00), while the personal property as given in the statement to the credit concern above referred to was seven hundred sixty-four thousand eighty-eight and 90/100 dollars ($764,088.90).

The said financial statement discloses that in his bank he schedules as liabilities the savings account of forty-three thousand four hundred eighteen and 61/100 dollars ($43,418.61), and the checking account of fifty-six thousand eight hundred ninety-seven and 26/100 dollars ($56,897.26), as against this he schedules as assets cash amounting to fourteen thousand six hundred ninety-two and 25/100 dollars ($14,692.25) and bills receivable as twenty-eight thousand two hundred eighty-seven and 87/100 dollars ($28,287.87).

The statement further discloses that of his liabilities the amount of six hundred sixty-four thousand five hundred thirty-five and 23/100 dollars ($664,535.23) are secured.

That Voliva has his notes outstanding which he has issued to his followers upon loans which run from one to thirty years, to the amount of four hundred eighty-six thousand twenty-eight and 78/100 dollars ($486,028.78).

In fixing the value of his real estate in the statement of January 31, 1918, he makes the total of his real estate holdings at eight hundred fifty-five thousand five hundred seventy and 31/100 dollars ($855,570.31).

The evidence before the committee as fixed by the men who were acquainted with real estate values, was about five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000.00).

In view of the above your sub-committee is of the opinion:

First—That the said Wilbur Glenn Voliva is illegally making use of the United States mails, both in his newspaper publications and in writing letters in connection with the Zion institutions.

Second—That he is conducting a banking business and soliciting deposits at a time when he is financially insolvent.

Third—That he is conducting a course of intimidation and oppression by reason of his having control of the city government of Zion City which is injurious to the community and is done for the purpose of making the living and operation of factories in Zion City, by anyone except himself, extremely difficult.

Fourth—He is forcing the public school system of Zion City to be conducted in an inefficient manner and is denying the children of that city the educational advantages in the public school to which they are entitled.

Fifth—He is enforcing ordinances whose legality is questionable, but by the system of dismissing suits when appeals are taken, preventing their legality from being passed upon.

Sixth—He is obtaining money and property by practicing a confidence game, by using assumed religious convictions to play upon the frailties of certain persons as a means of securing money, property and securities in exchange for his personal note or as a free will offering and placing the money thus obtained to his personal credit to be used as suits his whims.

The sub-committee further recommends: That in view of the fact that the obtaining of detailed information upon this matter was prevented by reason of the acts of the said Wilbur Glenn Voliva, that this investigation be continued, either by this committee, or some other committee properly authorized, so that detailed information may be secured and laid before the proper Federal and State authorities, and the school authorities and that assistance may be rendered to local authorities and that the citizens residing in Zion City may secure the relief that they are, by law, entitled to.

Respectfully submitted,

A message from the Governor by George D. Sutton, Secretary to the Governor:

Mr. Speaker—The Governor directs me to lay before the House of Representatives, the following communication:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 9, 1919.

Gentlemen of the Fifty-first General Assembly:

I herewith transmit to your honorable body copy of a resolution adopted by the Congress of the United States, for submission to the states of an amendment to the Federal Constitution proposing to extend the right of suffrage to women.

In my inaugural address I said: "Under the decision of our courts, the Legislature may extend suffrage to women only for offices created by statute. The present law upon the subject does not embrace all of the elective statutory offices. It should be extended to all such offices. It is an anomaly in our State that women should have the right to vote for presidential electors and not have the right to vote for offices created by our State Constitution."

Your honorable body had already taken action granting suffrage to women insofar as that could be done under our Constitution and the Constitution of the United States. You now have the opportunity of helping to complete the work you then began. I recommend the prompt ratification of the nineteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN.

SIXTY-SIXTH CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

AT THE FIRST SESSION

Begun and held at the city of Washington on Monday, the nineteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen.

"ARTICLE ———.

"The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex.

"Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

REPORT OF SUB-COMMITTEE OF THE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY ON METROPOLITAN COURT BILLS, HOUSE BILLS NUM-BERED 642 AND 643.

The Sub-Committee to which was referred House Bills numbered 642 and 643, the Metropolitan Court Bills, presents the following report:

Meetings of this Sub-Committee were held at the LaSalle Hotel in the city of Chicago on Saturday, May 31st, and on Monday, June 2d, upon notice given to all parties interested.

Albert M. Kales, as draftsman of the bill, reported that he had had several sessions with the masters in chancery, and had met the various objections of the masters by certain amendments, which it was believed left the masters in statu quo except that they were permitted to perform judicial duties not now permitted the masters, and to receive compensation therefor.

Mr. Kales also reported that he had prepared amendments to those parts of the bill which affected the clerks of the Circuit, Superior, Criminal and Municipal Courts, the sheriff's office, and the bailiff of the Municipal Court; and that these amendments, he believed, would leave the present clerks, sheriff and bailiff in statu quo so far as their present functions and business were concerned.

Mr. Kales, while strongly supporting the plan of the bill as originally drafted, providing for the appointment of judges of an elected chief justice, with a retirement of election for each judge so appointed, at stated intervals, at the request of the committee, presented an alternative draft providing for the election of judges in the manner now provided by law, and the retirement of such judges by election, at which the only question asked was whether the judge should be continued in office. The alternative draft is hereto attached and marked Exhibit C.

The bill for the reduction of the number of judges of the Circuit and Superior Courts and the bill for the establishment of a Metropolitan Court for Chicago, and all amendments suggested, are hereto attached and marked Exhibits A. and B. These bills, aside from the sections of the Metropolitan Court Bill relating to the selection and retirement of judges, in principle meet the approval of your committee. The Committee favor a better organization of the judges administering the law in Cook County and in the city of Chicago, as far as the Constitution permits. It favors also the more permanent specialization of effort in the performance of judicial functions. With regard to the methods of selecting and retiring judges, your committee approves the plan of electing the judges as now provided by law, but permitting them to hold for an indeterminate tenure, subject to a similar retirement election at stated intervals as provided in the amendment submitted herewith.

Your committee, however, believed that before the General Assembly should undertake the passage of a bill covering the ground and dealing with the important matters attempted by this bill, the language of each section should be gone over in detail by a body of experts and representatives of the parties interested in the offices affected, to the end that any bill passed shall have as few defects in its practical operation as possible.

Your committee therefore reports, with the recommendation that it be adopted, the following resolution for a commission to investigate and report upon the bills hereto attached, and referred to as Exhibits A and B.

GOTTHARD A. DAHLBERG,
JOHN W. MCCARTHY,
M. L. IGOE,
WM. G. THON,
JAMES A. STEVEN.

"Section 5. TIMES FOR ELECTIONS.] General elections for aldermen shall be held in the year or years fixed by law for holding the same, on the last Tuesday in February of such year. Any supplementary election for aldermen held under the provisions of this Act shall be held on the first Tuesday of April next following the holding of such general aldermanic election. Special aldermanic elections shall be held on the date provided for by the ordinance calling the same, and if followed by a supplementary election, such supplementary election shall be held four weeks thereafter.

"Section 6. CANDIDATE RECEIVING MAJORITY ELECTED—SUPPLEMENTARY ELECTIONS.] The candidate receiving a majority of the votes cast for alderman in each ward at any general or special election shall be declared elected. In the event that no candidate received a majority of such votes in any ward or wards a supplementary election shall be held at the time prescribed in the preceding section. At such supplementary election the names of the candidates in each of such wards receiving the highest and second highest number of votes at the preceding general or special election and no others shall be placed on the official ballot: Provided, however, that if there be any candidate who, under the provisions of this section would have been entitled to a place on the ballot at the supplementary election except for the fact that some other candidate received an equal number of votes, then all such candidates receiving such equal number of votes shall have their names printed on the ballot as candidates at such succeeding supplementary election. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes at such supplementary election shall be declared elected. Such supplementary election shall be deemed a special election under the election and ballot laws in force in the city of Chicago and shall be governed thereby except in so far as such laws are inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

"Section 7. NOMINATION BY PETITION.] All nominations for aldermen of any ward in the city shall be by petition. All petitions for nominations of candidates shall be signed by such a number of legal voters as will aggregate not less than two per cent and not more than five per cent of all the votes cast for alderman in such ward at the last preceding general aldermanic election. All such petitions, and procedure with respect thereto, shall conform in other respects in the provisions of the election and ballot laws then in force in the city of Chicago concerning the nomination of independent candidates for public office by petition. The method of nomination herein provided is exclusive of and replaces all other methods heretofore provided by law.

"Section 8. CANDIDATES MAY WITHDRAW.] Any candidate for alderman under the provisions of this Act may withdraw his name as a candidate by filing with the board of election commissioners of the city of Chicago not later than 20 days before the holding of the election his written request signed by him and duly acknowledged before an officer qualified to take acknowledgments of deeds, whereupon his name shall not be printed as a candidate upon the official ballot.

"If any candidate at an aldermanic election who was not elected as provided for herein, but who shall have received sufficient votes to entitle him to a place on the official ballot at the ensuing supplementary election, shall die or withdraw his candidacy before such supplementary election, the name of the candidate who shall have received the next highest number of votes shall be printed on the ballot in lieu of the name of the candidate who shall have died or withdrawn his candidacy.

"Section 9. FORM OF BALLOT.] Ballots to be used at any general, supplementary or special election held under the provisions of this Act, in addition to other requirements of law, shall conform to the following requirements:

"(1) At the top of the ballots shall be printed in capital letters the words designating the ballot. If a general aldermanic election the words shall be 'Official aldermanic election ballot;' if a supplementary election the designating words shall be 'Official supplementary aldermanic election ballot;' if a special aldermanic election, the words shall be 'Special aldermanic election ballot.'

"(2) Beginning not less than one inch below such designating words and extending across the face of the ballot, the title of each office to be filled shall be printed in capital letters.

"(3) The names of candidates for different terms of service therein (if any there be), shall be arranged and printed in groups according to the length of such terms.

"(4) Immediately below the title of each office or group heading indicating the term of office, shall be printed in small letters the directions to voters, 'Vote for one.'

"(5) Following thereupon shall be printed the names of the candidates for such office according to the title and the term thereof and below the name of each candidate shall be printed his place of residence, stating the street and number (if any). The names of candidates shall be printed in capital letters not less than one-eighth nor more than one-quarter of an inch in height, and immediately at the left of the name of each candidate shall be printed a square, the sides of which shall not be less than one-quarter of an inch in length. The names of all the candidates for each office shall be printed in a column and arranged in the order hereinafter designated; all the names of candidates shall be printed in uniform type; the places of residence of such candidates shall be printed in uniform type; and squares upon said ballots shall be of uniform size; all spaces between the names of the candidates for the same office shall be of uniform size.

"(6) Said ballots shall be prepared in as many series as there are candidates in the group in which there are the most names; the ballots of the first series shall contain all the names of the candidates for each group to be filled, on immediately following the other in alphabetical order according to their surnames; the ballots of the second series shall be like those of the first series, and the names of the candidates in the second series shall be arranged in the same order as those of the first series, except that the name appearing first in the list of candidates for each group in said first series shall, in said second series, be printed after all the other names in the list of candidates for such group; the ballots of the third series shall be like those of the second series, and the names of the candidates in the third series shall be arranged in the same order as those of the second series, except that the name first appearing in the list of candidates for each group in said second series shall, in said third series, be printed after all the other names in the list of candidates for such group; and so on successively, the name at the top of any list of candidates for each group in any series being placed at the bottom of the respective lists of candidates for such group in each succeeding series, and the name next to the top name in any list of candidates for each group being successively advanced to the top of the list of any succeeding series, until the name of each candidate for each group shall appear at the head of the list of candidates for such group.

"Section 10. ALLOTMENT OF BALLOTS BY PRECINCTS.] Each precinct of any ward shall be allotted at least ten per cent more ballots of any one series than there are registered voters in such precinct. Every precinct in such ward shall be allotted a different series of ballots unless there are more precincts in such ward than there are series of ballots printed for such ward. Mr. Speaker—The Governor directs me to lay before the House of Representatives, the following communication:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 16, 1919.

Gentlemen of the Fifty-first General Assembly:

I transmit herewith, for the consideration of the General Assembly, the report of the Commission for the Uniformity of Legislation in the United States appointed pursuant to the provisions of an Act entitled, "An Act to create and establish a commission for the promotion of uniformity of legislation in the United States, for the appointment of members of such commission and prescribe their duties," approved June 3, 1907; in force July 1, 1907."

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.

To the Honorable Frank O. Lowden, Governor:

The Commission for the Uniformity of Legislation in the United States begs to report as follows:

A. The Commission and the National Conference.

1. The Commission was organized in pursuance of an Act entitled, "An Act to create and establish a commission for the promotion of uniformity of legislation in the United States, for the appointment of members of such commission and prescribe their duties," approved June 3, 1907, providing as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly: There is hereby created a commission, which shall be styled "Commission for the Uniformity of Legislation in the United States," to consist of five persons to be appointed by the Governor, and who shall hold office for the term of four years respectively, and until their successors as appointed. Said commissioners shall be known as "Commissioners of Uniform State Laws."

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of said commission to examine the subjects of marriage and divorce, commercial paper, insolvency, form of notarial certificates, descent and distribution of property, acknowledgment of deeds, execution and probation of wills, and all other subject [subjects] on which uniformity is desirable with the laws of other states, to ascertain the best means to effect uniformity in the laws of the states and to represent the State of Illinois in convention, conference or congress of like commissions heretofore appointed or to be appointed by other states to consider and draft uniform laws to be submitted for the approval and adoption by the several states and to devise and recommend such other course of action as shall best accomplish the purpose of this Act. Such commissioners shall report to the Governor at least thirty days before the convening of the biennial session of the General Assembly, and the Governor shall submit to the General Assembly such report, with his recommendation, if any, in reference thereto."

2. The present commissioners are Ernst Freund, Chicago; James M. Graham, Springfield; Nathan William MacChesney, Chicago; Joseph J. Thompson, Chicago, and John H. Wigmore, Chicago.

For the last two years Nathan William MacChesney has been president and Joseph J. Thompson secretary of the commission. On September 27, 1918, Ernst Freund was elected president and Joseph J. Thompson secretary.

3. The National Conference.

The National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws is composed of commissioners appointed by legislative or executive authority from the states, the District of Columbia, the territory of Alaska, and the island possessions of the United States. The organization meeting was held at Saratoga, N. Y., in August, 1892; and annual meetings have been regularly held since that time, immediately preceding the meeting of the American Bar Association.

The purpose of the organization, as its name imports, is to promote uniformity of legislation on subjects of common interest throughout the United States. The commissioners are chosen from the legal profession, and serve without compensation or emoluments. Proposed Acts are carefully drawn by special committees of trained lawyers, assisted by experts in many instances, and are printed, distributed and discussed in the National Conference at more than one annual session. When finally approved by the conference, the uniform Acts are recommended for general adoption throughout the jurisdiction of the United States and are submitted to the American Bar Association for its approval. Each uniform Act is thus the fruit of one or more tentative drafts submitted to the criticism, correction, and emendation of the American bar, and represents the experience and the judgment of a select body of lawyers chosen from every part of the United States.

The National Conference met in Saratoga Springs, New York, from August 29 to September 3, 1917, and in Cleveland, Ohio, from August 22 to August 27, 1918. At the Saratoga session there were present of the members of the Illinois Commission Messrs. Thompson, Graham, and Freund; at the Cleveland session, Mr. Freund.

21. Uniform Fraudulent Conveyance Act, approved August, 1918.
22. Uniform Conditional Sales Act, approved August, 1918.
23. Uniform Compulsory Work Act, approved August, 1918.

5. Of these Acts the State of Illinois has enacted the following, in the years indicated:

Uniform Negotiable Instruments Act, 1907.

Uniform Warehouse Receipts Act, 1907.

Uniform Bills of Lading Act, 1911.

Uniform Limited Partnership Act, 1917.

Uniform Stock Transfer Act, 1917.

Uniform Cold Storage Act, 1917.

Uniform Act for Extradition of Persons of Unsound Mind, 1917.

It thus appears that under the present administration the General Assembly has done as much for uniform legislation as has been done by all its predecessors.

6. Recommendations.

(a) Of the Acts approved by the National Conference, the Uniform Family Desertion Act, the Uniform Workmen's Compensation Act, and the Uniform Land Registration Act are substantially the law in Illinois at the present time. Should the occasion arise for consolidating the Child Labor Laws of the State, the commission hopes that the Uniform Child Labor Act recommended by the National Conference will, as far as possible, be followed.

(b) The Commission recommends that the General Assembly consider the advisability of enacting the Uniform Marriage License Act.

(c) The Commission strongly recommends that the General Assembly enact the Fraudulent Conveyances Act and the Conditional Sales Act, thus completing the series of uniform commercial Acts recommended by the National Conference.

(d) The Commission likewise recommends the enactment of the Uniform Foreign Acknowledgment Act and of the Uniform Foreign Probate Act.

(e) The Commission submits the Compulsory Work Act to the consideration of the General Assembly with the following comment: The Act was treated as an emergency war measure, and was passed at one brief session of the Conference, receiving only such deliberation as was possible to give it in a limited time, and not undergoing the scrutiny of several readings. The emergency which made such haste seem imperative has substantially passed.

(f) Should the Legislature consider the enactment of a law pertaining to Vital Statistics—a contingency not unlikely in view of the importance which the subject of correct statistics has assumed in the light of the experience had with the selective draft—the Commission hopes that the draft of a Uniform Law for the Registration of Births, Still Births and Deaths will receive attention which has in principle been passed upon favorably by the National Conference, but has not been finally passed owing to the pressure of business at the last Conference.

C. Expenditures and Request for Appropriation.

7. The Fiftieth General Assembly made the following appropriation for the purposes of the Commission:

For salaries and wages for clerical and stenographic help, $200 per annum.

For departmental and office expense, $200 per annum.

For traveling expenses, $750 per annum.

Total for the Commission for the biennium, $2,300.

8. Of this amount, there was expended.

For salaries and wages, $50.

For departmental and office expense, $7.61.

For traveling expenses, $59.51.

Leaving the following balance:

Salaries and wages, $350.

Departmental and office expense, $392.

Traveling expenses, $1,440.49.

We are obliged to pay, before the expiration of the present fiscal period, the following amounts:

Contribution to the National Conference for two years, $300.

Secretary's Minute Book, $8.

9. It should be observed that the traveling expenses have been below the normal requirements, owing to the fact that engagement in war service prevented most of the members from attending sessions as they otherwise would have done.

10. It is urgently asked that the same appropriation be granted for the coming biennium as for the present one.

Respectfully submitted,

THE COMMISSION FOR THE UNIFORMITY OF LEGISLATION IN THE UNITED STATES.

By ERNST FREUND, President.

NATHAN WILLIAM MACCHESNEY, Retiring President.

JOSEPH J. THOMPSON, Secretary.

This section shall not apply to the contracts described in section 8.

SEC. 7. [Fixtures.] If the goods are so affixed to realty at the time of a conditional sale or subsequently as to become a part thereof and not to be severable wholly or in any portion without material injury to the freehold, the reservation of property as to any portion not so severable shall be void after the goods are so affixed, as against any person who has not expressly assented to the reservation. If the goods are so affixed to realty at the time of a conditional sale or subsequently as to become part thereof but to be severable without material injury to the freehold, the reservation of property shall be void after the goods are so affixed as against subsequent purchasers of the realty for value and without notice of the conditional seller's title, unless the conditional sale contract, or a copy thereof, together with a statement signed by the seller briefly describing the realty and stating that the goods are or are to be affixed thereto, shall be filed before such purchase in the office where a deed of the realty would be recorded or registered to affect such realty. As against the owner of the realty the reservation of the property in goods by a conditional seller shall be void when such goods are so affixed to the realty as to become part thereof but to be severable without material injury to the freehold, unless the conditional sale contract, or a copy thereof, together with a statement signed by the seller briefly describing the realty and stating that the goods are to be affixed thereto, shall be filed before they are affixed, in the office where a deed would be recorded or registered to affect such realty.

SEC. 8. [Railroad Equipment or Rolling Stock.] No conditional sale of railroad, or street or interurban railway equipment or rolling stock shall be valid as against the purchasers and creditors described in section 5, unless the contract shall be acknowledged by the buyer or attested in like manner as a deed of real property, and the contract, or a copy thereof, shall be filed or recorded in the office of the Secretary of State, and unless when any engine or car so sold is delivered there shall then be plainly and conspicuously marked upon each side thereof the name of the seller, followed by the word "owner."

SEC. 9. [Conditional Sale of Goods for Resale.] When goods are delivered under a conditional sale contract and the seller expressly or impliedly consents that the buyer may resell them prior to performance of the condition, the reservation of property shall be void against purchasers from the buyer for value in the ordinary course of business, and as to them the buyer shall be deemed the owner of the goods, even though the contract or a copy thereof shall be filed according to the provisions of this act.

SEC. 10. [Filing.] The filing officer shall mark upon the contract or copy filed with him the day and hour of filing and shall file the contract or copy in his office for public inspection. He shall keep a separate book in which he shall enter the names of the seller and buyer, the date of the contract, the day and hour of filing, a brief description of the goods, the price named in the contract and the date of cancellation thereof; except that in entering the contracts mentioned in section 8 the Secretary of State shall record either the sum remaining to be paid upon the contract or the price of the goods. Such book shall be indexed under the names of both seller and buyer. For filing and entering such contract or copy the filing officer shall be entitled to a fee of [ten cents], except that for filing and entering a contract described in section 8 the Secretary of State shall be entitled to a fee of (one dollar).

SEC. 11. [Refiling.] The filing of conditional sale contracts provided for in sections 5, 6 and 7 shall be valid for a period of three years only. The filing of the contract provided for by section 8 shall be valid for a period of fifteen years only. The validity of the filing may in each case be extended for successive additional periods of one year from the date of refiling by filing in the proper filing district a copy of the original contract within thirty days next preceding the expiration of each period, with a statement attached signed by the seller, showing that the contract is in force and the amount remaining to be paid thereon. Such copy, with statement attached, shall be filed and entered in the same manner as a contract or copy filed and entered for the first time, and the filing officer shall be entitled to a like fee as upon the original filing.

SEC. 12. [Cancellation of Contract.] After the performance of the condition, upon written demand delivered personally or by registered mail by the buyer or any other person having an interest in the goods, the seller shall execute, acknowledge and deliver to the demandant a statement that the condition in the contract has been performed. If for ten days after such demand the seller fails to mail or deliver such a statement of satisfaction, he shall forfeit to the demandant five dollars [$5.00] and be liable for all damages suffered. Upon presentation of such statement of satisfaction the filing officer shall file the same and note the cancellation of the contract and the date thereof on the margin of the page where the contract has been entered. For filing and entering the statement of satisfaction the filing officer shall be entitled to a fee of [ten cents], except that the Secretary of State shall be entitled to a fee of [fifty cents] for filing and entering a statement of the satisfaction of a contract described in section 8.

SEC. 13. [Prohibition of Removal or Sale Without Notice.] Unless the contract otherwise provides, the buyer may, without the consent of the seller, remove the goods from any filing district and sell, mortgage or otherwise dispose of his interest in them; but prior to the performance of the condition, no such buyer shall remove the goods from a filing district in which the contract or a copy thereof is filed, except for temporary uses for a period of not more than thirty days, unless the buyer not less than ten days before such removal shall give the seller personally or by registered mail written notice of the place to which the goods are to be removed and the approximate time of such intended removal; nor prior to the performance of the condition shall the buyer sell, mortgage or otherwise dispose of his interest in the goods, unless he, or the person to whom he is about to sell, mortgage or otherwise dispose of the same, shall notify the seller in writing personally or by registered mail of the name and address of the person to whom his interest in the goods is about to be sold, mortgaged or otherwise transferred, not less than ten days before such sale, mortgage or other disposal. If any buyer does so remove the goods, or does so sell, mortgage or otherwise dispose of his interest in them without such notice or in violation of the contract, the seller may retake possession of the goods and deal with them as in case of default in payment of part or all of the purchase price. The provisions of this section regarding the removal of goods shall not apply, however, to the goods described in section 8.

SEC. 14. [Refiling on Removal.] When, prior to the performance of the condition, the goods are removed by the buyer from a filing district in this State to another filing district in this State in which such contract or a copy thereof is not filed, or are removed from another State into a filing district in this State where such contract or copy is not filed, the reservation of the property in the seller shall be void as to the purchasers and creditors described in section 5, unless the conditional sale contract or a copy thereof shall be filed in the filing district to which the goods are removed, within ten days after the seller has received notice of the filing district to which the goods have been removed. The provisions of this section shall not apply, however, to the goods described in section 8. The provisions of section 11 regarding the duration of the validity of the filing and the necessity for refiling shall apply to contracts or copies which are filed in a filing district other than that where the goods are originally kept for use by the buyer after the sale.

SEC. 15. [Fraudulent Injury, Concealment, Removal or Sale.] When, prior to the performance of the condition, the buyer maliciously or with intent to defraud, shall injure, destroy or conceal the goods, or remove them to a filing district where the contract or a copy thereof is not filed, without having given notice required by section 13, or shall sell, mortgage, or otherwise dispose of such goods under claim of full ownership, he shall be guilty of a crime and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned [in the county jail] for not more than [one year] or be fined not more than [$500] or both.

SEC. 16. [Retaking Possession.] When the buyer shall be in default in the payment of any sum due under the contract, or in the performance of any other condition which the contract requires him to perform in order to obtain the property in the goods, or in the performance of any promise, the breach of which is by the contract expressly made a ground for the retaking of the goods, the seller may retake possession thereof. Unless the goods can be retaken without breach of the peace, they shall be retaken by legal process; but nothing herein shall be construed to authorize a violation of the criminal law.

SEC. 17. [Notice of Intention to Retake.] Not more than forty nor less than twenty days prior to the retaking, the seller, if he so desires, may serve upon the buyer personally or by registered mail a notice of intention to retake the goods on account of the buyer's default. The notice shall state the default and the period at the end of which the goods will be retaken, and shall briefly and clearly state what the buyer's rights under this act will be in case they are retaken. If the notice is so served and the buyer does not perform the obligations in which he has made default before the day set for retaking, the seller may retake the goods and hold them subject to the provisions of section 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23 regarding resale, but without any right of redemption.

SEC. 18. [Redemption.] If the seller does not give the notice of intention to retake described in section 17, he shall retain the goods for ten days after the retaking within the state in which they were located when retaken, during which period the buyer, upon payment or tender of the amount due under the contract at the time of retaking and interest, or upon performance or tender of performance of such other condition as may be named in the contract as precedent to the passage of the property in the goods, or upon performance or tender of performance of any other performance for the breach of which the goods were retaken, and upon payment of the expenses of retaking, keeping and storage, may redeem the goods and become entitled to take possession of them and to continue in the performance of the contract as if no default had occurred. Upon written demand delivered personally or by registered mail by the buyer, the seller shall furnish to the buyer a written statement of the sum due under the contract and the expenses of retaking, keeping and storage. For failure to furnish such statement within a reasonable time after demand, the seller shall forfeit to the buyer the sum of ten dollars, and also be liable to him for all damages suffered because of such failure. If the goods are perishable so that retention for ten days as herein prescribed would result in their destruction or substantial injury, the provisions of this section shall not apply, and the seller may recall the goods immediately upon their retaking. The provision of this section requiring the retention of the goods within the State during the period allowed for redemption shall not apply to the goods described in section 8.

SEC. 19. [Compulsory Resale by Seller.] If the buyer does not redeem the goods within ten days after the seller has taken possession, and the buyer has paid at least 50 per cent of the purchase price at the time of the retaking, the seller shall sell them at public auction in the state where they were at the time of the retaking, such sale to be held not more than thirty days after the retaking. The seller shall give to the buyer not less than ten days' written notice of the sale, either personally or by registered mail, directed to the buyer at his last known place of business or residence. The seller shall also give notice of the sale by a least three notices posted in different public places within the filing district where the goods are to be sold, at least five days before the sale. If at the time of the retaking $500 or more has been paid on the purchase price, the seller shall also give notice of the sale at least five days before the sale by publication in a newspaper published or having a general circulation within the filing district where the goods are to be sold. The seller may bid for the goods at the resale. If the goods are of the kind described in section 8, the parties may fix in the conditional sale contract the place where the goods shall be resold.

SEC. 20. [Resale at Option of Parties.] If the buyer has not paid at least 50 per cent of the purchase price at the time of the retaking, the seller shall not be under a duty to recall the goods as prescribed in section 19, unless the buyer serves upon the seller, within ten days after the retaking, a written notice demanding a resale, delivered personally or by registered mail. If such notice is served, the resale shall take place within thirty days after the service, in the manner, at the place and upon the notice prescribed in section 19. The seller may voluntarily resell the goods for account of the buyer on compliance with the same requirements.

SEC. 21. [Proceeds of Resale.] The proceeds of the resale shall be applied (1) to the payment of the expenses thereof, (2) to the payment of the expenses of retaking, keeping and storing the goods, (3) to the satisfaction of the balance due under the contract. Any sum remaining after the satisfaction of such claims shall be paid to the buyer.

SEC. 22. [Deficiency on Resale.] If the proceeds of the resale are not sufficient to defray the expenses thereof, and also the expenses of retaking, keeping and storing the goods and the balance due upon the purchase price, the seller may recover the deficiency from the buyer, or from anyone who has succeeded to the obligations of the buyer.

SEC. 23. [Rights of Parties Where There is No Resale.] Where there is no resale, the seller may retain the goods as his own property without obligation to account to the buyer except as provided in section 25, and the buyer shall be discharged of all obligation.

SEC. 24. [Election of Remedies.] After the retaking of possession as provided in section 16 the buyer shall be liable for the price only after a resale and only to the extent provided in section 22. Neither the bringing of an action by the seller for the recovery of the whole or any part of the price, nor the recovery of judgment in such action, nor the collection of a portion of the price, shall be deemed inconsistent with a later retaking of the goods as provided in section 16. But such right of retaking shall not be exercised by the seller after he has collected the entire price, or after he has claimed a lien upon the goods, or attached them, or levied upon them as the goods of the buyer.

SEC. 25. [Recovery of Part Payments.] If the seller fails to comply with the provisions of sections 18, 19, 20, 21 and 23 after retaking the goods, the buyer may recover from the seller his actual damages, if any, and in no event less than one-fourth of the sum of all payments which have been made under the contract, with interest.

SEC. 26. [Waiver of Statutory Protection.] No act or agreement of the buyer before or at the time of the making of the contract, nor any agreement or statement by the buyer in such contract, shall constitute a valid waiver of the provisions of sections 18, 19, 20, 21 and 25.

SEC. 27. [Loss and Increase.] After the delivery of the goods to the buyer and prior to the retaking of them by the seller, the risk of injury and loss shall rest upon the buyer. The increase of the goods shall be subject to the same conditions as the original goods.

SEC. 28. [Act Prospective Only.] This act shall not apply to conditional sales made prior to the time when it takes effect.

SEC. 29. [Rules for Cases not Provided for.] In any case not provided for in this act the rules of law and equity, including the law merchant, and in particular those relating to principal and agent and to the effect of fraud, misrepresentation, duress or coercion, mistake, bankruptcy, or other invalidating cause, shall continue to apply to conditional sales.

SEC. 30. [Uniformity of Interpretation.] This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

SEC. 31. [Short Title.] This act may be cited as the Uniform Conditional Sales Act.

2. UNIFORM FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCE ACT.

PREFATORY NOTE.

Existing confusions in the law relating to conveyances in fraud of creditors make the adoption by the several states of an Act which shall put an end to the confusions by concise and clear statements of legal principles pertaining to the subject a matter of practical importance.

The confusions and uncertainties of the existing law are due primarily to three things:

First, the absence of any well recognized definite conception of insolvency.

Second, failure to make clear the persons legally injured by a given fraudulent conveyance.

Third, the attempt to make the Statute of Elizabeth cover all conveyances which wrong creditors, even though the actual intent to defraud does not exist.

The Statute of Elizabeth condemns conveyances as fraudulent only when made with the "intent" to "hinder, delay or defraud." There are many conveyances which among creditors where an intent to defraud on the part of the debtor does not in fact exist. In order to avoid these conveyances, the courts have called to their assistance presumptions of law as to intent, and in equity have pushed presumption of fraud as a fact to an unwarranted extent; with the result that, while in the main the decisions under the facts do justice, the reasoning supporting them leaves much to be desired.

In the Act as drafted all possibility of a presumption of law as to intent is avoided. Certain conveyances which the courts have in practice condemned, such as a gift by an insolvent, are declared fraudulent irrespective of intent. On the other hand, while all conveyances with intent to defraud creditors (see section 7) are declared fraudulent, it is expressly stated that the intent must be "actual intent, as distinguished from intent presumed as a matter of law."

The Act as drafted makes few changes in the law of any State. In this subject, as in many others in our law, need for definite statutory statement does not arise so much from actual conflict between the law of different jurisdictions arising out of clear cut differences in judicial opinion, as from the confusion of thought manifested in judicial opinion, which renders the law in a great degree uncertain in all jurisdictions.

The chief benefit to be derived from the adoption of a uniform Act on conveyances in fraud of creditors is that, if properly enforced, it will give a known certainty to the law which it does not now possess.

A statement of the process by which the Act has been developed may be of interest. In 1915 the Conference directed its Committee on Commercial Law to prepare the draft of an Act to make uniform the law relating to fraudulent conveyances. The committee secured the services as draftsmen of William Draper Lewis, Professor of Law in the University of Pennsylvania, who in his work for the committee acted for the New York Drafting Association. The first tentative draft was submitted by the committee to the Conference in 1916, the second tentative draft in 1917, and the third in 1918, the Conference carefully going over, discussing and amending the Act section by section at each session. The completed Act represents, therefore, most careful work.

AN ACT concerning fraudulent conveyances and to make uniform the law relating thereto.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly: [Definition of Terms.] In this Act "Assets" of a debtor means property not exempt from liability for his debts. To the extent that any property is liable for any debts of the debtor, such property shall be included in his assets.

"Conveyance" includes every payment of money, assignment, release, transfer, lease, mortgage or pledge of tangible or intangible property, and also the creation of any lien or encumbrance.

"Creditor" is a person having any claim, whether matured or unmatured, liquidated or unliquidated, absolute, fixed or contingent.

"Debt" includes any legal liability, whether matured or unmatured liquidated, unliquidated, absolute, fixed or contingent.¹

¹A person who has been injured by another although he has not made any claim for damages would be a creditor. Crossley v. Elworthy, L. R. 12 Eq., 158.

SEC. 2. [Insolvency.] (1) A person is insolvent when the present fair salable value of his assets is less than the amount that will be required to pay his probable liability on his existing debts as they become absolute and matured.¹

¹This interpretation of insolvency, taken in connection with section 4, [Conveyances by Insolvent] in effect declares that a person, although he is indebted at the time, may give away a part of his property, if in so doing he has no actual intent to defraud present or future creditors (section 7), provided he has sufficient property left to pay his creditors. This is in accord with the present law in the great majority of states. Glenn, on Creditor's Rights and Remedies, pp. 96, 98. Chancellor Kent in Reade v. Livingston, 3 Johns, Ch. 481, held that if a donor at the time of making the gift is indebted, there is an "irrebuttable presumption" that he intended to defraud his creditors. This decision although no longer law in New York (Con. Laws, Vol. 4, Per. Prop. Law, Sec. 37, Real Prop. Law, Sec. 265), has been followed in Alabama, Kentucky, Michigan, New Jersey, South Carolina and Virginia.

(2) In determining whether a partnership is insolvent there shall be added to the partnership property the present fair salable value of the separate assets of each general partner in excess of the amount probably sufficient to meet the claims of his separate creditors, and also the amount of any unpaid subscription to the partnership of each limited partner, provided the present fair salable value of the assets of such limited partner is probably sufficient to pay his debts, including such unpaid subscription.

SEC. 3. [Fair Consideration.] Fair consideration is given for property, or obligation,

(a) When in exchange for such property, or obligation, as a fair equivalent therefor, and in good faith, property is conveyed or an antecedent debt is satisfied, or

(b) When such property, or obligation, is received in good faith to secure a present advance or antecedent debt in amount not disproportionately small as compared with the value of the property, or obligation obtained.¹

¹The cases relating to the subject of this section usually deal with the amount of the consideration as indicating whether there is a fraudulent intent on the part of the grantor or collusion on the part of the grantee. It is submitted that the real question in such cases is, the good faith of the grantee, and whether the consideration given by him is a reasonable equivalent for the property received.

SEC. 4. [Conveyances by Insolvent.] Every conveyance made and every obligation incurred by a person who is or will be thereby rendered insolvent is fraudulent as to creditors without regard to his actual intent if the conveyance is made or the obligation is incurred without a fair consideration.¹

¹ This section does not change the existing law, except in a few jurisdictions in the matter indicated in the note to section 2, supra.

In dealing with the subject of the section our courts have usually treated a voluntary conveyance by an insolvent as indicating an "irrebuttable presumption of fraudulent intent." As stated in the Prefatory Note, this awkward method of treating the subject arose from the wording of the 13th of Elizabeth. That statute renders void those conveyances only which are made with the "intent" to "hinder, delay, and defraud" creditors. To avoid a gift made by an insolvent where no actual intent to defraud existed, it was necessary to "presume as a matter of law" an intent to defraud.

SEC. 5. [Conveyances by Persons in Business.] Every conveyance made without fair consideration when the person making it is engaged or is about to engage in a business or transaction for which the property remaining in his hands after the conveyance is an unreasonably small capital, is fraudulent as to creditors and as to other persons who become creditors during the continuance of such business or transaction without regard to his actual intent.¹

¹ A conveyance made with intent to be secure against the hazards of business, would not be fraudulent under this section, unless the remaining property in his hands is an unreasonably small capital in view of the nature of the business or transaction. Winchester v. Charter, 12 Allen, 606, 611, accord. On the other hand, actual intent to defraud is not necessary if the facts set forth in the section exist.

The section does not change the result of the recorded cases, although for the reasons stated in the Prefatory Note and in the note to section 4, supra, the usual statement is that there must be an intent to defraud, and that this "intent" can be presumed from the nature of the business. See, for example, Hagerman v. Buchanan, 45 N. J. Eq., 92.

SEC. 6. [Conveyances by a Person about to Incur Debts.] Every conveyance made and every obligation incurred without fair consideration when the person making the conveyance or entering into the obligation intends or believes that he will incur debts beyond his ability to pay as they mature, is fraudulent as to both present and future creditors.

SEC. 7. [Conveyance Made with Intent to Defraud.] Every conveyance made and every obligation incurred with actual intent, as distinguished from intent presumed in law, to hinder, delay, or defraud either present or future creditors, is fraudulent as to both present and future creditors.¹

¹ The section is practically identical with the 13th of Elizabeth. As the other sections of this act deal with conveyances which are fraudulent as to creditors irrespective of intent, this section is expressly so drawn as to relate to conveyances with intent to defraud. In this manner the act will do away with legal presumptions of fraud which have been a main cause of existing uncertainty and confusion. See Prefatory Note.

SEC. 8. [Conveyance of Partnership Property.] Every conveyance of partnership property and every partnership obligation incurred when the partnership is or will be thereby rendered insolvent, is fraudulent as to partnership creditors, if the conveyance is made or obligation is incurred.

(a) To a partner, whether with or without a promise by him to pay partnership debts, or

(b) To a person not a partner without fair consideration to the partnership as distinguished from consideration to the individual partners.¹

See section 2, supra, for statement of facts which must exist to make a partnership insolvent.

SEC. 9. [Rights of Creditors Whose Claims Have Matured.] (1) Where a conveyance or obligation is fraudulent as to a creditor, such creditor, when his claim has matured, may, as against any person except a purchaser for fair consideration without knowledge of the fraud at the time of the purchase, or one who has derived title immediately or mediately from such a purchaser,

(a) Have the conveyance set aside or obligation annulled to the extent necessary to satisfy his claim, or

(b) Disregard the conveyance and attach or levy execution upon the property conveyed.¹

¹In England, if a conveyance is fraudulent as to any creditor, it can be treated as void or set aside by any other creditor, even though the conveyance was not fraudulent as to him. Freeman v. Pope, L. R. 5, Ch. App. 528; Ideal Bedding Co. v. Holland, 76 L. J. Ch. Div. 441. There are American cases in support of this proposition.

The paragraph as drawn, however, expresses the dominant American rule, which is that only those creditors as to whom the conveyance is fraudulent, can proceed to set the conveyance aside.

(2) A purchaser who without actual fraudulent intent has given less than a fair consideration for the conveyance or obligation, may retain the property or obligation as security for repayment.

SEC. 10. [Rights of Creditors Whose Claims Have Not Matured.] Where a conveyance made or obligation incurred is fraudulent as to a creditor whose claim has not matured he may proceed in a court of competent jurisdiction against any person against whom he could have proceeded had his claim matured, and the court may,

(a) Restrain the defendant from disposing of his property,

(b) Appoint a receiver to take charge of the property,

(c) Set aside the conveyance or annul the obligation, or

(d) Make any order which the circumstances of the case may require.

SEC. 11. [Cases not Provided for in Act.] In any case not provided for in this act the rules of law and equity including the law merchant, and in particular the rules relating to the law of principal and agent, and the effect of fraud, misrepresentation, duress or coercion, mistake, bankruptcy or other invalidating cause shall govern.

SEC. 12. [Construction of Act.] This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

SEC. 13. [Name of Act.] This act may be cited as the Uniform Fraudulent Conveyance Act.

Attorney General.

File No. 9177.

APPROPRIATIONS:

Election Contests:

Attorneys Fees.

Honorable David E. Shanahan, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Springfield, Illinois.

Dear Sir—Your letter of June 12 calls my attention to the recommendation made in the report of the Committee on Election Contests of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-first General Assembly, recommending that the expenses of attorneys fees incurred by James M. Kittleman, contestant, and by Solomon P. Roderick, one of the respondents in an election contest in the said House, amounting to $500 each, and also the expense of attorneys fees incurred by Thomas P. Devereux, the contestant in another election case in said House, be paid out of appropriations for committee expenses not heretofore expended. The said report was adopted by a unanimous vote of the House. The report aforesaid appears on pages 24 to 25, inclusive, of the House Journal of June 4, the recommendation being made at the conclusion of the report on page 25 aforesaid. You also call my attention to an opinion rendered by this office, appearing at page 86 of the Governor's Veto Messages, Fiftieth General Assembly, 1917. You request my opinion whether the said expenses for attorneys fees may be lawfully paid in accordance with the recommendation of said committee and the vote of the House thereon.

The opinion of this office to which you refer was rendered on House Bill No. 1037 of the Fiftieth General Assembly entitled, "An bill for an Act making an appropriation to pay the House Election Committee expenses on the Fiftieth General Assembly." The bill contained various items among which were expenses of attorneys fees for members of the Fiftieth General Assembly whose seats were contested. These expenses were incurred without express authority of law and without a previous appropriation out of which such expenses could be paid or in excess of such appropriation. Our Supreme Court in Fergus v. Brady, 277 Ill. 272, decided squarely that sections 18 and 19 of Article IV of the constitution prohibit the General Assembly from making any appropriation to pay expenses so incurred. In fact an appropriation to pay such expenses for attorneys fees in an election contest was before the court in said case and was held invalid because in violation of this provision of the constitution. Necessarily the opinion of the Attorney General in said House Bill No. 1037 was governed by the said decision of our Supreme Court.

The question presented by the report and recommendation of the said committee of the Fifty-first General Assembly is materially different from that decided by our Supreme Court in Fergus v. Brady, supra, and that presented by said House Bill No. 1037, of the Fiftieth General Assembly. There the expenses were incurred in the absence of an appropriation out of which they could have been paid. In the instant case the appropriations out of which it is recommended that the expenses be paid were provided prior to the incurrence of such expenses, and it is a condition of the recommendation that said expenses be paid out of the unexpended balance of such appropriations. Therefore the question here presented is whether such expenses may be paid from an appropriation of public money. In other words, are the attorneys fees of one who contests the election of a member of the House of Representatives and fails therein, expenses incurred for a public or governmental purpose. I am unable to find that our Supreme Court has passed upon this question and do not undertake to forecast the decision of that court should the matter be there presented. My opinion is that such expenses may or may not constitute expenses incurred for a public purpose, depending upon the circumstances of the particular case; and the judgment of the House of Representatives, expressed by its acts, is as a general rule sufficient evidence of the fact and can be overcome only by clear and convincing proof, if at all.

Section 9 of Article IV of the constitution contains the following provisions: "Each house shall determine the rules of its proceedings, and be the judge of the election returns and qualifications of its members." Thus it becomes the duty of each house to determine who is elected to seats therein and the method of so determining that question in the case of a contest for seats therein is not only the privilege but the duty of each house. The duty of determining such a contest is something more than a duty to decide conflicting personal claims of the parties immediately concerned. The interest of the public in being represented by officers chosen in the way and manner provided by law, in being represented by persons duly elected for that purpose, imposes upon the General Assembly a solemn duty to the whole public. If it be the judgment of the House that such duty can best be performed by having the rights of all parties to an election contest presented to the committee by attorneys representing the respective parties, I see no constitutional reason why that method may not be adopted; and if in the opinion of the House the employment of attorneys is necessary or advisable to the proper determination of the questions presented by such a contest, I think the House may properly provide for the payment of such attorneys out of existing appropriations made for the payment of committee expenses. It is true that this right or power may be unwisely exercised or abused, just as other powers of the General Assembly may be unwisely exercised or abused. But the existence of a power or authority is one thing and the abuse of it is another. In the exercise of the particular power conferred by the provision of the constitution above quoted, as in the exercise of powers conferred by other provisions of that instrument, the members of the General Assembly are responsible to their constituents.

Certainly I do not wish to be understood as saying that in every election contest which may come before the General Assembly attorneys should be employed to represent the respective parties to the contest. It is easy to see that contests may be based on such flimsy pretexts that the want of merit is apparent to any one of good common sense. I am expressing my opinion only on the right of each house of the General Assembly to determine whether in an election contest therein pending the employment of such attorneys is necessary or advisable and to make provisions for the payment of such fees as it may deem just and reasonable for such necessary or advisable services rendered by such attorneys. I think each house possesses such power and authority, the exercise of which must be consistent with other provisions of the constitution.

The Committee on Election Contests of the Fifty-first General Assembly, in the contest aforesaid, has recommended the payment of the attorneys fees mentioned in their report, and has hereby expressed its judgment that in those contests the employment of attorneys was necessary, or at least advisable to the proper determination of the contests presented to that committee. By its vote adopting the report of the committee the House of Rep-representatives has expressed the same judgment. Therefore I think such expenses may lawfully "be paid out of appropriations made for committee expenses, not otherwise expended."

Very truly yours,

Edward J. Brundage,
Attorney General.

Hon. David E. Shannahan, State Legislature, Springfield, Illinois.

Dear Mr. Shanahan—I hand you herewith the following opinion received today from Mr. Horace Oakley, in approval of the bonding bills and amendments which have been passed by the Senate and are now going through the House:

"From Mr. Horace Oakley, of Wood and Oakley,

"Dated June 14, 1909.

"With Mr. Chandler, I have examined the several amendments now pending before the Legislature of Illinois imposing limits upon the general taxing power.

"The purpose of these amendments is to reduce the rate of tax which the several taxing bodies of Illinois are authorized to levy, in the same proportion as it is proposed to increase the basis (property value) of taxation; to the end that the actual tax charge will continue the same.

"Note—The amendments of the tax levying laws for the city of Chicago and the exceptions to the Juul law are in conference and I have not seen them in their final form; but as the whole purpose of the numerous amendments first noted is to clear the way for the intelligent amendment of the tax laws for Chicago, we may be sure that this last legislation when passed will be effective and in proper form.

"In my opinion the several amendments first noted are in due form of law and will accomplish the result you desire."

I am sending this with the thought you would be pleased to have it, and that it may be useful to you at this time.

Sincerely yours,

Charles H. Wacker.

Dear sir—With Mr. Chandler, I have examined the several amendments now pending before the Legislature of Illinois imposing limits upon the general taxing power.

The purpose of these amendments is to reduce the rate of tax which the several taxing bodies of Illinois are authorized to levy, in the same proportion as it is proposed to increase the basis (property value) of taxation; to the end that the actual tax charge will continue the same.

Note—The amendments of the tax levying laws for the City of Chicago and the exceptions to the Juul law are in conference and I have not seen them in their final form; but as the whole purpose of the numerous amendments first noted is to clear the way for the intelligent amendment of the tax laws for Chicago, we may be sure that this last legislation when passed will be effective and in proper form.

In my opinion the several amendments first noted are in due form of law and will accomplish the result you desire.

A message from the Governor, by George D. Sutton, Secretary to the Governor:

Mr. Speaker—The Governor directs me to lay before the House of Representatives, the following communication:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 17, 1919.

Gentlemen of the Fifty-first General Assembly:

In my biennial address, I said about the Women's Eight Hour Law:

"At the last session of the General Assembly, a commission was created to inquire into hours of employment for women and report upon the same to this General Assembly. Thereafter, the commission was appointed, it met and organized, and has made an exhaustive investigation of the subject. I will later submit its report to you. It is generally believed, I think, that women cannot, with safety to society, at least in intensive and continuous industries, work a longer time than eight hours in any one day. Society is directly and deeply interested in their welfare. The hours of labor and working conditions for them must be such that they may become the mothers of strong, vigorous children if our future is to be secure. I earnestly hope that in view of these considerations, your Honorable Body will enact legislation restricting the hours of labor for women in this State."

Since that message was delivered, the report of the special commission to investigate the subject has been submitted to your Honorable Body. The majority of that commission recommended an eight-hour day for women. It is true that there was a minority report dissenting from this recommendation. I think, however, that no one can read the report without reaching the conclusion that a much shorter day is demanded than is now provided for under our law. The report also discloses, so far as figures are available, that where the number of hours has been reduced a larger efficiency has been attained.

I am persuaded that many of our employers have misled themselves as to the effect of legislation upon this subject. While all the world is moving toward shorter hours of labor, shall it be said of Illinois that she permits her women to be worked seventy hours per week?

Legislation upon this subject is needed at this session, and I earnestly urge action by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.

The foregoing message from the Governor was received and ordered placed on file.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Thon called up Senate Bill No. 220 in the order of third reading; whereupon, Senate Bill No. 220, a bill for "An Act to amend section 3 of an Act entitled, 'An Act to better provide for the care and detention of feeble-minded persons,' approved June 24, 1915, in force July 1, 1915."

Was taken up, and all amendments adopted thereto having been transcribed, typed and printed, was read at large a third time.

Such highways hereinafter known as "State Aid Roads," may be laid out, constructed or improved in the manner hereinafter directed:

The board of supervisors or county commissioners of any county shall, by a majority of the entire board of supervisors or county commissioners, in regular or special session, specify the type of road to be constructed under the provisions of this Act in their respective counties, subject, however, to the approval of the Department of Public Works and Buildings whether of permanent earth improvement (including surface or sub-surface drainage, grading leveling, and crowning), gravel, macadam, cement concrete, bituminous concrete on a cement concrete base, brick or other hard surfaced type of pavement, patented or otherwise, and the respective boards of supervisors or county commissioners shall subject to the approval of the Department of Public Works and Buildings as aforesaid have the authority to specify any one of the herein designated types of roads. In case the board of supervisors or county commissioners do not desire to exercise the privilege and power herein conferred upon them as to designating the type of road to be builded and shall so notify the Department of Public Works and Buildings, then it shall be the duty of the Department of Public Works and Buildings to specify the type of road to be builded: Provided, nothing herein contained shall prohibit the State and county jointly, at any future time, rebuilding and changing, under the provisions of this Act, an earth, gravel, or macadam type of road, patented or otherwise, to any other more permanent type herein specified: Provided further, that when a gravel or macadam road is constructed the county shall pay one-half the cost of such maintenance: And, provided, further, that when an earth road is constructed the county shall pay the entire cost of maintenance: And, whenever any county, after having been given reasonable notice by the Department, shall fail properly to maintain any earth road improved as a State aid road or provide the funds for paying one-half the cost of maintaining a gravel or macadam road, the Department of Public Works and Buildings is hereby authorized to withhold from such county all State aid allotments during the time said county is delinquent: And, provided, that a road or part thereof lying within the corporate limits of any city or village having a population of twenty thousand (20,000) inhabitants or less, as shown by the last Federal census, situate within any county of the third class, may be improved or constructed with State aid, to connect or complete, by the most direct route, a State aid road already improved or constructed or being improved or constructed to the corporate limits of such city or village.

And, provided also, that a road or part thereof lying within the corporate limits of any city, village or town, having a population of two thousand five hundred (2,500) inhabitants or less as ascertained as aforesaid in any county, may be improved or constructed with State aid, to connect or complete by the most direct route, a State aid road already improved or constructed or being improved or constructed, to the corporate limits of such city, village or town. The cost of such road for the same width as outside of the corporate limits and of the same materials may be provided for in the same manner as for that portion outside the corporate limits. By agreement between the Department of Public Works and Buildings and the common council or board of trustees, a road or street of greater width and of different materials may be constructed through such city, village or town by the Department of Public Works and Buildings, such city, village or town to pay the excess cost, if any, for such greater width or different material. But such city, village or town shall thereafter maintain said road or street within the corporate limit.

A message from the Governor by George D. Sutton, Secretary to the Governor:

Mr. Speaker—The Governor directs me to lay before the House of Representatives, the following communication:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 18, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I believe that the bonding power of the city of Chicago should be increased. I am advised that bills have been drawn which will protect the people against any increase in the tax rate if such power be granted. I believe that it is essential at the present time that public works should go on which can only proceed if the power to bond the city is increased. I therefore urge that that power be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.

The foregoing message from the Governor was received and ordered placed on file.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of the House amendments to a bill of the following title:

SENATE BILL No. 248.

A bill for "An Act to amend an Act entitled, 'An Act to provide for the incorporation of cities and villages,' approved April 10, 1872, in force July 1, 1872, by amending Article XII thereof by adding thereto twelve new sections to be known as sections 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15 of part four."

Which amendments are as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend Senate Bill No. 240 in House by striking out "13, 14 and 15" in line 7 of section 1 in the printed bill and by substituting "13 and 14" in lieu thereof.

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend Senate Bill No. 248 in House by striking out the words "and to elections to the offices of mayor, city clerk and city treasurer so long as these officers shall be elected by popular vote," appearing in lines 2 and 3 of section 4 in the printed bill and by substituting therefor the words "in the City of Chicago." Also amend the same section by striking out the words "Any municipal office covered by this Act" in line 5 of said section in the printed bill and by substituting the word "alderman" in lieu thereof.

AMENDMENT No. 3.

Amend Senate Bill No. 248 in House by striking out all of sections 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15 of the printed bill and by substituting the following therefor:

"Section 5. TIMES FOR ELECTIONS.] General elections for aldermen shall be held in the year or years fixed by law for holding the same, on the last Tuesday in February of such year. Any supplementary election for aldermen held under the provisions of this Act shall be held on the first Tuesday of April next following the holding of such general aldermanic election. Special aldermanic elections shall be held on the date provided for by the ordinance calling the same and if followed by a supplementary election, such supplementary election shall be held four weeks thereafter. If any general municipal election for alderman is held at any date other than the last Tuesday in February, the supplementary municipal election following the same shall be held four weeks after the date of such general municipal election.

"Section 6. CANDIDATE RECEIVING MAJORITY ELECTED—SUPPLEMENTARY ELECTIONS.] The candidate receiving a majority of the votes cast for aldermen in each ward at any general or special election shall be declared elected. In the event that no candidate received a majority of such votes in any ward or wards a supplementary election shall be held at the time prescribed in the preceding section. At such supplementary election the names of the candidates in each of such wards receiving the highest and second highest number of votes at the preceding general or special election and no others shall be placed on the official ballot: Provided, however, that if there be any candidate who, under the provisions of this section would have been entitled to a place on the ballot at the supplementary election except for the fact that some other candidate received an equal number of votes, then all such candidates receiving such equal number of votes shall have their names printed on the ballot as candidates at such succeeding supplementary election. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes at such supplementary election shall be declared elected. Such supplementary election shall be deemed a special election under the election and ballot laws in force in the City of Chicago and shall be governed thereby except in so far as such laws are inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

"Section 7. NOMINATIONS BY PETITION.] All nominations for alderman of any ward in the city shall be by petition. All petitions for nominations of candidates shall be signed by such a number of legal voters as will aggregate not less than two per cent and not more than five per cent of all the votes cast for alderman in such ward at the last preceding general aldermanic election. All such petitions, and procedure with respect thereto, shall conform in other respects in the provisions of the election and ballot laws then in force in the City of Chicago concerning the nomination of independent candidates for public office by petition. The method of nomination herein provided is exclusive of and replaces all other methods heretofore provided by law.

"Section 8. CANDIDATES MAY WITHDRAW.] Any candidate for alderman under the provisions of this Act may withdraw his name as a candidate by filing with the board of election commissioners of the City of Chicago not later than 20 days before the holding of the election his written request signed by him and duly acknowledged before an officer qualified to take acknowledgments of deeds, whereupon his name shall not be printed as a candidate upon the official ballot.

"If any candidate at an aldermanic election who was not elected as provided for herein but who shall have received sufficient votes to entitle him to a place on the official ballot at the ensuing supplementary election shall die or withdraw his candidacy before such supplementary election, the name of the candidate who shall have received the next highest number of votes shall be printed on the ballot in lieu of the name of the candidate who shall have died or withdraw his candidacy.

"Section 9. FORM OF BALLOT.] The ballots to be used at any general supplementary or special election held under the provisions of this Act, in addition to other requirements of law, shall conform to the following requirements:

"(1) At the top of the ballots shall be printed in capital letters the words designating the ballot. If a general aldermanic election the words shall be 'Official aldermanic election ballot;' if a supplementary election the designating words shall be 'Official supplementary aldermanic election ballot;' if a special aldermanic election, the words shall be 'Special aldermanic election ballot.'

"(2) Beginning not less than one inch below such designating words and extending across the face of the ballot, the title of each office to be filled shall be printed in capital letters.

"(3) The names of candidates for different terms of service therein (if any there be), shall be arranged and printed in groups according to the length of such terms.

"(4) Immediately below the title of each office or group heading indicating the term of office, shall be printed in small letters the directions to voters, 'Vote for one.'

"(5) Following thereupon shall be printed the names of the candidates for such office according to the title and the term thereof and below the name of each candidate shall be printed his place of residence, stating the street and number (if any). The names of candidates shall be printed in capital letters not less than one-eighth nor more than one-quarter of an inch in height, and immediately at the left of the name of each candidate shall be printed a square, the sides of which shall not be less than one-quarter of an inch in length. The names of all the candidates for each office shall be printed in a column and arranged in the order hereinafter designated; all the names of candidates shall be printed in uniform type; the places of residence of such candidates shall be printed in uniform type; and squares upon said ballots shall be of uniform size; all spaces between the names of the candidates for the same office shall be of uniform size.

“(6) Said ballots shall be prepared in as many series as there are candidates in the group in which there are the most names; the ballots of the first series shall contain all the names of the candidates for each group to be filled, on immediately following the other in alphabetical order according to their surnames; the ballots of the second series shall be like those of the first series, and the names of the candidates in the second series shall be arranged in the same order as those of the first series, except that the name appearing first in the list of candidates for each group in said first series shall, in said second series, be printed after all the other names in the list of candidates for such group; the ballots of the third series shall be like those of the second series, and the names of the candidates in the third series shall be arranged in the same order as those of the second series, except that the name first appearing in the list of candidates for each group in said second series shall, in said third series, be printed after all the other names in the list of candidates for such group; and so on successively, the name at the top of any list of candidates for each group in any series being placed at the bottom of the respective lists of candidates for such group in each succeeding series, and the name next to the top name in any list of candidates for each group being successively advanced to the top of the list of any succeeding series, until the name of each candidate for each group shall appear at the head of the list of candidates for such group.

“Section 10. ALLOTMENT OF BALLOTS BY PRECINCTS.] Each precinct of any ward shall be allotted at least ten per cent more ballots of any one series than there are registered voters in such precinct. Every precinct in such ward shall be allotted a different series of ballots unless there are more precincts in such ward than there are series of ballots printed for such ward. The first precinct of each ward shall be allotted the first series of ballots, the second precinct of such ward the second series, and so on successively until the entire series of ballots shall have been exhausted, whereupon the next precinct of such ward shall be allotted the first series of ballots, and so on in rotation until all the precincts of such ward shall have been supplied with the requisite number of ballots: Provided, however, that in the event that there are more series of ballots than there are precincts in any ward, then the ballots for such ward shall be so distributed in said ward that an equal number of each series of ballots as nearly as possible shall be allotted to such ward, irrespective of the number of precincts in such ward.

“On the back or outside of the ballot of each precinct so as to appear when folded shall be printed the appropriate words designating said ballot, followed by the designation of said precinct the date of the election, and a fac simile of the proper election official.

“Section 11. PARTY DESIGNATIONS PROHIBITED—BALLOT TO BE SEPARATE FROM OTHER BALLOTS.] No party name, party initial, party circle, platform, principle, appellation or distinguishing mark of any kind shall be printed upon any election ballot used at any election held under the provisions of this Act.

“If any party primary election or any election for any office other than aldermanic shall be held at the same time with any aldermanic election, the ballots for alderman shall be separate from all other ballots, except that any question of public policy not required by law to be submitted on a separate ballot from that containing names of persons to be voted for may be submitted in the manner provided by law upon the same ballot as that used for an aldermanic election: Provided, that the polls shall be opened and closed for any aldermanic election at the same time as is provided for the opening and closing of any party primary election for any office other than alderman held at the same time.

“Section 12. CHALLENGERS AND WATCHERS.] Any candidate for alderman under the terms of this Act may appoint in writing over his signature not more than one representative for each place of voting, who shall have the right to act as challenger and watcher for such candidate at any election at which his name is being voted upon. Such challenger and watcher shall have the same powers and privileges as a challenger and watcher under the election laws of this State applicable to Chicago. No political party shall have the right to keep any challenger or watcher at any polling place at any election held under the provisions of this Act unless candidates for some office other than alderman are to be voted for at the same time.

"Section 13. CERTIFICATE OF ELECTION.] No certificate of election shall be given to any candidate who shall be declared elected at any general aldermanic election until after the date fixed by this Act for the holding at the supplementary election herein provided for.

"Section 14. ELECTION LAWS APPLY WHEN CONSISTENT HEREWITH.] All laws in force in the city of Chicago governing elections for municipal offices or applicable thereto and not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, shall apply to and govern all elections held under the terms of this Act."

REPORT OF THE ILLINOIS CENTENNIAL COMMISSION.

ILLINOIS CENTENNIAL OBSERVANCE, 1918—PRELIMINARY.

Before the great war cast its blighting shadow upon the nations of the earth, the people of Illinois had begun to look forward to the observance of the centenary of their State.

The wonderful story of the Prairie State in its rise from the wigwam of the Indian and the camp fire of the explorer and the trapper, recounts adventures by sea and land, by winding river, fathomless lake and trackless forest, recites the story of white souled religious men, who carried the cross of Christianity to heathen nations, of daring and intrepid explorers who sought new and richer countries in the name of their king. It tells of gold and silver, of iron, lead and coal, of wild beast and of wilder man, of loyal friendship and of treachery, of filial devotion and of romantic love. All the attributes and passions of human nature have played their part in making the thrilling history of Illinois.

Our recorded history goes back to the discovery of the great Mississippi River by the Spaniard Ferdinand De Soto, who before the middle of the Sixteenth Century, with a small company of his countrymen had found his way from the Florida coast to the great inland river.

Tradition tells us that DeSoto also saw the waters of the Ohio River, and if this be true, he saw too the Illinois country. Certain it is that rumors of the Illinois country, its beauty and fertility, its game and furs, had reached the ears of the adventurous French early in the Seventeenth Century and Samuel de Champlain, the historian and traveler, was the first of his nation to mention in historical writings the Illinois country.

Spain and France and England have all claimed this territory. The claims of Spain were shadowy, France discovered and explored the country, took possession of it and held it for a hundred years. England conquered France upon the plains of Abraham at Quebec, in 1763, and through that victory claimed all of the American dependencies of France, including the Illinois country. England held actual sovereignty over Illinois less than fifteen years, nominally from 1763 to 1778, actually from 1765, when the British troops took command at Fort de Chartres, until July 4, 1778, when the little settlements on the Mississippi River became a part of Virginia and so of the new American Republic. All the history, romance and traditions of the two and a half centuries since the name of Illinois first made its appearance on the maps and in the historical writings of France is ours, but the history of Illinois since its admission as a State of the Federal Union in 1818, the one hundred years that have elapsed since that time, our first century as a sovereign State in the American Union, are what we have commemorated as our State Centennial Observance.

When the war for American Independence was ended in 1781, the thirteen original states had still to pass through some critical years before the adoption of the Federal Constitution in 1788.

During the struggles of the Revolution, the proposed limits of the new Republic had been extended westward to the Mississippi River and a great and fertile territory wrested from Great Britain by the amazing military feat of Col. George Rogers Clark, a young Virginia soldier, who with a small army of undisciplined bordermen, captured the little village of Kaskaskia which was then on the outmost fringe of civilization. This he did in the name of Virginia and under the orders of its Governor, the Illustrious Patrick Henry. This momentous event occurred July 4, 1778. In the following February, Clark captured Vincennes on the Wabash River. The conquest of these frontier military posts assured to the new United States the territory which now embraces Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and part of Minnesota, the great middle western states which form the very heart of the continent, any one of which has now as great a population as had the entire United States at the close of the Revolutionary War, and two of the states, Illinois and Ohio have each a much greater population.

Following the adoption of the Federal Constitution by the original thirteen states, seven states were admitted to the Union before Illinois asked to be permitted to become one of the sovereign states. These were Vermont in 1791, Kentucky in 1792, Tennessee in 1796, Ohio in 1802, Louisiana in 1812, Indiana in 1816 and Mississippi in 1817. Each of these states has observed its Centennial. The Centennial observance of our neighboring state, Indiana, celebrated in 1916, was the most elaborate.

In 1909 the State of Illinois, the nation and the world observed the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. Many citizens, including the members of the State Historical Society, urged that Illinois erect some adequate and enduring memorial of the Lincoln Centennial, but, while there were many brilliant official observances of the anniversary, the State did not erect a permanent memorial on the occasion of the Centenary of her most venerated citizen.

Feeling that the neglect of this opportunity was due in part, at least, to the failure of those whose duty it is to help to record and preserve State history, to make plain to the people of Illinois the importance and significance of the occasion, thoughtful citizens hoping to avoid the error made in regard to the Lincoln Centennial early began to call the attention of the people to the approach of the centennial of the State of Illinois.

We do not admit in its entirety the truthfulness of the trite expression that republics are ungrateful, but we must agree that republics and the states which make up republics, are forgetful. This is because events move so rapidly that the newer emotions and sentiments crowd out of the interest of the people all other than things of the urgent and insistent present.

The busy people who toil on the farm, in the mine, in the office and the storeroom make the economic and political history, and as they willingly contribute the money to provide and carry on the machinery which makes and administers their laws, so as a part of the peoples' organization for the carrying out of their ideals and for their welfare, agencies are employed by them to plan their memorials and to arrange for the observance of their historical anniversaries to be in a sense the keepers of their historical consciousness as well as of their historical records.

The Illinois Centennial Commission acted as the agent of the people in planning for and carrying on a celebration to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the admission of the State of Illinois into the Federal Union.

ORGANIZATION OF THE COMMISSION AND ITS PLANS FOR THE OBSERVANCE OF THE CENTENARY OF THE STATE.

On February 12, 1913, Campbell S. Hearn, a member of the Forty-eighth General Assembly of the State of Illinois representing the Thirty-sixth Senatorial District introduced in the Senate a resolution which provided for the creation of a commission to plan for and carry on an adequate celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the admission of Illinois into the Federal Union. This resolution was amended and the House of Representatives concurred in it on April 8, 1913.

The resolution provided that a commission be created for the purpose of observing the centennial of the State and that it should consist of fifteen members; five members of the Senate and five members of the House of Representatives appointed according to the usage of the Senate and House of Representatives and Edmund J. James, E. B. Greene and J. W. Garner of the University of Illinois and Otto L. Schmidt and Jessie Palmer Weber of the Illinois State Historical Society.

The Commission met in the office of the Lieutenant Governor in the Capitol on July 23, 1913. The members of the Commission were Campbell S. Hearn, Hugh S. Magill, Jr., Logan Hay, Henry W. Johnson, Kent E. Keller, members of the State Senate and Representatives John S. Burns, John Huston, C. C. Pervier, James F. Morris and George B. Baker. The five other members of the Commission were those persons named in the resolution, President Edmund J. James, Prof. E. B. Greene, and Prof. J. W. Garner of the University of Illinois, and Dr. Otto L. Schmidt, President, and Mrs. Jessie Palmer Weber, Secretary of the Illinois State Historical Society.

The Commission organized at this, its first meeting. Senator Campbell S. Hearn was elected Chairman and Mrs. Jessie Palmer Weber was elected Secretary of the Commission.

There have been three distinct changes in the organization of the Commission in addition to the change in the presiding officer caused by the death of the first chairman of the Commission. Senator Hearn died on August 28, 1914, at his home in Quincy. He had been one of the chief factors in the organization of the Commission and had been active in all of its labors. He was deeply interested in its work. On December 3, 1914, the Honorable Hugh S. Magill, Jr., was elected chairman of the Commission to succeed him. On his retirement from the Senate, the chairman, Mr. Magill, and other retiring members of the General Assembly were declared ineligible for membership in the Commission and members of the General Assembly were appointed in their places.

Senator E. S. Smith of Springfield, was elected chairman of the Commission to succeed Mr. Magill. The Centennial Commission was one of the State commissions whose legal status was questioned by the "Fergus suits." This matter caused some embarrassment and delay in the work of the Commission. The right of members of the General Assembly to serve on the Commission was also questioned.

Finally a bill passed the General Assembly giving the Governor power to appoint the fifteen members of the Commission. This Act was approved by Governor Dunne, January 21, 1916, and under its provisions the Commission has worked without further confusion or embarrassment.

Dr. Otto L. Schmidt who had been a member of the Commission from its organization was, by Governor Dunne, appointed chairman of the Commission and has served continuously since that time. Dr. Schmidt had been chairman of the Publication Committee and was familiar with all of the plans of the Commission. He has given the work wise, patriotic and unselfish devotion. It is not too much to say that the success of the celebration in all its phases is due largely to him.

As before stated there have been four important changes in the personnel of the Commission. The following named persons have been members of it during the more than five years of its existence.

The Commission at once began an earnest study of its work and formulated comprehensive plans for the centennial observance. The necessary committees were appointed. It was voted that Governor Dunne and State Superintendent Francis G. Blair be invited to serve as honorary members of the Commission. President Edmund J. James of the University of Illinois was also invited to become an honorary member and served in that capacity until upon the resignation of President Harry Pratt Judson of the University of Chicago, he became again a member of the Commission. Mr. Martin Roche of the State Art Commission and Professor J. A. James of the Northwestern University, were later elected honorary members.

After discussion and a careful consideration of the subject, it was decided that the plans for the celebration should be carried on under the following standing committees or divisions.

On October 29, 1917, Governor Lowden issued a proclamation calling special attention to December 3rd, following, as the ninety-ninth anniversary of the formal admission of Illinois into the Union, and as the beginning of the centennial year. In his proclamation the Governor urged a general observance of this day throughout the State, and that organizations be formed in every county to cooperate with the Illinois Centennial Commission in planning an appropriate observance of the Illinois Centennial anniversary. In this proclamation the Governor stated:

On December 3, Illinois will enter upon the hundredth year of her statehood. The General Assembly of Illinois has created a Commission, to provide for the celebration of our Centennial. It already has plans well under way to make this event worthy of the greatness and the history of Illinois. But its work will not be complete unless the counties of the State shall also organize for this purpose. There is not a county in Illinois which has not been the scene of stirring and important events, which should find a place in the permanent history of the State.

Now is the time to single out and record these events. It is common knowledge that a young and expanding community, absorbed in making history, is only too careless about recording the history it makes. Many points in Illinois scenes of momentous happenings—which could have been sought out and marked half a century ago, and have become fixed landmarks, are now only vague traditions. And, so while it is yet time, let our hundredth year be marked by fixing permanently the events of our first hundred years, so far as they may be fixed at this time.

It is thought by some that the time is not fitting for this celebration, because of the world-wide war in which we find ourselves. I do not share this view. I realize the greatness of the burdens this war imposes on us. We, of Illinois, will bear those burdens more lightly if we shall recall the first hundred years of Illinois' achievements. Our fathers before us, too, bore heavy burdens. They, too, knew what it meant to offer all for a great cause. They too, faced danger and difficulty. But they triumphed over all, and this great commonwealth—the home of twice the number of free men the United States contained at the close of the Revolutionary War—is the result.

"We have a hundred years of noble history as a background. Whether we shall have another hundred years equally inspiring, depends upon the issue of this world-wide war. It will help Illinois to play a great part in this war, if her people will refresh their courage and strengthen their will by a study of our first hundred years."

When the Fiftieth General Assembly convened in January, 1917, America was fast drifting into the great international war. Notwithstanding this fact, the members of the Legislature felt that the centennial celebration should be held during the following year, and that provision should be made therefor. The appropriation to the Centennial Commission was made after the United States had entered the war.

The officers of the Commission took up the question of a State-wide celebration with Governor Lowden, who after due consideration, expressed the opinion that there was even more reason for holding the celebration during the war than under normal conditions. He gave as his reason for this conclusion, that the story of Illinois is so rich in deeds of patriotism and heroic endeavor, that an appreciation of this history such as would be brought out by the Centennial celebration, would tend to inspire the people of Illinois to do their full patriotic duty, and bear the burdens of the war more generously and heroically.

The three branches of the State government, Legislative, Executive and Judicial, took official part in the observance of the Centennial. The Governor, by the following special message to the General Assembly, called attention to this important part of the celebration.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
June 16, 1917.

Gentlemen of the Fiftieth General Assembly:

Next year Illinois will celebrate the centennial anniversary of its entrance into the Union. The hundred years of our Statehood history will be commemorated then. These hundred years are big with achievement. Our population in 1818 was 40,000 of scattered pioneers. Now it is more than six million. The fifth largest city in the world lies within our borders. Our resources have increased with our population. Many of Illinois' sons have written their names large in the history of the world. Illinois played a conspicuous, if not a decisive part in the war for the Union. The history of that war could not be written with Illinois left out.

We are now engaged in another great war in which the liberties of all mankind are challenged. We would be recreant to our past if we did not at this time recall to ourselves the achievements of a hundred years of free institutions in Illinois.

Your honorable body has made fitting provision for this celebration, which should be marked with simplicity and solemnity but with great patriotic earnestness. The Commission having this work in charge is proceeding ably to this end. They desire that your honorable body appoint a committee to unite with the Executive and Judicial Department of the State in extending invitations to the President of the United States, to governors of the different states, and to other distinguished guests, and to advise with the Commission upon matters pertaining to the celebration.

I therefore recommend the appointment of such a joint committee.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.

As suggested by Governor Lowden, a committee consisting of Lieutenant Governor John G. Oglesby and ten members of the State Senate and of Speaker David E. Shanahan and ten members of the House of Representatives was appointed as an advisory committee to act with the other branches of the State government and the Centennial Commission.

The members were:

John G. Oglesby, Lieutenant Governor and President of the Senate.

Richard Barr.

Adam C. Cliffe.

Willet H. Cornwell.

Edward C. Curtis.

John Dailey.

Al. F. Gorman.

This Legislative Committee, with the Governor and other executive officers of the State, the Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court and the Centennial Commission, made up the general invitation committee and formal invitations to the various centennial observances, bore the names of the fifty-one members of this committee.

It was decided as suggested by Governor Lowden in a special message to the General Assembly, to invite the President of the United States to honor the Illinois centennial observance by coming to Springfield, Saturday, October 5, 1918 and making the principal address at the laying of the corner stone of the Centennial Memorial building.

Accordingly, an invitation was handsomely engrossed and illuminated by hand, bound in red morocco, signed by the aforesaid committee of fifty-one.

Chief Justice Orrin N. Carter, Dr. O. L. Schmidt, Chairman of the Centennial Commission and the Honorable David E. Shanahan, Speaker of the Illinois House of Representatives, went to Washington City, and on March 22, 1918, accompanied by United States Senator L. Y. Sherman and Illinois Congressmen Joseph G. Cannon, Henry T. Rainey and M. D. Foster, called on the President of the United States at the White House and presented the invitation to him in person. The President expressed his interest in the Illinois Centennial observance, his appreciation of the invitation and his desire to accept it, but could not at that time give the committee a definite answer. He asked that his attention be called to the matter later in the season.

Late in August, Dr. Schmidt, accompanied by former Governor Edward F. Dunne, called on the President and again urged his acceptance of the invitation, and he still had hopes of being able to accept it, but to the disappointment and regret of the committee the condition of public affairs was such that he was unable to come to Springfield and take part in the Centennial celebration.

At the invitation of Governor Lowden, the State officers, the Justices of the Supreme Court, the Legislative Committee and the Centennial Commission met at the Executive Mansion at 11:00 o'clock, December 3, 1917, to discuss plans for the official Centennial observance.

Governor Lowden was elected chairman of this Joint Committee and Jessie Palmer Weber secretary. The plans for the observance as formulated by the Centennial Commission were submitted and were approved. A special committee on invitations to invite speakers for the various observances and to plan the form of the cards of invitations and other like matters was appointed by Governor Lowden. This committee consisted of one member from each division of the State represented at the meeting. These members were Chief Justice Orrin N. Carter of the Supreme Court, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis G. Blair, State Senator Adam C. Cliffe, Representative John S. Burns, Mr. George Pasfield, Jr., of the Centennial Commission.

IMPORTANT ANNIVERSARIES IN THE CENTENNIAL YEAR.

An historical writer has said that individuals have birthdays, states have birthyears and this is particularly true in the case of Illinois for the successive steps in the progress of the Territory of Illinois in seeking admission as a State of the Union extended throughout the year 1818, from the 16th of January, the date upon which the Territorial Delegate in Congress, Nathaniel Pope, introduced the bill asking admission until the 3d of December, when the President approved the Act of Congress which declared Illinois a sovereign state. There were several necessary and important official steps taken between these two dates. It was decided that the most significant of these anniversaries were:

The passage of the Enabling Act, April 18, 1818;

The promulgation of the Constitution, August 26, 1818;

The organization of the State government by the meeting of the First General Assembly October 5, 1818, and the inauguration of the First Governor, Shadrach Bond, on October 6, 1818, and the formal admission of the State, December 3, 1818.

Accordingly, these anniversaries and December 3, 1917, the 99th anniversary of the admission of the State, the real beginning of the Centennial year; the birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln, February 12, 1918; and our Independence Day, July 4, which in 1918 was the 140th anniversary of George Rogers Clark's capture of Kaskaskia, and the Illinois country were observed by official observances under the auspices of the Commission.

It was also decided that there should be official celebrations held at the three towns which have been capital cities of Illinois, Kaskaskia, Vandalia and Springfield.

The Fourth of July was appropriately chosen as the date for the Kaskaskia observance.

September 25th was selected by the citizens of Vandalia and Fayette County for the Vandalia observance, and the other official celebrations were held in Springfield.

LOCAL AND COUNTY CENTENNIAL ASSOCIATIONS.

The Commission decided that the best way to reach the people of the State was through some form of county organization and accordingly a letter was sent to certain officials in each county asking them to call a meeting of the people at the county seat for the purpose of forming County Centennial Associations. These officials were the county judge, state's attorney, county clerk, chairman of the board of supervisors or county commissioners as the case might be, and the county superintendent of schools. This was done not with the idea that these officials would necessarily be the officers of the association but for the purpose of beginning the work through official channels.

A pamphlet containing suggestions for county and local celebrations was immediately sent out.

The matter of local celebrations was the work of the Committee on State-wide Celebration, and after the appointment of the director in August, 1917, organizing these associations and assisting them by correspondence, visits and addresses was a large part of his work.

On August 1, 1917, Mr. Hugh S. Magill, Jr., was appointed by the Commission, Director of the Centennial Celebration. Mr. Magill was a member of the State Senate when the Centennial Commission was organized in 1913, and was one of the members of that body appointed on the Commission. He was active in the work of formulating its plans, and on the death of the chairman, Senator Campbell S. Hearn, he was appointed chairman of the Commission, which position he occupied until his retirement from the Senate. In 1916, Mr. Magill was again appointed a member of the Commission and he gave much thought to its preliminary work. Mr. Magill resigned from the Commission to take the position of Director of the Centennial celebration. An office room for him was at once fitted up in the State House, and the necessary assistants were employed.

Mr. Halbert O. Crews of Springfield, was appointed manager of publicity; Mr. Wallace Rice of Chicago, was selected as official pageant writer, and the poems, masques, pageants and plays written by him became one of the most interesting and valuable features of the Centennial observance.

Mr. H. H. Bancroft of Jacksonville was appointed assistant director. These gentlemen did valuable work in carrying out the plans of the Commission, and in every way rendered efficient service. Director Magill has made a report of his activities during his term of office, as has also Manager of Publicity, Halbert O. Crews.

Throughout the Centennial year it has been the purpose of the Commission to show the importance and greatness of Illinois in relation to the nation, and through the nation to the world. No one questions the fact, that America was essential to the winning of the great war for human freedom. History justifies the statement that Illinois contributed during the past century men whose leadership was essential to the preservation of the American Union. May we not then, as citizens of Illinois, feel a solemn pride in the historic fact that Illinois has contributed, through the inspiration and leadership of Abraham Lincoln and her other great souls, to the highest welfare of all mankind?

Thus Illinois closes the first century of her history. Those upon whom was placed the responsibility of conducting a suitable observance of her centennial year lay down their work with the hope that an appreciation of the past century may inspire the people of Illinois to enter the new century with a high resolve that the future of our State shall be worthy of those whose noble lives have illumined her past.

At the close of the centennial year as the Commission looks back over the five years of its organization, years that have been so momentous in the history of Illinois and of the world, so filled with great events that were unforeseen by any one, its members feel some satisfaction that in spite of very great obstacles it has succeeded in accomplishing the greater part of what it had planned in the beginning.

In the various official observances of its centenary, Illinois has been honored by the presence of her United States Senators, L. Y. Sherman and J. Hamilton Lewis and of several of her members of Congress. A member of the Cabinet of the President of the United States has been her guest. Orators have come to take part in paying tribute to Illinois and her contributions to the world, from England, from France, from Ireland and from Canada, New York, Connecticut, Ohio and Indiana have sent representatives and all of these statesmen, orators and historians have told in glowing terms of what Illinois has achieved, what her material contributions have been in coal and wheat and corn, in beef and pork and in manufactured products, and above all her gifts of men and women. Men and women who toiled, sacrificed and achieved for humanity, from the pioneers who laid broad and deep the foundations of our commonwealth, and perhaps builded better than they knew.

Coles and Birkbeck, and the others who drove out the dark specter of slave holding from the Prairie State, the founders of the schools, the priests, the pioneer preachers, the circuit rider and the exhorter, the Indian fighters and the builders of roads and the diggers of canals, the soldiers of our wars, from the humblest drummer boy to the great generals and the chief magistrate, the greatest and noblest of them all who sacrificed even life itself, "that government of the people, by the people, for the people should not perish from the earth," Abraham Lincoln, the greatest exponent of world democracy that the world has ever known, and so Illinois of today is offering men.

Every gallant young man of Illinois who has gone out and offered his life for the same democracy for which the heroes of the Revolutionary War fought, and our fathers of the war for the Union died, each one of these is an immortal, and undying gift, which breathes the spirit of Illinois, the spirit of the 260,000 men that Illinois gave to preserve the Union and is piled up in the imperishable multitude of nearly 300,000 sons of Illinois who fought for a world wide democracy as our second century begins.

THE CENTENNIAL HISTORY.

An important work of the Centennial Commission is the preparation and publication of the Centennial Memorial History of the State. The work of compiling and writing this history has been done by a corps of trained, scientific historians under the general editorial supervision of Prof. C. W. Alvord, and is on a scale never before attempted by any state of the Union. It will be published in six volumes and will be placed free of charge in the public libraries of the State and sold to the individual at a low cost. The first or preliminary volume entitled "Illinois in 1818," by Solon J. Buck has been published and distributed. The series is called "The Centennial Memorial History of Illinois," and will be a valuable and enduring feature of the Centennial observance.

The titles of the volumes of the series are:

I. Province and Territory, 1673-1818.

II. The Frontier State, 1818-1848.

III. The Era of Transition, 1848-1878.

IV. The Industrial State, 1870-1893.

V. The Modern Commonwealth, 1893-1918.

The entire series is now in the hands of the printer. Volumes II and III have been distributed and the others will follow in rapid succession.

The Fiftieth General Assembly made an appropriation to begin the erection of a Centennial Memorial Building, on the beautiful plot of ground south of the State Capitol Building and in the law making the appropriation stipulated that the laying of the cornerstone of the building be a part of the exercises of the Centennial celebration. The building will cost when completed about eight hundred thousand dollars. The growth of the State's business has been so great that the Capitol Building is badly crowded and room is needed for the proper housing and care of many departments. It is expected that the Centennial Memorial Building will be beautiful and satisfying architecturally and artistically and will provide ample quarters for the State Department of Education, State Library, State Historical Library and Society, a worthy Lincoln Memorial Hall, a safe depository for valuable records and house many other departments and boards. It will be an enduring monument of the completion of our first century of Statehood, one upon which the people of the State can look with pride, for generations to come. The cornerstone of the present State Capitol was laid October 5, 1868, and thus when on October 6, 1918, we laid the cornerstone of our Centennial Memorial Building, we celebrated the semi-centennial anniversary of the present Capitol Building.

THE CENTENNIAL MEMORIAL BUILDING.

The Centennial Commission was organized in 1913, before the organization of the State Departments of the Administrative Code, but before this time efforts were being made to secure a new Historical or Educational Building in order to relieve the crowded condition of the State House.

It was hoped that such a building might be erected as a memorial of the Centenary of Abraham Lincoln in 1909. The people of the city of Springfield in 1916, as required by an Act of the General Assembly in relation to the Centennial Memorial Building, raised $100,000, to aid in purchasing land to be used as a site for a Centennial Memorial Building.

Celebrations and demonstrations are an important and essential part of the Centennial observance, but the Commission felt that the Centennial Memorial Building would be after all the permanent, the enduring evidence that the people of Illinois had observed the rounding out of their first Century of Statehood, if they erect a stately and beautiful temple in which to preserve the history and memorials of those who had built the fabric of the State.

The Centennial Commission was very glad to use such influence as it might have in advancing the plans for this inspiring and permanent memorial of the Centenary of the State. A brief account of the successive steps in the progress toward the building of the Centennial Memorial Building may be of interest.

An Educational Building Commission was created by the Forty-seventh General Assembly, 1911. Members of this Commission were named in the Act to be, the Governor, Secretary of State, Superintendent of Public Instruction, President of the Board of Trustees of the State Historical Library, President of the State Historical Society, Auditor of Public Accounts and Department Commander of the State G. A. R.

The duty of this Commission was to consider plans for an Educational Building and to recommend a proper site for it. The Act carried an appropriation of $5,000 for the purposes mentioned.

This Commission secured the service of Mr. W. S. Leland, a noted archivist. Mr. Leland visited Springfield and studied the needs of the various departments and made a report to the Commission which it submitted to the Forty-eighth General Assembly, with some recommendations and tentative plans by Mr. W. Corbys Zimmerman, then State Architect.

The next General Assembly (The 48th) continued this Commission and appropriated $10,000 for its use.

The outgrowth of the work of this Commission was the creation of the Centennial Building Commission by the Forty-ninth General Assembly. The Governor, Secretary of State, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Chairman of the State Art Commission, President of the State Historical Society and President of the Board of Trustees of the State Historical Library and two persons appointed by the Governor made up the Commission.

The Act creating this Commission, designated the ground to be used for the site, and stipulated that the citizens of Springfield or someone in their behalf contribute $100,000 toward the purchase of the designated tract of ground.

This the citizens of Springfield did. The Act carried an appropriation of $125,000.

The Fiftieth General Assembly appropriated to the Department of Public Works and Buildings, $100,000 to prepare plans and specifications for the Centennial Memorial Building and created an advisory Centennial Building Commission consisting of the Director of Public Works and Buildings and the Governor, President of the State Senate, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Secretary of State and three members to be appointed by the Governor whose duty it shall be to determine the exact location of the building on the grounds, select and approve the plans and specifications for the building and have supervision over its construction. The Act stated that the building will cost $800,000, and appropriated $125,000, for expenses of plans and specifications.

Plans for the building are underway and contemplate a beautiful and practical structure, worthy of the Centennial anniversary and of the people of Illinois. The Centennial history and the Centennial Memorial Building are to be the enduring monuments erected by the people of Illinois in commemoration of their first century of Statehood.

THE CENTENNIAL HALF DOLLAR.

Congressman Loren E. Wheeler of the Twenty-first District introduced the bill in Congress, providing for the coinage of a special coin in commemoration of the Centennial of the admission of Illinois into the Union. After the passage of the bill by Congress authorizing the coinage of one hundred thousand half dollars to commemorate the hundredth anniversary of the admission of Illinois into the Union, every effort was made to expedite the distribution of the coins among the people of the State as souvenirs of the Centennial year.

One hundred thousand fifty-cent pieces with a special design commemorative of the Illinois Centennial were issued. The design was determined upon by the Director of the Mint and the Secretary of the Treasury, but was suggested by the Centennial Commission. As a result of a conference with the Superintendent and Chief Engraver of the United States Mint, it was agreed that the coin should have the head of Lincoln on the obverse side and the seal of Illinois on the reverse side, with the inscription, "Centennial of the State of Illinois, 1818-1918." The Chief Engraver of the Mint prepared the models from which the dies were made.

The coins were distributed during the Centennial year to county or Centennial associations at par value. These associations disposed of the fifty-cent pieces for one dollar each, the proceeds of the sale being used for the local Centennial celebration.

Respectfully submitted,

JESSIE PALMER WEBER, Secretary.

The foregoing message from the Governor was received and ordered placed on file.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Tice, from the special committee appointed under the provisions of Senate Joint Resolution No. 30, submitted the following report, and moved its adoption:

To the Honorable President and Members of the Senate and to the Honorable Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives of the State of Illinois:

Your committee, created by virtue of Senate Joint Resolution No. 30, to investigate the truth or falsity of certain charges in connection with the increasing of the assessment of the Pullman Company by the Board of Equalization, would respectfully report that the said committee convened on the 8th day of May, 1919, and proceeded to organize by the selection of Senator Barr as chairman, and Representative Tice as secretary of said committee. Your committee met for the purpose of hearing evidence on the 19th, 20th, and 21st days of May, and on the 12th day of June, 1919. That C. Fred Mortimer appeared at said hearings as counsel for your committee; that Frank H. Scott and John E. MacLeish appeared thereat as counsel for Omar H. Wright; that Willard M. McEwen, Adelor J. Petit, and William Reeda, appeared thereat as counsel for the State Board of Equalization and William H. Malone.

The evidence introduced showed, that the first public utterances with relation to the subject matter of said resolution appeared in the Chicago Evening Journal under date of February 13, 1919 in an article with the heading "Lowden Goes to the Front for Pullman Company;" that thereafter and on February 14th, 1919, the same paper published an article with the heading "Lowden Sends Wright to Fix Pullman Tax;" that thereafter and on February 15th, 1919, the said paper published a further article, with the heading "Lowden Aides Threaten on Pullman Tax." It was in substance charged in said articles that Governor Frank O. Lowden sought to influence or coerce the State Board of Equalization not to increase the capital stock assessment of the Pullman Palace Car Company, and threatened to abolish the board if such increase were made. It was also charged in said articles that Omar H. Wright, Director of Finance of the State of Illinois, acting for and on behalf of Governor Lowden, appeared before the Board of Equalization, and at different times approached members of that board in an endeavor to influence the board by threats and intimidation not to increase the capital stock assessment of the Pullman Palace Car Company. The articles in question asserted, that Wright and other representatives of the Governor had threatened that if the Pullman Palace Car Company assessment was increased, the board would be abolished.

The evidence showed, that the newspaper in question obtained its information for the publication of said articles from William H. Malone, a member of the State Board of Equalization, and from Henry L. Bluim, an attorney at law, and employed as a clerk and efficiency expert for the said board. The evidence also disclosed, that no member of the Board of Equalization was interviewed by the Chicago Evening Journal with regard to the subject matter of the said articles except Malone, but on the contrary the evidence is conclusive that Malone and Bluim furnished all the information to the newspaper for the articles in question.

The evidence further showed, that the managing editor of the Chicago Evening Journal relied upon the information so furnished him and apparently believed the same to be true. In the course of events and during the period of these publications, the managing editor of the said newspaper called upon Malone for affidavits to sustain and support the position which the Chicago Journal had taken with relation to the Pullman assessment and the matters alleged concerning it. In compliance with the request and demand so made, Malone instructed Attorney Bluim to prepare affidavits to the effect that the statements made in said articles were true. These affidavits were sent by Malone to Mr. Edward Hilker at Madison, Illinois; to Mr. Hez G. Henry at Camp Point, Illinois, and to Leonard Withall at Chicago, Illinois, the latter making the affidavit in Bluim's office in Chicago, which said affidavits when signed, were in due course delivered to Malone. Withall, a member of the board, and the maker of one of the affidavits, had his attention called to each of the specific charges contained in said articles against Omar H. Wright, and denied knowledge of any of the facts stated therein. He did testify that on one occasion Wright at the Leland Hotel, and in the presence of Hilker, told him that if the State Board of Equalization raised the Pullman assessment, it would be the last meeting of the board. It is significant that no such charge appeared in either of the newspaper articles, and that Hilker, who, according to the testimony of Withall, was present when the original statement was made, denied any knowledge of it. Withall's evidence as to the said alleged conversation stands wholly uncorroborated and Omar H. Wright testified that no such conversation ever occurred.

All other members of the Capital Stock Committee of the Board of Equalization, including Mr. Hilker and Mr. Henry, the makers of two of the said affidavits, testified that at no time did Governor Lowden, Omar H. Wright, the Director of Finance, or any person representing them, or purporting to represent them, ever mention to them or in their hearing, the Pullman assessment, or make any threats with relation to the abolition of the Board of Equalization. The evidence also showed that Mr. Bunn, President of the State Bank at Springfield, Chairman of the Capital Stock Committee, and Mr. Wright, were close friends of long years' standing through banking relations; that they frequently saw each other in Springfield and that at no time was any intimation ever made to Mr. Bunn by Wright of any kind or character, concerning the Pullman assessment, or the abolition of the board. Mr. Henry's evidence showed, that he had known Mr. Wright more or less intimately through bank relations for a number of years, and that Mr. Wright had never mentioned the subject to him at any time or place. Withall had no acquaintance of any kind with Mr. Wright, except a possible formal introduction sometime after he became a member of the board in 1917. In addition thereto Malone testified that neither Governor Lowden nor Omar H. Wright had ever at any time or place, mentioned the Pullman assessment, or the subject of the abolition of the board to him, or in his presence.

There was also called to the attention of your committee the statements made by William H. Malone on May 6th, 1919, before the Joint Committee on Revenue, to the effect that he had three affidavits of the members of the State Board of Equalization sustaining the charges made in the said articles in the Chicago Evening Journal; and that Omar H. Wright had stated to him that if the Pullman assessment was increased, the State Board of Equalization would be abolished. As shown, Malone upon the stand swore, that he had never been approached by Wright or any one else in reference to the raise of the Pullman assessment.

The evidence further showed, that in the summer of 1916 when Malone was a tentative candidate for a member of the Board of Equalization, he at first declined to be a candidate for the reason that he had an understanding and some information, that the Board of Equalization would be abolished during the administration of Governor Lowden, if Lowden was elected, and that he did not want to have the supposed stigma or disgrace of being a member of a board that was so ousted.

It is the clear impression and practically a direct charge in the newspaper articles referred to, that Governor Lowden urged that the State Board of Equalization be abolished because of its attitude toward the assessment of the stock of the Pullman Palace Car Company, and that in so doing he changed his attitude as to the desirability of such legislation. It clearly appeared from the evidence and without contradiction, that from the time of his election, Governor Lowden favored the abolition of the Board of Equalization, and the appointment of a tax commission, and that his position upon that question was generally understood.

The evidence showed, that in December, 1916, soon after Governor Lowden's election, that he, Governor Lowden, at a conference with the late William H. Stead, and Charles E. Woodward, at which the subject of the abolition of the Board of Equalization by proper legislation, and the creation of some form of tax commission was fully discussed, urged at that time that this program should become a part of his proposed civil code plan. That finally Mr. Woodward advised the Governor that in his opinion it was not feasible to include the abolition of the board, and the creation of a tax commission in the civil code program, for the reason that the civil code program included the abolition of commissions of an appointive character, and the centralization of their functions in separate departments, and that the Board of Equalization was an elective body, and the revenue laws would of necessity have to be amended and revised, and for these reasons the plan was not then feasible.

The evidence further showed, that the subject of the abolition of the Board of Equalization and the creation of a tax commission, was more or less frequently discussed between the late Mr. Stead, Mr. Woodward, and Governor Lowden; that finally in July, 1918, Governor Lowden instructed Mr. Woodward to prepare bills to include the abolition of the Board of Equalization, and the creation of a tax commission; that thereafter and about September 1st, 1918, prior to any action of the Board of Equalization in 1918, Mr. Woodward submitted to Governor Lowden the bills he had prepared to that end. That Governor Lowden had in mind after his election as Governor, and even before his inauguration, the plan of recommending the abolishing of the Board of Equalization, was conclusively shown by the evidence.

The evidence further conclusively showed, that Governor Lowden personally owns no stock in the Pullman Company, and that all of the stock of said company owned by Mrs. Lowden and all other members of the Pullman family, aggregate less than 4 1/6 per centum of the capital stock of that company; that the only official connection the Governor ever had with the Pullman Company was that of a director; that he never served upon the executive committee, and that he resigned the directorship when he became Governor.

The evidence further conclusively showed, that neither Mr. Wright nor Governor Lowden had any knowledge of the contemplated increase of the Pullman assessment, or that the Pullman assessment was under consideration by the board, until the fact of the increase of such assessment was published in the Chicago newspapers; that the matter of such assessment was never discussed between the Governor and Omar H. Wright until after the final action of the board, and then the subject was casually mentioned between them after the publication of the board's report.

The evidence further showed conclusively, that neither Governor Lowden nor Omar H. Wright directly or indirectly, in any manner or way, attempted to influence the Board of Equalization with relation to the Pullman assessment, or made any threats or statements concerning the abolition of the board by reason of any such assessment. This is a brief synopsis of the evidence.

Your committee finds that all charges made in the said newspaper articles, in the affidavits referred to, and in the statement of William H. Malone, in reference to any act either on the part of the Governor, Omar H. Wright, or any other person intended to affect the action of the State Board of Equalization, in reference to the Pullman Palace Car Company assessment, are not founded upon facts and are untrue. Your committee therefore is of the opinion, and reaches the conclusions:

First—That neither Governor Lowden nor Omar H. Wright, Director of Finance, or any one acting for them in any manner, at any time, endeavored to influence any member of the State Board of Equalization with reference to the Pullman assessment or any other assessment.

Second—That the articles referred to appearing in the Chicago Evening Journal in so far as they indicate any effort on the part of the Governor or any person acting on his behalf to interfere with the action of the Board of Equalization, or in any way to intimidate, influence, or coerce said board, were without any foundation in fact.

Third—That the charges in said newspaper articles, that the attitude of the Governor with regard to the abolishing of the State Board of Equalization was in any way affected by the action of the State Board of Equalization in reference to the assessment of the Pullman Palace Car Company, were untrue and without any foundation in fact.

Fourth—That Omar H. Wright not only did not in any manner approach the State Board of Equalization nor any of its members in connection with the matters in question, but that he did not concern himself in any way in that connection, and that he had no knowledge that such action was contemplated until after it had actually occurred.

Fifth—That a grievous wrong was committed by the parties who made and circulated the stories in the matters herein above recited and their conduct in making and in circulating the said charges, should be condemned.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, ILL., May 7, 1919.

Gentlemen of the Fifty-first General Assembly:

The statement was made before the Joint Committee on Revenue of the General Assembly yesterday afternoon that there were three affidavits in existence showing that members of the State Board of Equalization had been approached by some one and told that if the Pullman Company assessment was increased, that board would be abolished. If these supposed facts be true, and if representatives of the Pullman Company or of any other corporation have employed this method or other improper methods to influence the assessment of property, they should be uncovered and punished. If the innuendo contained in the statement made before the Joint Committee, that I was in some way a party to this transaction or was even cognizant of it, be true, I am unworthy of the office I hold. If the charge made or implied in the above statement before the Joint Committee be not sustained, that is another and potent reason why the State Board of Equalization should be abolished. In any event, there should be a full investigation of all the facts. I never even heard of the Pullman Company assessment until after it had been made and was reported in the public press. I had never had a word with reference to that assessment with any representative of the Pullman Company, nor with any member of the State Board of Equalization, nor with any person whomsoever upon the subject. I have never appeared before the State Board of Equalization in my life, nor before any member thereof, upon any matter whatsoever connected with taxation. If any one on behalf of the Pullman Company or any other corporation has ever represented to the State Board of Equalization, or to any member thereof, that my attitude toward the abolition of the board would be affected in any way by any assessment that the board might make, I am as anxious as anyone can be that the identity of such person or persons be disclosed, so that proper punishment can be meted out to him or them.

Illinois was a pioneer in the study of taxing machinery. An able commission, of which Milton Hay was chairman, was appointed by Governor Oglesby, and as early as 1886 recommended the abolition of the State Board of Equalization and the substitution of a small commission appointed by the Governor. Later, another able commission, of which John P. Wilson of Chicago was chairman, was appointed by Governor Deneen and followed the recommendation of the Oglesby Commission. The Efficiency and Economy Committee, created on the recommendation of Governor Dunne, who strongly recommended the abolition of the Board of Equalization, later reached substantially the same conclusion. Three separate commissions have recommended the abolition of the board and none its retention. For more than thirty years there have been repeated efforts made to get rid of this body usually characterized as "useless or worse." In the meantime, every State in the Union which had a large Board of Equalization followed Illinois' early recommendation and abolished its board. The Illinois board, however, has managed to survive every effort made to get rid of it. And now, feeling itself finally in danger, it has resorted to this new and desperate method to escape destruction.

Early in my administration I announced that I favored a tax commission as against the Board of Equalization. I have been warned more than once that if I should attempt this, means would be found by the board to thwart me. I have felt it my duty to go on with the fight. I believe that a public servant who will be driven from the plain path of duty by threats is hardly less despicable than he who yields to a bribe.

I therefore recommend the appointment of a joint committee of the House and Senate with power to subpoena witnesses and administer oaths, and to make a thorough investigation into the methods and practices of the State Board of Equalization, and particularly to inquire as to what persons, if any, have sought to influence the board or any member thereof in the making of assessments, by any improper means whatsoever.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 30.

WHEREAS, Certain statements were made on May 6, 1919, before Joint Revenue Committee of the General Assembly that there were three affidavits in existence showing that members of the State Board of Equalization had been approached by someone and told that if the Pullman Company assessment was increased the board would be abolished; and

WHEREAS, Further, such charges are of such a grave import and nature, that the truth or falsity of such charges should be ascertained; be it therefore

Resolved, by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein, That a joint committee of ten, five members of the Senate to be appointed by the President of the Senate, and five members of the House to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, be appointed to investigate the truth or falsity of such charges, and to investigate any and all matters pertaining to any improper influences being brought to bear upon the State Board of Equalization, or its members, and to investigate the methods of said Board of Equalization;

Resolved, further, That such Joint Committee shall have full power to issue subpoenas for persons and to bring before said committee by subpoenas duces tecum all books, papers, documents and memoranda in the hands of any person or persons, corporations or public officials, bearing upon the subject of inquiry. Such committee, through its chairman, shall have power to administer oaths to such witnesses as may be required to appear before said committee;

Resolved, further, That all expenses of such committee shall be paid out of the Contingent Expense Fund of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Adopted May 7, 1919.

Mr. Shurtleff moved that the House concur with the Senate in the adoption of the foregoing Senate Joint Resolution and the motion prevailed.

The report of the committee was unanimously adopted, with the exception of Mr. Mitchell, who desired to be recorded in the negative.

It is a source of regret that it is impossible for me to sign the majority report of the committee brought into being by the Senate Joint Resolution No. 30.

Said resolution was introduced as a result of the message of the Governor addressed to the General Assembly on the 7th day of May, 1919. In that message the Governor said "The statement was made before the Joint Committee on Revenue of the General Assembly yesterday afternoon that there were three affidavits in existence showing that members of the State Board of Equalization had been approached by some one and told that if the Pullman Company assessment was increased, that board would be abolished. If these supposed facts be true, and if representatives of the Pullman Company or of any other corporation have employed this method or other improper methods to influence the assessment of property, they should be uncovered and punished. If the innuendo contained in the statement made before the Joint Committee, that I was in some way a party to this transaction or was even cognizant of it, be true, I am unworthy of the office I hold. If the charge made or implied in the above statement before the Joint Committee be not sustained, that is another and potent reason why the State Board of Equalization should be abolished. In any event, there should be a full investigation of the facts. I never even heard of the Pullman Company assessment until after it had been made and was reported in the public press. I had never had a word with reference to that assessment with any representative of the Pullman Company, nor with any member of the State Board of Equalization, nor with any person whomsoever upon the subject. I have never appeared before the State Board of Equalization in my life, nor before any member thereof, upon any matter whatsoever connected with taxation. If any one on behalf of the Pullman Company or any other corporation has ever represented to the State Board of Equalization, or to any member thereof, that my attitude toward the abolition of the board would be affected in any way by any assessment that the board might make, I am as anxious as anyone can be that the identity of such person or person be disclosed, so that proper punishment can be meted out to him or them."

And again in the course of his message the Governor says: "I therefore recommend that appointment of a Joint Committee of the House and Senate with power to subpoena witnesses and administer oaths, and to make a thorough investigation into the methods and practices of the State Board of Equalization, and particularly to inquire as to what persons, if any, have sought to influence the board or any member thereof, in the making of assessments, by any improper means whatsoever."

In pursuance to the message of the Governor, Senator Dailey on the 7th day of May offered Senate Joint Resolution No. 30, which resolution was forthwith adopted by both Houses of the General Assembly and in the preamble of which resolution will be found the following: "Whereas, certain statements were made on May 6, 1919, before Joint Revenue Committee of the General Assembly that there were three affidavits in existence showing that members of the State Board of Equalization had been approached by someone and told that if the Pullman Company assessment was increased the board would be abolished." The resolution called for the appointment of a Joint Committee of ten consisting of five members from the Senate and five members from the House "to investigate the truth or falsity of such charges, and to investigate any and all matters pertaining to any improper influences being brought to bear upon the State Board of Equalization, or its members, and to investigate the methods of said Board of Equalization."

The sending of the message of the Governor to the General Assembly was caused by certain statements made by one Wm. H. Malone, a member of the Board of Equalization who appeared before the joint session of the Revenue Committee of the House and Senate and who in the course of his remarks, stated: "The Pullman Company was mentioned; I am sorry it was mentioned. I have a high regard for our Governor. He is a Republican and I helped to elect him but I do say if you want to know about the Pullman assessment, we have three sworn affidavits of members of the Board of Equalization, and they are reputable men, that they were approached and that they were told if the board increased the valuation of the Pullman Company that the board would be abolished."

It will be seen from the excerpts of the Governor's message that he directs attention to the statement of Mr. Malone above quoted.

The preamble of the resolution above cited calls attention to the three affidavits of which Mr. Malone had made mention and this resolution directed the Joint Committee when appointed 1. "to investigate the truth or falsity of such charges;" and 2. "to investigate any and all matters pertaining to any improper influences being brought to bear upon the State Board of Equalization or its members;" and 3, "to investigate the methods of the said Board of Equalization."

After the appointment of the committee which consisted of Homer J. Tice, Frank Vice, Jr., F. A. McCarthy, Jas. W. Ryan, and John W. Kasserman, members of the House, and Richard J. Barr, W. H. Cornwell, Wm. S. Jewell, Clarence F. Buck and the writer, members of the Senate, the committee organized, making Richard J. Barr, chairman, and Homer J. Tice, secretary. The committee deemed it advisable to select counsel and chose as its attorney, Hon. Fred C. Mortimer, State's attorney of Sangamon County. On motion duly passed the committee decided that it would in the first instance consider the matter of the affidavits in question. What further action would be taken would be due to later developments.

The committee is bound in the scope of its inquiry by the terms of the resolution and the whole question up to this time to be decided and determined by the committee is the truth or falsity of the statements made by Mr. Wm. H. Malone and also the statements made in the affidavits in question.

It will thus be seen that the Chicago Daily Journal or any other newspaper is not on trial in this instance. Attention should be called to the fact, however, that the majority report states that the Chicago Journal obtained its information from Wm. H. Malone, above mentioned, who was one of the most active members of the board, and that it relied upon the information so furnished it by said Malone. Under the provisions of the resolution, whatever was printed in the Chicago Daily Journal was not within the scope of inquiry of this committee.

The limited investigation of this committee does not justify any general findings concerning the various articles published in said newspaper.

In the majority report of the committee, attention has been called to the fact that the members of the committee on the assessment of capital stock of corporations testified that "at no time did Governor Lowden, Omar Wright, the Director of Finance, or any person representing them, or either of them, or purporting to represent them, or either of them, mention to the Board of Equalization or to any member or members of the board, anything concerning the assessment of the Pullman Company or make any threats with relation to the abolition of the Board of Equalization. Edward Hilker and Hez G. Henry, two of the members of the board, who made affidavits in question, also testified to about the same state of facts.

The majority report of the committee calls attention to the fact that Leonard G. Withall, another member of the Board of Equalization who made one of the three affidavits in question, did testify that on one occasion Director of Finance, Omar H. Wright, at the Leland Hotel, and in the presence of Mr. Hilker told him "that if the State Board of Equalization raised the Pullman assessment it would be the last meeting of the board." Said report also calls attention to the fact that Mr. Hilker, who according to the testimony of Withall was present when that statement was made, denied any knowledge of it.

Attention should have been further directed in this majority report that Mr. Withall, who made the statement, to which attention has been called above, did not, according to his own sworn statement repeat this statement of Mr. Wright to any member of the board, although the board was then in session, and did not repeat it until some weeks after the adjournment of the board.

The failure of Mr. Withall to make any comment on this alleged statement of Mr. Wright until sometime after the adjournment of the Board of Equalization casts grave doubt upon the statement having been made.

The evidence heard by the committee supports the statements of Governor Lowden in his message, that he did not hear of the assessment of the Pullman Company until after it had been made and was reported in the public press; that he had never had a word with reference to that assessment with any representative of the Pullman Company, nor with any member of the Board of Equalization, nor with any person whomsoever upon that subject; that he had never appeared before the Board of Equalization in his life, nor before any member thereof upon any matter whatever connected with taxation; that no one on his behalf so far as the Pullman Company was concerned, or any other corporation, has ever represented to the Board of Equalization, or to any member thereof, that the attitude of Governor Lowden toward the abolition of the board would be affected in any way by any assessment that the board might make.

The writer of this statement concurs in the findings of the majority of the committee, with respect to Governor Lowden and Mr. Omar H. Wright, and agrees fully as to the flagrant impropriety of Mr. Malone's conduct and charges, but the scope of the investigation does not authorize findings as to the Chicago Daily Journal. If this newspaper were within the scope of the investigation such an investigation should have paid some attention to the question as to whether it actually had sufficient evidence to justify it as a public organ in criticising the action of public officers.

This bill, having received the votes of a constitutional majority of the members elected, was declared passed.

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid, and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following preamble and joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 41.

WHEREAS, The use of the improved highways of the State by heavy motor trucks necessitates the building of roads with materials of great strength and endurance to sustain such traffic with consequent greatly increased expense; and

WHEREAS, It is understood that commercial transportation companies are already organized, or in process of being organized for the purpose of transporting express and freight for hire over such highways as soon as built; and

WHEREAS, The use by such common carriers of the improved highways built by the people should be regulated and charged for but as no adequate data are available upon which to base equitable legislation; therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Senate of the Fifty-first General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring therein, That the whole subject of charges to be made for the use of the improved highways of the State by commercial truck companies operating for hire be referred to the Department of Public Works and Buildings for investigation and that all data collected, together with findings and recommendations of the department be reported to the Fifty-second General Assembly; and, be it further

Resolved, That we recommend to the Department of Public Works and Buildings the careful and impartial investigation of all road materials which give promise of results and the prompt and complete testing of same, when presented for consideration, with a view to determining by means of practicable experiment the relative value and resistance of various types of such road materials, and their costs for the purpose of determining and securing the best types at the least expense to the people of the State.

Adopted June 19, 1919.

J. H. PADDOCK, Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. Meents moved that the House concur with the Senate in the adoption of the foregoing resolution.

And the motion prevailed.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Harry Wilson, from the Committee to Visit Educational Institutions, submitted the following report, which was received and ordered placed on file:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO VISIT EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS.

To the Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives:

Your committee, complemented at times by able substitutes, visited the five normal schools of the State and from the necessarily superficial inspection thereof, has the following to report:

The visits were compelled to be made at various intervals rather than in one continuous trip. Hence the expense was a little greater than it would have been had the conditions been otherwise.

CARBONDALE.

The Normal School at Carbondale was visited in March. This institution, under the able management of President Shryock, is in a flourishing condition in all the educational departments, as far as the committee could ascertain. But as the committee's time was inadequate to go into the educational work, the physical conditions of the institution were inspected. The buildings and grounds were found to be in excellent condition except the ornaments of the Science Building. Little stone towers stand upon this building and one fell through the roof to the bottom floor over which a class had passed a few minutes before. When the wind blows strongly enough, the other towers can be seen to move slightly. But an item in the appropriation will supply funds to remove these towers before they fall.

What is known as Normal Hall (the old assembly hall) can be utilized if it were partitioned into rooms and these rooms used for class recitations.

The girls' dormitory is greatly in need of an annex for a dining room. The present room in this building is insufficient. Doubtless an appropriation for this purpose will be asked for at the next session of the Legislature.

There is only one gymnasium and it is crowded all day long by both boys and girls who come at stated periods. The floor space is small. Should this institution get an appropriation for a new gymnasium, a swimming pool could be installed and one could be used by the boys and the other by the girls.

NORMAL.

In April the committee visited the institution at Normal under the presidency of Dr. Felmley. This is the oldest institution of its kind in the State and naturally some of the buildings are constantly in need of repair. It is a perplexing problem to confine modern ideas and improvements in education to antiquated buildings. It is like putting new wine in old bottles.

Dr. Felmley has one of the most modern institutions intellectually to be found in the State. The latest ideas in education, if practicable, are given a thorough trial in the school and the students who graduate are sought after eagerly, by school boards and superintendents in this and surrounding states.

There is need of a new science hall. In fact there is no such building at present. The science work is distributed among three buildings wherever a room is found available. Thus a new building would not only give advantage of having all work in science consolidated but this would free several rooms for other purposes; and, as at Carbondale, there is need of a new gymnasium for the men.

The appropriation for repairs for the present biennium was small, consequently no extensive repairs have been made on the buildings during the past two years.

Representatives of the State Architect's office have made a survey of the various buildings and have recommended extensive repairs, describing some as "urgent," some as "necessary," others as "desirable." The appropriation made by the budget committee is sufficient to take care of the urgent repairs and a part of the "necessary" repairs.

A general utility man who serves as carpenter, locksmith, painter, glazier, plumber, and electrician, is kept constantly employed repairing the buildings and apparatus and in making such simple furniture or cabinets as may be needed.

The outside woodwork upon all our buildings, except the new dormitory, needs painting.

The State Fire Marshal has urged the erection of fire escapes, as provided by the statutes. These have not been erected because no appropriation has been made for this purpose. Since all but two of the buildings are fire proof, since all but one are used only in the day time or early evening, and since all are provided with at least two stairways, and since the buildings are heated by a separate heating plant, the managing officers have considered the danger to human life from a possible fire as practically zero.

The Main Building completed in 1861, built of brick, with wooden joists, slate and metal roof, is in good condition for a building of its age. It is the oldest building of the kind in the United States. The two large porches need new floors and new roofs. New metal coverings are needed for second story window caps. A new tile floor is needed in the main corridor. Much of the basement plastering has fallen within the past few years and should be replaced. The paper baler should be provided with a fire-proof housing to contain it and the baled paper.

The Library Building was erected in 1892 as a training-school building. It was converted to its present use in 1914. It serves its new purpose well. New floors are needed in the rooms on the first floor. The old pine floors have seen twenty-seven years of use. Some roof repairs, including new chimney caps, and the pointing of brick work are needed. Some minor repairs in the heating system should be made.

The Gymnasium was erected in 1896. This building houses the gymnasium on the first floor, the commercial department on the second floor, the biology department on the third. The stone work of the battlements needs repointing.

The Manual Arts Building, erected in 1907, is a brick building with the slate roof, but the roof is too flat and has leaked badly. In the opinion of the State Architect the slate should be removed and a composition roof put on instead. The school auditorium is in this building. Owing to leaks in the roof the walls are stained and disfigured and should be redecorated at once.

The Thomas Metcalf Building, erected in 1913, is the best building on the campus and is in good condition throughout excepting the concrete floor in the sub-basement, which should be replaced.

Fell Hall or woman's dormitory, erected in 1917-18, has been used for nearly a year and houses eighty-three young women. It has boarding accommodations for twice that number. The rooms are well furnished. Because of the reduction of the appropriation and the high cost of building materials when the building was erected it was found impossible to carry out the original plan. The south wing, housing forty-four students, and the colonial portico over the main entrance should be erected as provided in the architect's plans. It is hoped that this construction will not be postponed beyond 1921.

The Heating Plant, erected in 1916, is a modern plant with two water-tube boilers of 365 horse power, automatic stokers, and Link-Belt coal conveyor machinery. There is room for the installation of two more boilers of equal capacity and for electric generators and engines whenever the State concludes to install this machinery. The State Engineer recommends:

1. That the brick work of the boilers be covered with an impervious cement to prevent air leakage into the boilers.

2. That apparatus be installed for weighing coal and measuring the water supplied to the boilers.

The boiler house, erected in 1889, now abandoned, should be torn down and the excavation filled and the earth leveled off, unless it is proposed to erect another building on the same site.

Out of the material of this wrecked boiler house should be built a tool house near the present heating plant, to house lawn machinery and garden tools used about the institution.

A greenhouse, erected in 1895, is in only fair condition. It is located near the old boiler house. It should be removed to a new site in the school garden just west of the new heating plant. In its present site it occupies part of the playground of the children attending the elementary training school and is in constant danger of damage from the boys.

Concrete sidewalks should be built from the main entrance of Fell Hall to the east entrance of the grounds, also from the boiler plant east to communicate with other walks.

The attendance at the school is reported to be gaining somewhat from the low point reached in the winter term. It is, however, less than fifty per cent of the attendance in April, 1917. The attendance in the high school and elementary school is at the usual figure.

The State Normal School Board is strongly of the opinion that the appropriations for salaries should be made in a lump sum. Because of changes in the personnel of the teaching staff and other employees frequent changes in salaries are desirable. When a mature and experienced employee resigns his successor is much younger and relatively inexperienced and should receive a smaller salary. At other times the board should be free to increase the salary of a teacher who is offered better compensation at some other institution, otherwise the strongest teachers are likely to be drawn away from the institution leaving, in time, a faculty of only mediocre abilities. Sometimes a change in the distribution of work may make it necessary to employ two instructors in the place of a high-priced professor. It is unwise at this time in the period of reconstruction to project any fixed salary schedule two years into the future.

DEKALB.

At DeKalb the committee found the buildings in the best of condition. They are all comparatively new and have been kept unblemished by Dr. Cook, the efficient, but retiring president of this institution. The grounds are most beautifully laid out and are kept in excellent condition. The appropriation this school will receive is ample for all its needs. Dr. Cook enjoys the distinction of having never been refused any request for appropriation by the Legislature; and he has been head of this institution since its beginning.

MACOMB.

At Macomb the committee was pleased with the appearance of the grounds and buildings and especially were the president and faculty attentive in showing them the various buildings and rooms therein. It was soon seen that there is a great need for appropriation for furnishing these rooms. This must be their care during the coming session of the Legislature.

It is being planned later to have a training school erected. This is the Laboratory that successful teachers must work in while at a Normal school. It is not enough to get the theory of teaching in the class work, but actual practice must be given prospective teachers; and this the new training school will give.

Yet it is feared that when this building is erected that the present heating plant will not be adequate to supply heat to all the buildings. This matter must be gone over carefully by engineers. Possibly a new heating plant will have to be constructed also.

There is a ten-acre tract between the campus and the highway that should be bought as soon as possible. It will be needed sometime and later its price may be exorbitant.

There is need of shrubs to set off the buildings and grounds especially where recent buildings have been erected. They look rather bare at present. It is estimated that $2,000 will be sufficient to do this properly. This amount will also provide for lights at night in what is called "the ravine." Girls have to pass through or near this and naturally it is dreaded by students because of the darkness.

In the dormitory there should be storm doors to lessen the effects of the cold winds. These also would reduce the amount of heat necessary to keep the building comfortable.

An appropriation should be in the next budget for a storage cellar for vegetables—it is advantageous to buy these in quantities. Yet when they are stored in the basement they do not keep long, as hot steam pipes run through this basement. A cellar near, but disconnected with this building would solve the question of the preservation of fruits and vegetables.

CHARLESTON.

In May the committee visited the Normal at Charleston. Possibly here the appearance of the campus and grounds surpasses that of any other Normals. But there is need of improvements on the buildings. The room used as an auditorium is not suitable for this purpose. The platform is small and has to be enlarged every time special exercises are held. This makes a poor appearance. It is contemplated that this auditorium could be made more suitable were one end of the room taken out and an addition built. Here, too, there is need of a new gymnasium and a swimming pool. The present gymnasium is probably smaller than that of any other like institution in the State, and, of course, it is crowded all day long with the various classes.

Various attempts have been made at other sessions of the Legislature to get a new greenhouse. The present one is entirely too small for effective results.

There is need of flexibility in the amount of salaries given members of the faculty. These salaries used to be sufficient but now students have graduated from this institution and gone into schools in this State with salaries greater or equal to those salaries of their instructors in the Normal. Thus it can be readily seen that substantial instructors may be lost to the institution since they can get much better salaries elsewhere because of their greater experience.

The committee is of the opinion that the best method to settle the troubled question of new buildings is to have the State Normal School Board in conjunction with the Department of Public Works lay out a definite building program for the five Normal Schools and lay the results of their decisions on new buildings before the Legislature from session to session. Thus buildings can be erected with system and according to the most urgent need.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 42.

WHEREAS, Late Thursday afternoon, June 19, 1919, while in active discharge of intensive journalistic duties incident to the closing hours of the Fifty-first General Assembly, Frank E. Armstrong, for many years the Legislative Correspondent and Political Editor of the Chicago Daily News, was suddenly stricken and expired upon the public street in the city of Springfield; and,

WHEREAS, This tragic event has brought profound sorrow and grief to hundreds of officials, public men and citizens generally, who were privileged to meet him frequently and claim him as a personal friend; and,

WHEREAS, Frank E. Armstrong was pre-eminent because of his grasp of public affairs and legislative and civic needs and his familiarity with officials in State, county and city administrations and exerted an unusually wholesome influence through the columns of his paper in aiding the public in exercising discrimination and judgment in electing men of character and ability to public office; and,

WHEREAS, By reason of his keenness and marked intellectual attainments, coupled with an unusual appreciation of the value of efficient and honest administration in State and civic affairs, he appreciated the need of greater and widening scope in social and industrial welfare legislation and an increasing non-partisan activity by Illinois citizens in all civic matters, and encouraged the enactment of legislation promotive thereof; he was increasingly effective; and,

WHEREAS, Mr. Armstrong was a man of clean personal life; kind and courteous to all, tender and devoted to his family, quick to give wide credit and encouragement to any and all who rendered true public service as the members of this Assembly can personally bear witness to, and at all times exemplified the value and influence of wholesome Christian living, and properly directed industry and endeavor; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring herein, That we express our admiration for Mr. Armstrong's achievements, in life, his high character and attainments, our personal respect, esteem and friendship for him, as well as our sympathy for his newspaper associates and superiors, and for his widow and children, to whom his loss brings the profoundest grief; and, be it further

Resolved, That this preamble and resolution be spread on the Journals of the Senate and House of Representatives; that a suitably engrossed copy thereof be sent to the family; that a committee be appointed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives to attend the funeral; and that as a further mark of respect, the Senate and House of Representatives do now take a recess.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Green, from the Committee to Visit State Charitable Institutions, submitted the following report, which was received and ordered placed on file:

SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS, June 12, 1919.

Honorable David E. Shanahan, Speaker, House of Representatives:

DEAR SIR: A visit has been made by this committee to most of the State charitable institutions of Illinois and we beg leave to submit a report of our findings and impressions.

The purpose of this committee was to determine the standards by which these institutions were administered, the aims and purposes of those in authority, whether or not the institutions were meeting the needs for which they were created and to learn what new buildings, improvements, repairs, equipment, etc., were necessary to meet the demands of the bienium for, 1919-20.

We desire to report that we were most favorably impressed with the manner in which this group of institutions are being conducted and to discover the attitude of all employees, from superintendents down, to be, almost without exception, that the institutions were maintained for the benefit of patients and inmates.

While there still remain vast opportunities for improvement in this branch of the State service, we feel that great progress has been made during the past two years and that Illinois' charitable institutions will stand favorable comparison with those of other states, even the most advanced. The patients and inmates on the whole, presented a well-fed, well-cared for appearance and we are of the opinion that intelligent effort and care is being exercised in order that these unfortunate classes may be given the greatest possible amount of comfort, usefulness, happiness and such methods of treatment as will enable them to return to civil life at the earliest possible moment.

SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' HOME.

On our visit to the Soldiers' Orphans' Home at Normal, we found an institution caring for approximately 450 children. Of this number only 154 are children of war veterans. The rest have been sent from almshouses and juvenile courts. The home, as it appears today, is a home for dependent orphans, irrespective of their parental origin. Recently this institution has become so crowded that it has been necessary for the Department of Public Welfare to rule that it be reserved for purely dependent orphans and soldiers' children.

A number of cottages are needed at this institution, especially to house the boys. Inasmuch as this institution is to be a permanent one, we recommend that it be placed on a sound physical basis and that effort be made to make of it a model home for dependent children of the State, where they may be educated and from which they will be placed out in foster homes. This committee suggests that consideration be given towards formulating a definite policy with reference to its dependent children, in order that the Fifty-second General Assembly may be prepared to take up this question when it convenes. Large appropriations will be necessary in the near future, if this institution is to be properly maintained. The status of the dependent child in Illinois, is still an unsolved problem.

STATE SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND.

At the State School for the Blind, we found about 215 children ranging in years from six to eighteen and twenty. The educational methods at this institution impressed us as being particularly suited to this class. Their education and training is designed to enable them to support themselves after they leave the institution. The graduating class of this school for 1919, contained five boys and two girls. All of them had been given vocational training. An important point in this connection is the fact that the school placed each member of this class in positions which will bring them in direct competition with seeing people.

STATE SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF.

The State School for the Deaf cares for about 330 children. We are of the opinion that it is administered by an officer of progressive and humane ideas, who is also an educator of standing.

This school, as well as the School for the Blind, is conducted as an educational institution rather than a charitable one. Here too, as at the School for the Blind, the educational training methods are planned with a view to equipping the children with some vocation, profession or trade so that he will be able to compete in the world's work with hearing people. This plan is still in its infancy and it is hoped within the next two years to develop further resources and facilities to aid in establishing these boys and girls in civil life.

Considerable repairs are needed to improve the appearance of this institution. For the institutions housing the blind and deaf, we recommend that they be made as attractive as possible, with a generous supply of playground apparatus and ample provision for recreation and amusement.

STATE TRAINING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

About 500 girls are cared for at the State Training School for Girls. The large majority of this number are delinquents committed by the Juvenile Court. For this type of State ward we recommend the highest type of employee obtainable—women who have had training and experience in dealing with the problems and causes of delinquency. It is obvious, even to a layman, that this class of girls need intelligent supervision, association with women of high ideals, who possess firmness, tact, sympathy and the ability to see the girl's point of view.

The State is fortunate in having for the superintendent of this institution a woman of exceptional qualifications. This is one of the most difficult positions in the State welfare service and we believe that it is highly important that the superintendent be given every facility and opportunity to improve and develop this institution.

We recommend also the employment of a physical culture director who has some understanding of the class of girls with whom she has to deal; who will direct and supervise their recreation and amusement and provide ample opportunities for wholesome, vigorous play.

Unfortunately a number of girls have been committed to this institution who are obviously feeble-minded. This complicates the situation considerably and it is hoped they will be recommitted to a proper institution as soon as additional facilities are available.

ST. CHARLES SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

The St. Charles School for Boys, located about four miles northwest of the State Training School for Girls and caring for the same type of offender, has a population of nearly nine hundred boys, which means that the number of cottages provided at present is woefully inadequate. All of the cottages were crowded. We were informed that there had been a tremendous increase in juvenile delinquency during the past two years and the population at St. Charles has increased accordingly. The situation is such as to demand the attention of all those interested in juvenile problems, to the end of considering the creation of another institution for this class.

With added cottages and equipment to properly care for the boys, St. Charles might soon become a model institution.

The health of the inmates at the time of this visit was excellent. Every boy is employed. A half day is spent in school and the other half in shops or in the fields. The boys are given a common school education, a commercial course for those who desire it and in addition they are taught manual training, farming and dairying. A large per cent of boys going out from this institution become useful citizens. A service flag of the institution showed 251 boys in the army and navy, many of whom were non-commissioned officers and several of the number commissioned officers.

LINCOLN STATE SCHOOL AND COLONY.

The Lincoln State School and Colony for Feeble-minded, with its population of nearly 2,200 inmates, is disgracefully overcrowded. We believe it is absolutely impossible, under existing conditions to give the inmates proper care and attention.

We most heartily endorse the proposed plan of the Department of Public Welfare of converting the present plant of the Dixon State Colony to the use of the feeble-minded, so that the situation at Lincoln may be relieved and of building a new colony for epileptics at Dixon on adjacent land.

THE INDUSTRIAL HOME FOR THE BLIND.

The Industrial Home for the Blind, in its inception, was designed to teach the adult blind various trades and vocations which would make them self-supporting. Of late years, however, it has become in reality a home for indigent, helpless, adult blind. If this institution is to continue to serve the purpose for which it was created, it is recommended that the helpless inmates be removed to a separate institution, preferably in the country, and that the industrial side of the home be reorganized and given an opportunity to develop into usefulness.

THE STATE HOSPITALS FOR THE INSANE.

After visiting the State hospitals for the insane, of which there are eight, we are inclined to accept the statement often made by those familiar with the situation, that patients in the Illinois State hospitals are given better care and attention than they would receive elsewhere or under any other conditions.

A system of classification now in vogue in all these hospitals, precludes all possibility of patients being lost in the institution. Repeated examinations are made to discover each patient's possibilities for rehabilitation and usefulness, with a view to returning him to civil life. This cannot be hoped for in all cases, but gratifying results are being accomplished daily with the aid of occupation therapy, games, physical culture, etc. Evidence of this was found in all the hospitals, particularly at the Chicago and Elgin State Hospitals, which are better equipped at the present time, than some of the other hospitals to carry on this kind of work. All of these institutions are crowded. The Alton State Hospital, the newest of this group, receives the overflow in population from the other State hospitals.

We were impressed with the method of treating the acute insane with hydrotherapy. We were told that with the aid of hydrotherapy, many acute cases of insanity actually recover and return home. We recommend, therefore, that this method of treatment be encouraged in the State institutions and that proper and sufficient equipment be provided.

THE SOLDIERS' HOME AT QUINCY AND THE SOLDIERS' WIDOWS' HOME AT WILMINGTON.

These are homes for aged people, soldiers' and sailors' widows of the Civil War. These people are advanced in years and many of them require hospitals or infirmary care. Recent additions to pension allowance has made it possible for a number of them to reside outside of the institutions, but the tendency among the old soldiers is towards the State home.

We are told that the Quincy institution is preferred over any of the National institutions and that while the National homes are showing a decline in population, the Quincy home has, at times, been almost full.

The Wilmington Home accomodates only a hundred people and it has been the policy of the Department of Public Welfare, when circumstances seemed to warrant it, to admit widows of soldiers to the Quincy Home. The department has taken the view, which we believe is correct, that it is the intention of the State to take care of the widows of soldiers of the Civil War. As the Wilmington institution is not large enough to accommodate them, we see no reason to deprive them of the privileges at Quincy, where there is room and where there are many women residing.

Many innovations and plans are being worked out for the improvement of the service. Chief among these is the attention given to the preparation and distribution of food. Recently the Department of Public Welfare secured the services of a trained and experienced dietitian to make a survey of store, houses, kitchens, dining rooms and food service in each institution under their management. It is reported that this has proven of great value and a good investment, resulting in greater economy, more varied and carefully prepared menus and in an improvement in cleanliness, order and system in all departments of the dietary. The food supplies used in these institutions is of a high quality.

An extensive program has been outlined for occupational therapy, especially with reference to the hospitals for the insane. It has been demonstrated that this method of treating the mentally sick has been productive of most excellent results, in that it helps to reestablish the individual for industrial and social usefulness, which is the principle underlying all the efforts of those who are concerned with the welfare of the State wards. Much has already been accomplished in some of the institutions visited.

More thought is being given to intelligent and systematized recreation and amusement. Supervised recreation at all of the institutions will produce beneficial results. This has already been demonstrated by those institutions who now have the services of such a teacher. A physical director should be included in the personnel of each institution.

A farm, garden and poultry and dairy consultant has been employed by the Department of Public Welfare. He has made a survey of the institutions, advised on the planting of the crops, apportioning the land to the various uses and has made it possible for each institution to specialize in those crops which its land is best adapted to produce. The cleaning up of dairy herds and poultry yards, and the introducing of good stock, the laying of foundations for better and larger production in these classes of stock, the study of the milk supply, suggestions for increasing and bettering it are among the things to which this consultant has been giving his time and attention.

It was the general opinion that great progress has been made in the farm work. We were informed that it is the hope of the Department of Public Welfare that these institutions, through their farms, may some day become almost self-sustaining.

Need exists, we were told, for more trained social service workers in all of the State institutions. So far almost nothing has been done in this direction. The argument for both social service and occupational therapy has been proven by recent experience at the army hospitals, camps, etc. The policy of the Department of Public Welfare is to increase their force of social workers as soon as the new appropriations are available. With a sufficient number of social workers, it will enable them to follow up discharged patients and inmates, to go into their homes and be of assistance generally in re-establishing them outside an institution. We have been informed that with the installation of this service, about twenty patients can be safely discharged to each social worker employed. It would seem this promises to be a profitable venture.

During the war the medical staffs, nursing and attendant forces of all the institutions were badly depleted; at no time during this period were any of them properly provided with medical officers and employees. It is hoped with the return of normal conditions to soon remedy this situation.

In conclusion we desire to express our appreciation for the opportunity afforded us to visit these institutions. It has proven a most profitable and pleasant duty. We feel that it is a matter of regret that the public generally is not familiar with the vastness of the undertaking of caring for this large army of unfortunates. We realize that the State welfare service still leaves much to be desired. We noted many opportunities for improvement in service and equipment, but no one, who is open minded, can fail to be impressed with the high standards maintained at all the institutions, with the ideals toward which they are working; with the morals among the staffs and working forces, with the sincerity of purpose of superintendents, doctors, nurses, attendants and employees in this most commendable service to humanity.

Respectfully submitted,

E. WALTER GREEN,
Chairman Committee.

A message from the Governor by George D. Sutton, Secretary to the Governor:

Mr. Speaker—The Governor directs me to lay before the House of Representatives the following communication:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

SPRINGFIELD, June 30, 1919.

Gentlemen of the Fifty-first General Assembly:

I have the honor to transmit herewith, for the consideration of the General Assembly, the report of the Illinois Pension Laws Commission, appointed pursuant to the provisions of an Act entitled, "An Act providing for the creation of a commission to be known as the Illinois Pension Laws Commission, and defining the powers and duties of such commission," approved June 14, 1917.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.

The foregoing message from the Governor was received, and the accompanying printed report of the Pension Laws Commission, ordered placed on file.

A message from the Governor by George D. Sutton, Secretary to the Governor:

Mr. Speaker—The Governor directs me to lay before the House of Representatives the following communication:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
SPRINGFIELD, June 24, 1919.

The Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without approval House Bill No. 54, the same being a bill for "An Act to provide for the payment of a bounty for killing rats, and making the breeding of rats for the purpose of securing such bounty a misdemeanor and providing a penalty therefor," and for reasons for my veto submit the following:

The bill provides for the payment by the county of two cents for each "common house rat" killed when the heads of such rats are delivered to the proper officials in lots of not less than ten.

The object of the bill, of course, is to provide a means for the extermination of a noxious animal. Bounty laws have existed in the United States for more than two centuries and a half. They have entailed the expenditure of large sums of money, the Year book for the United States Department of Agriculture for 1896 estimating that over $3,000,000 was expended in a quarter of a century preceding 1896. This kind of legislation has proved ineffective and expensive. Noxious animals have not been exterminated in the United States through any bounty legislation. The Year book of the United States Department of Agriculture states that bounties have not resulted in the extermination of a single species in United States and have failed even in the island of Bermuda which has an area of less than twenty square miles. This bill would necessarily deplete the county finances. The counties need all the revenue they can levy for legitimate governmental purposes. I am impressed with the idea that the payment of bounty for rats would unnecessarily squander the county revenues without any appreciable compensating benefit. I return this bill without my approval.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.
STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
SPRINGFIELD, June 30, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 171, the same being a bill for "An Act to amend section 1 of an Act entitled, 'An Act to punish the making, drawing, uttering or delivering of checks, drafts or orders for the payment of money with intent to defraud,' approved May 26, 1917, in force July 1, 1917," and for reasons for my veto submit the following:

This bill is amendatory of the Act of 1917 providing for the punishment of persons making and delivering checks with intent to defraud. It adds a proviso that a person shall be subject to the penalties of the Act who after having made or delivered a check shall with intent to defraud withdraw the money from the bank on which the check was drawn. The proviso states that "the provisions of this Act shall not apply to the giving of any check, draft or other order unless the same is presented for payment within a reasonable time after the issuance thereof."

The affect of the proviso, applying as it does to the whole Act, is to nullify for all practical purposes the force and effect of the Act. The question as to what would constitute a reasonable time is a question of fact for the jury. The jury might determine in one case that a given period for presentation constitutes a reasonable time and in another case another given period constitutes a reasonable time. The amendment interjects an element of doubt and uncertainty into a criminal statute. A criminal statute should be definite and certain. The statute as amended by this bill would leave its enforcement to the caprice of juries.

For the reasons above stated, I return this bill without my approval.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 30, 1919.

The Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 254, the same being a bill for "An Act to amend an Act entitled, 'An Act regulating the holding of elections and declaring the results thereof in cities, villages and incorporated towns in this State,' approved June 19, 1885, in force July 1, 1885, as amended, by adding to Article III thereof a section to be known as section 5a," and for reasons for my veto submit the following:

This bill is an amendment to the City Elections Act and authorizes any registered voter to register the members of his household, in all cities of a population of less than seventy-five thousand, who are related to such registered voter "by blood, marriage or adoption," without such members of the family appearing in person before the election officials.

The City Elections Act is intended to prevent fraud in elections. One of the methods found efficacious in the practical operation of this Act in the prevention of fraud is the personal appearance of the elector before the election officials and his examination under oath by them touching his qualifications to vote. This bill, as applied to cities of less than seventy-five thousand, abrogates that salutary rule. In my judgment, it opens up avenues for fraud and illegal voting which the City Elections Act was designed to close. It is denounced as a dangerous and vicious measure and a step backward by practically all of the boards of election commissioners of the cities affected.

For the reasons above stated, I withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.
STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 28, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without approval House Bill No. 319, the same being a bill for "An Act to make appropriation to Ransom E. Walker, guardian of the Estate of Milton Breckenbridge, a minor, for compensation on account of personal injuries." This bill appropriates $1,800 to a boy who lost his arm at the Parental School in the city of Chicago, while he was an inmate of that institution.

The Parental School in the city of Chicago is not a State institution, and the State of Illinois has no liability for an accident of this kind.

For the reason above stated, I withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.
STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 28, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without approval House Bill No. 366, the same being a bill for "An Act for the relief of James M. Hancock, and making an appropriation therefor."

Mr. Hancock was shot by a police officer in the city of Chicago while that officer was attempting to arrest bandits who were reported to be robbing railroad offices in that city. Regrettable as the accident appears to have been, this claim in my opinion is one that is entirely against the city of Chicago, and the State therefore has no liability.

For this reason, I withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 30, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 395, the same being a bill for "An Act in relation to the compensation of teachers in public schools," and for reasons for my veto submit the following:

I believe that school teachers, as a rule, have not been given anything like adequate pay. However, this session of the Legislature has enacted a law by which the school districts of the State will be able to increase their taxes available for this purpose thirty-three and one-third per cent without referendum, and upon referendum one hundred per cent. In addition, the distributive fund, which largely is used for teachers' pay, appropriated by the General Assembly has been increased fifty per cent.

This bill provides that no teacher in any public school in this State, who has had one school year's experience as a teacher in the public schools, shall receive salary or compensation at a rate of less than $80 per month for the school year. By a proviso it is enacted that the Act shall not apply "to any school district which, by levying the maximum amount of taxes authorized by law to be levied for educational purposes, is unable to obtain sufficient funds to comply with the same."

The only penalty prescribed for non-compliance with the Act is that the school district not paying the minimum compensation of $80 per month shall not be entitled during that school year to any portion of the State distributable school fund.

Our school law is based upon the theory of control and administration by local officials. Its administration is highly decentralized. School directors and boards of education are empowered under the school law "to appoint all teachers and fix the amount of their salaries."

This bill departs from the fundamental principle underlying the administration of our school law, in that it purports to withdraw from local officials the power to fix the salaries of the school teachers. In my judgment it is fundamentally wrong as a principle of government to confuse local control and detailed State control over the same subject matter. The school law should be administered upon the theory of local control as at present or of a more centralized State control until the whole theory of the school law is changed. I regard legislation of this kind as being opposed to sound principles of government and of administration.

The proviso which is added to section 1 substantially destroys the purpose of fixing a definite minimum wage for teachers. Under this proviso the Act is not to apply "to any school district which, by levying the maximum amount of taxes authorized by law to be levied for educational purposes, is unable to obtain sufficient funds to comply with the same." That is, the bill purports to promise a minimum compensation at the rate of $80 per month but substantially says only that a school district which has sufficient funds or which can raise such funds by levying taxes now authorized and does not pay the minimum rate shall be penalized by the loss of its portion of the distributable school fund.

A school district might be willing to waive its portion of the distributable school fund and thus ignore the provisions of the Act. The bill is not properly speaking a minimum wage bill. It holds out a promise of uniform salaries without any provision being made for the fulfillment of that promise. It is of doubtful value when it accomplishes only the purpose of penalizing school districts which do not pay the minimum fixed amount if they are able to do so. It does not encourage or force the payment by every school district of the highest amount which it can pay towards the minimum prescribed.

The counties in the State which pay the lowest salaries to teachers are counties in which even if the maximum amount of taxes authorized by law be levied, the minimum wage provided for in this Act will not be reached, and therefore, the law will have no application to such counties under the proviso. In other words, such counties may refuse to levy taxes even to the maximum provided for by law and still incur no penalty. The result would be that in the very places where this law is most needed, it would not be operative at all. In fact, I have been advised by eminent lawyers that for this reason the bill is plainly unconstitutional.

For the reasons above stated, I withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.
STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SPRINGFIELD, June 30, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I am returning herewith without my approval House Bill No. 423, the same being a bill for "An Act to amend section 3 of an Act entitled, 'An Act to revise the law in relation to the sentence and commitment of persons convicted of crime or offenses and providing for a system of parole and to repeal certain Acts and parts of Acts therein named,' approved June 25, etc.," and for reasons for my veto submit the following:

This bill is amendatory of section 3 of the Parole Act of 1917. Section 3 of this Act is also amended by Senate Bill No. 478, which I have approved.

For the reasons that I have approved one bill amendatory of this section, I withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.

SPRINGFIELD, June 30, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval the following item contained in House Bill No. 455, the same being a bill for "An Act making appropriations for the State Normal Schools,"

"For the purchase of house and lot to be occupied as a residence by the president of the Northern Illinois State Normal School..$15,000."

I veto this item for the following reasons:

In my judgment it would be an unjust discrimination to furnish a residence for a normal school president at one point, and not at the four other locations.

The normal school board has under consideration the recommendation of the construction on the campus of each normal school of a suitable residence for each President. A residence located in some part of the town away from the school would not in my opinion be desirable. Until such time as proper consideration can be given to a recommendation of this kind, it would be unwise and uneconomical to purchase any outside property.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 505, the same being a bill for "An Act to amend section 2 of an Act entitled, 'An Act to provide for wash rooms in certain employments to protect the health of employees and secure public comfort,' approved June 26, 1913, in force July 1, 1913, and for reasons for my veto submit the following:

This bill is amendatory of section 2 of what is commonly called "The Wash-house Act." The same section is amended by Senate Bill No. 578. The latter bill was the result of a recommendation by the State Mining Commission. That Commission does not recommend or approve House Bill No. 505. In my opinion, the amendment to "The Wash-house Act" reommended by the State Mining Commission is the one that should be approved. I therefore withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

I return herewith without approval House Bill No. 539, the same being a bill for "An Act for the relief of Union School District No. 4 in the counties of Cook and Lake and to make an appropriation therefor," and for reason for my veto submit the following:

In an opinion to me under date of June 23, 1919, the Attorney General advises me that in his opinion the bill is unconstitutional. I append hereto a copy of the opinion of the Attorney General.

For the reason stated in the opinion of the Attorney General I withhold my approval of this bill.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,

Bills:

House Bill No. 539.

To the Governor, Springfield, Illinois.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your communication of June 21, transmitting to me House Bill No. 539, with a request for an opinion as to its constitutionality and form, said bill being entitled, "An Act for the relief of Union School District No. 4, in the counties of Cook and Lake, and to make an appropriation therefor."

This Act appropriates from the State treasury $1,842.50 for the relief of Union School District No. 4, reciting that said district during the school years 1915 to 1917 permitted pupils residing in other school districts to attend its high school, expecting to receive tuition therefor in accordance with the provisions of an Act entitled, "An Act to provide for the payment of high school tuition and to provide free high school privileges for graduates of the eighth grade, and to repeal an Act entitled, 'An Act to provide high school privileges for graduates of the eighth grade,' approved June 26, 1913, in force July 1, 1913, filed July 8, 1915.

The Act of 1915 last referred to repealed a somewhat similar Act providing high school privileges for eighth grade graduates which was adopted by the Legislature in 1913, and which had been held constitutional by the Illinois Supreme Court in Cook v. Board of Directors, 266 Ill., 164. The Act of 1915 was, however, held unconstitutional in Board of Education v. Haworth, 274 Ill. 538, the court pointing out that while the Act of 1913 required the tuition of pupils so sent to high schools in other districts to be paid by the district in which they resided, the Act of 1915 required that such tuition be paid by the county superintendent of schools out of the State school funds apportioned to that county before distributing same as otherwise provided by law. In declaring said Act unconstitutional, the court referred to section 1 of Article 9 of the Constitution, which requires the General Assembly to provide such revenue as may be needed by levying a tax by valuation, so that every person and corporation shall pay a tax in proportion to the value of his, her or its property, and states at page 544 that:

"The effect of the Act of 1915 is to require the tax-payers in a district maintaining a high school to indirectly contribute to the tuition of persons residing in districts maintaining no such high school, and thereby to contribute to the local and corporate purpose of furnishing an education to the children of such district," and that the Act thereby violates section 1 of Article 9 of the Constitution by exempting owners of property in districts not providing four years of recognized high school work from paying taxes proportioned to the value of their taxable property as compared with the taxable property of other districts, to the extent that the State school fund is apportioned to a local and corporate purpose. The Act is also held objectionable because it in effect returns to school districts not maintaining a high school a part of the taxes levied for State purposes and amounts to a practical release or discharge of a proportionate share of the taxes levied for State purposes in violation of section 6 of Article 9 of the State Constitution.

Examining House Bill 539 in the light of the constitutional objections noted in the decision referred to, it appears that the Supreme Court having held that the tuition of such pupils cannot be paid out of the State school fund, the Legislature now seeks to reimburse a school district by paying such tuition out of the State treasury, thus appropriating the general funds of the State for the payment of the tuition of a few residents of the school district concerned. Such payment of the local obligations due to Union School District No. 4 by other school districts appears to be open to the same constitutional objections noted by the Supreme Court in its opinion in Board of Education v. Haworth, supra.

In addition to the foregoing, it may be noted that as the Act of 1915 has been held unconstitutional and void, it must be considered an absolute nullity, and the Act of 1913 was, therefore, never legally repealed and remains in full force and effect today. Under the provisions of said Act, the district in which such school pupils resided is compelled to pay their tuition to the district maintaining the high school which they attend.

The Union School District No. 4 is, therefore, not without remedy to secure the payment of a sum of $1,842.50 due to it on account of the tuition of such pupils but may collect the same from the district in which they reside, and which is legally responsible for this obligation.

The bill under consideration in effect appropriates the moneys of the State to pay the debt of the local school district responsible for this obligation, and appears, therefore, to violate section 20 of Article 4 of the State Constitution, which provides:

"The State shall never pay, assume or become responsible for the debts or liabilities of, or in any manner give, loan or extend its credit to or in aid of any public or other corporation, association or individual."

For the reasons noted, it is my opinion that House Bill No. 539 is unconstitutional. I return same to you herewith.

Respectfully,

EDWARD J. BRUNDAGE, Attorney General.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 555, the same being a bill for "An Act entitled, 'An Act to regulate the study and practice of dental hygiene,'" and for reasons for my veto submit the following:

In an opinion under date of June 28, 1919, the Attorney General advises me that, in his opinion, the bill is unconstitutional. A copy of the opinion of the Attorney General is attached hereto.

For the reasons stated in the opinion of the Attorney General, I withhold my approval of this bill.

Bills:

House Bill No. 555.

To the Governor, Springfield, Illinois.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of House Bill No. 555, the same being a bill for an Act entitled, "An Act to regulate the study and practice of dental hygiene," which was transmitted to me by your department with a request for an opinion as to its constitutionality and form.

The bill provides that dental colleges and institutions of learning, approved by the Department of Registration and Education, may establish courses in dental hygiene, such courses to be approved by said department, and that students who have had two years in an accredited high school or its equivalent may be graduated as dental hygienists at the end of one college year of thirty-two weeks, upon completion of the prescribed course of study.

The bill further provides for an examination of graduates of such institutions which shall include both practical demonstrations and written tests and shall embrace the subjects usually taught in courses of dental hygiene, and for a license to those who pass a satisfactory examination to practice dental hygiene as specified in the bill. The bill provides for the revocation of the license by the department, and that dental hygienists violating the provisions of the Act shall be punished as provided by law for persons violating the provisions regulating the practice of dentistry.

The bill provides that schools, hospitals and other institutions, whether public or private, which are approved by the Department of Registration and Education, may employ such licensed dental hygienists; that dental hygienists may remove deposits, accretions and stains from the exposed surface of the teeth, but shall not perform any further operation upon the teeth or the tissues of the mouth, and may operate as above described, only in the aforesaid institutions and under the direction and supervision of a licensed dentist; and that such dental hygienists may also be instructors in dental hygiene. But it is provided that it shall not be compulsory on the part of any student or patient of said schools or institutions, or on the part of parents or guardians thereof to submit to the ministration of dental hygienists.

The bill provides for the payment of examination and license fees and for the registration of licenses with county clerks.

The bill is very loosely drawn and confers almost unlimited power in relation to the subject upon the Department of Registration. Nothing in the bill prescribes any standards for the dental schools or institutions which may establish courses in dental hygiene, or what the course of study in dental hygiene shall be. They are merely to be approved by the department. The bill implies but does not state directly that only graduates of such approved schools and institutions shall take the examinations. The scope of the examination is left indefinite as to the subjects included therein.

Only schools, hospitals and other institutions public and private

"Which are approved by the Department of Registration and Education may employ such licensed dental hygienists."

In my opinion this is clearly an unconstitutional delegation of legislative power to the Department of Registration and Education. The power is given to the Department without furnishing any standard or guide by which the courts may determine whether the requirements of the department are unreasonable or not. Legislation involving this principle has been repeatedly condemned by the Supreme Court, Ruhstrat v. People, 185 Ill. 133; Noel v. The People, 187 Ill. 587; People v. Kane, 288 Ill. 238.

The bill provides for the adoption and promulgation of no rules or regulations by the department as to the qualifications of the schools, the scope of the examination, or the kind or character of the schools or institutions which may employ such licensed dental hygienists.

If there were any such provision in this law, it might be held valid. People v. Kane, supra. Under this bill the said department might permit the Northwestern University to establish a course of study and refuse to permit the University of Chicago to do so, absolutely at its discretion. It might permit the Board of Education of Springfield to employ licensed dental hygienists and arbitrarily refuse to approve such employment by the Board of Education of Peoria.

For these reasons I am of the opinion that said House Bill 555 is unconstitutional.

I find no objection to the form of the bill, and I am returning the same herewith.

Respectfully,

EDWARD J. BRUNDAGE, Attorney General.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 566, the same being a bill for "An Act for the relief of Fred Fleury, and making an appropriation therefor."

This boy died at the St. Charles School for Boys on March 14, 1916, as the result of an accident while in the performance of duty at said institution. All of the information and evidence, and the testimony of the boy himself, indicate that the accident was entirely the result of his own carelessness. If the State should commence the payment of claims of this nature to inmates of institutions who are injured or killed entirely as the result of their own careless acts, it would in my judgment entail a very large expenditure in the future.

For the above reason, I withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 568, the same being a bill for "An Act in relation to the collection of payments for newspapers, magazines and other periodicals," and for reasons for my veto submit the following:

This bill provides that "unless otherwise expressly agreed" no person shall be liable to pay for any copy of any newspaper, magazine or other periodical sent to him "through the United States mail" for which he has not subscribed, or for which his subscription has expired.

This bill in my judgment creates an unwarranted discrimination between newspapers and others who may enter into contracts. In order that a newspaper may recover this bill would require proof of an express contract while under like circumstances others might recover for materials furnished and supplied upon an implied contract. The fact that this bill is in harmony with the Federal law forbidding a newspaper to send through the mails any copies except to regular subscribers does not change the fundamental principle of equality.

For reasons above stated, I withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 590, the same being a bill for "An Act to amend section 2, of an Act entitled, 'An Act relating to children who are now or may hereafter become dependent, neglected or delinquent, to define these terms, and to provide for the treatment, control, maintenance, adoption and guardianship of the person of such children,' approved April 21, 1899, in force July 1, 1899, as amended," and for reasons for my veto submit the following:

This bill is amendatory of the Juvenile Court Act and provides that City Courts in cities having a population of not less than seventy-five thousand nor more than two hundred thousand, except City Courts in cities which are county seats, shall have original jurisdiction in Juvenile Court cases. Under the present law, both the Circuit Court and the County Court have jurisdiction in cases arising under the Juvenile Court Act. It is the view of practical administrators of the Juvenile Court Act that its successful administration should be centralized in one court in order to have a uniform policy in the exercise of jurisdiction. The court has a wide discretion and satisfactory work by the court requires special study by the judge to accomplish the purpose of the Act. I regard the principle announced in this bill as a step in the wrong direction.

For the reasons above stated, I withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

STATE OF ILLINOIS,

SPRINGFIELD, June 30, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

I return herein without my approval House Bill 593, the same being a bill for "An Act providing for the organization, operation and supervision of fire insurance rate making bureaus, to provide for a review of any rates fixed by such bureau for insurance upon property in this State, to prohibit discrimination in such rates and to regulate all agreements between fire insurance companies or their agents affecting such rates," and for reasons for my veto submit the following:

Under the present law of this State, fire insurance companies have no legal right to combine for the purpose of fixing rates, or to enter into agreements regarding the rates to be charged for fire insurance by the parties to such an agreement. (People v. Aachen & Munich Fire Insurance Co., et al., 126 App. 636.)

If this bill becomes a law, it will not only legalize rating bureaus (which, under the bill, may consist of one or more insurance companies), but all companies will be compelled, under penalty, to become members of some one or more rating bureaus, and such bureaus will have power to fix rates without any control by any State agency over the rates thus fixed.

If it is deemed proper to give to fire insurance companies the right to combine in making insurance rates, it is my opinion that such right should be coupled with a delegation of power to the proper State department to pass upon the reasonableness of the rates thus fixed.

The only provision of this bill, in its present form, which, in my opinion, might be of benefit to the public is the one giving to the Department of Trade and Commerce the power to prevent discrimination between risks of essentially the same hazards and having substantially the same degree of protection against fire. However, this power is very much limited and in fact practically nullified by a proviso to section 8 which reads as follows:

"Provided, recognition shall be given to territorial classification, and where such territorial classification is used it shall not constitute discrimination."

For the reasons above stated, I withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.

This bill amends section 210 of the General Revenue Act. This section was also amended by Senate Bill No. 260, which I approved. House Bill No. 594 and Senate Bill No. 260 are identical in terms.

For the reasons above stated I withhold my approval of this bill.

This bill was introduced and passed through the General Assembly before the series of bills changing the basic rate of taxation was passed. House Bill No. 686.

To the Governor, Springfield, Illinois.

SIR: You have transmitted to me House Bill No. 686 and request that I render you an opinion thereon as to form and constitutionality. Said bill is an Act entitled, "An Act to enable park commissioners to maintain, improve and govern parks, boulevards, driveways, highways, promenades and pleasure grounds under their control."

The bill provides that the board of public park commissioners for any three towns, under and in pursuance of any Act of the General Assembly of this State which has been or may be adopted by the legal voters of such three towns, for the purpose of locating, establishing, enclosing, improving or maintaining any public park, boulevard, driveway, highway or other public work or improvement, may, until July 1, 1922, levy an annual tax not to exceed one and one-half mills on the dollar, for park purposes; such levy to be in addition to other taxes authorized to be levied by such boards.

Said bill is not subject to objection as to form or constitutionality. Same is herewith returned.

Very truly yours,

Bills:

House Bill No. 708.

To the Governor, Springfield, Illinois.

SIR: You have transmitted to me, under date of June 24, House Bill No. 708, the same being a bill for an Act entitled, "An Act making an appropriation to School District No. 11, Irvington, Illinois," with a request for my opinion as to the constitutionality and form thereof.

This Act appropriates to the school district named in the title the sum of $980 for the purpose of defraying the expense of providing instruction in the public schools for the inmates of the orphans' home located in that district. Apparently the reason for the appropriation is set forth in the preamble to the Act: that an orphan's asylum is located in said district and the inmates thereof have a right to attend the public schools of the district without payment of tuition. Ashley v. Board of Education, 275 Ill. 274. And that the funds nominally available to said district are not sufficient to defray the expense of providing instruction for the orphans residing in such asylum.

This appropriation is not made from the school fund but is directed to be paid out of any fund in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated.

The establishment and maintenance of district schools is a local and corporate purpose. Taxes for such purposes must be borne by the local corporate body. The appropriation made by this bill requires the taxpayers of the State at large to pay taxes that should be paid by a particular school district. It is in violation of section 1 of Article IX of the Constitution which requires that "The General Assembly shall provide such revenue as may be needful by levying a tax, by valuation, so that every person and corporation shall pay a tax in proportion to the value of his, her or its property."

It is also in violation of section 6 of Article IX of the Constitution which provides that the "General Assembly shall have no power to release or discharge any county, city, township, town or district whatever of its proportionate share of taxes to be levied for State purposes, and that commutation for such taxes shall not be authorized in any form whatever."

Board of Education v. Haworth, 274 Ill. 538, 543, 546.

I return the bill herewith, without objection as to the form thereof but with the above objections as to its constitutionality.

Respectfully,

EDWARD J. BRUNDAGE, Attorney General.

Bills:

House Bill No. 720.

To the Governor, Springfield, Ill.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your communication of June 24, transmitting to me House Bill No. 720, with the request for an opinion as to its constitutionality and form. The title of said bill is as follows:

"An Act to authorize the alteration or cancellation of contracts for public works entered into before the sixth day of April, nineteen hundred and seventeen, and to provide compensation for work or materials under such contracts with regard to emergency war conditions."

This Act permits counties, townships, sanitary, drainage, school, park and road districts, cities, villages and other similar governmental corporate bodies to grant an extension of time to a contractor for the performance of a contract for public work entered into prior to the declaration of war by the United States against Germany, or to cancel such contract and to release such contractor from all liability thereunder. The Act further provides that the contractor may be paid the contract price for the portion of the work completed or material furnished, or, as a condition for the agreement for cancellation and payment, he may be compelled to complete the contract on payment of his necessary expenses. It also provides that the contracting municipal corporation may, on petition of a contractor, who has completed such a contract, cancel the same and pay him the cost of the work or materials without regard to the contract price, or if payment of the contract price has been made, pay him the excess of the actual cost over the contract price.

It is my opinion that this Act is plainly and palpably in contravention of section 23 of Article 4 and also section 14 of Article 2 of the Constitution.

Section 23 of Article 4 of the Constitution provides as follows:

"The General Assembly shall have no power to release or extinguish, in whole or in part, the indebtedness, liability, or obligation of any corporation or individual to this State or to any municipal corporation therein."

In the case of Chicago v. P. C. C. & St. L. Railway Company, 244 Ill. 220, the Supreme Court held that a city council is not prohibited from giving up a liability in consideration for something which was deemed of equal or greater value but at the same time recognized the principle that authorities of municipal corporations have no power to make donations to any individual or corporation, and that the revenues are to be held for corporate purposes.

In discussing section 23 of Article 4 of the Constitution, the court said in that case:

"It may be conceded that if the General Assembly could not release or extinguish a liability to any municipality it could not authorize the municipality to do the same thing."

Section 14 of Article 2 of the Constitution provides as follows:

"No ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, or making any irrevocable grant of special privileges or immunities, shall be passed."

That provision of the Constitution is designed to secure good faith in performance of contracts, by protecting their obligations against the passage, by the State, of laws which in their effect would relieve either party from what he had voluntarily pledged his faith to do or not to do. (Louisiana v. New Orleans, 109 U. S. 285; Freeland v. Williams, 131 U. S. 405.)

The principle is well established not only that contracts of a state or municipality are within this clause the same as the contracts of individuals or private corporations (Hall v. Wisconsin, 103 U. S. 5), but also that a municipal corporation has the same constitutional protection that a natural person has to all contract rights and remedies other than those which are purely political. (Board of Education v. Blodgett, 155 Ill. 441; Dartmouth College v. Woodward, 4 Wheat. 518, 694.)

From a consideration of the foregoing, I am constrained to hold that this Act is clearly unconstitutional. I find no objections to the form of the Act.

I am returning herewith House Bill No. 720.

Respectfully,

EDWARD J. BRUNDAGE, Attorney General.

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Governor.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,

SPRINGFIELD, June 28, 1919.

House Bill No. 756.

To the Governor, Springfield, Illinois.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your communication of June 24, enclosing House Bill No. 756, for my opinion as to its constitutionality and form the same being, "An Act to amend sections 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 of Division XV of an Act entitled, 'An Act to revise the law in relation to criminal jurisprudence,' approved March 27, 1874, in force July 1, 1874, as amended."

As the law stands today, concerning the date for the execution of the death penalty, the trial court shall not set a date that will occur before the tenth day of the term of the Supreme Court occurring next after the pronouncing of the judgment. See Division IV, section 1, chapter 38, paragraph 439 of the Criminal Code.

A writ of error is not a matter of right where the sentence is death, but may be issued upon the order of a judge or the Supreme Court, if in session, and the writ of error may, by a judge of the Supreme Court or the Supreme Court, be made a supersedeas. See section 1, Division XV, paragraph 458, chapter 38 of the Revised Statutes, Criminal Code.

The present law, except where the sentence is death, makes writs of error a writ of right and issued of course. If a supersedeas is desired, it must be ordered by a judge of the Supreme Court or by the Supreme Court, if in session, upon error, etc., appearing in the record.

The present bill under consideration does not attempt to follow the sections of the old law by amending the language in each, but really is a substitution of five sections for five other sections, rearranging entirely their order. This bill makes writs of error in all criminal cases writs of right and issued of course. However, section 2 and section 3 require an order of court or of a judge to make the writ of error a supersedeas without limiting it to any particular class of criminal cases. Section 4 reads as follows:

"In any prosecution by indictment for a capital offense, when the sentence is death, upon the filing with the clerk of the Supreme Court of a transcript and certificate with an assignment of the errors relied upon, the clerk shall issue a supersedeas of right to stay the execution of the sentence of death until the further order of the court, but the prisoner shall not be discharged from jail."

It will be noted that upon filing with the clerk of the Supreme Court of a transcript and certificate with an assignment of errors relied upon, the clerk shall issue a supersedeas of right to stay the execution of the sentence of death until the further order of the court.

This section confers upon the clerk judicial power. It is a delegation by the Legislature of judicial power to an executive or administrative officer, which, of course, is prohibited by the Constitution and it is unnecessary to cite authorities. This section is unconstitutional.

Under the law as it is today, the death sentence can not be executed before the tenth day of the next term of the Supreme Court and no rights of the defendant are lost.

But by this change there would be unwarranted and unnecessary delay in a case in which the Supreme Court or a judge thereof in vacation, should determine that there was no error and no reasonable doubt of the guilt of the defendant.

Section 4 is so interwoven in the bill as to affect all of its provisions. I find no objection to the form of the bill.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD J. BRUNDAGE, Attorney General.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Paddock, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following preamble and joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 40.

WHEREAS, During the past few years law-abiding citizens of the United States, engaged in peaceable pursuits on the territory of the United States, along the border between the United States and Mexico, have been killed by Mexican bandits; and,

WHEREAS, On several occasions the homes and property of these citizens of the United States, entitled to the protection of this great nation, have been pillaged and destroyed by Mexican outlaws; and,

WHEREAS, During the past few days, citizens of the United States, on the soil of the United States, have been killed and wounded by bullets from the rifles of the marauding bands of Mexican murderers; and,

WHEREAS, The situation along the border between the United States and Mexico has become utterly intolerable; and,

WHEREAS, The citizens of this country who owe allegiance to the flag of the United States, are entitled to its protection and to the vindication of their rights of citizenship; and,

WHEREAS, The United States having just emerged from a victorious war, fought for the sake of humanity and justice, has the equipment and the necessary forces at its disposal to compel by force, if necessary, the observance by Mexico of the rights of the citizens of this nation; now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate, of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring therein, That the members of the Fifty-first General Assembly request the Congress of the United States to take such steps as may be necessary to afford ample and adequate protection to the law-abiding citizens of the United States whose lives and property are being menaced by Mexican bandits and outlaws; to prevent the murder of the citizens of this country on its own territory; and the confiscation and destruction of the property of the citizens of the United States, on the soil of the United States; and, be it further

Resolved, That copies of this preamble and resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of State to the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to the members of Congress of the United States from the State of Illinois.

Adopted June 19, 1919.

J. H. PADDOCK, Secretary of the Senate.

At the hour of 4:55 o'clock p. m., Mr. Shurtleff moved that the House do now adjourn.

The motion prevailed.

And, in accordance with House Joint Resolution No. 33 the House stood adjourned sine die.
